

WEATHER
Warmer this afternoon and tonight.

THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Two Telephones
Business Office 782 Editorial Rooms 581

FIFTY NINTH YEAR. NUMBER 176.

CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1942.

THREE CENTS.

Plea Voiced To President

AS the Red armies are forced to retreat in their defense of the vital Caucasus, Maxim Litvinov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, makes another plea to President Roosevelt for the establishment of an allied second front against Germany to relieve the pressure on Russia. Litvinov is pictured leaving the White House after his conference with the President.

FOUR DUTCHMEN SHOT FOR FOOD OFFICE THEFTS

LONDON, July 24—Four Netherlands, charged with breaking into a government food office in Amsterdam, have been shot by order of a German military court, the German high command in the Netherlands announced today over the Nazi-controlled Dutch radio. Reich Commissioner Arthur Seyss-Inquart changed the death penalty of two others charged with the same offense to 15 years in prison each.

War Bulletins

NEW YORK — "Reasonably good treatment" is accorded American soldiers who are prisoners of the axis, Dr. Darius A. Davis, director of war prisoners' aid for the world YMCA, assured their relatives today.

NEW YORK — William Ottersbach, Seattle, Wash., German American Bund leader, today joined 24 others in awaiting trial on pleas of not guilty to indictments charging conspiracy to violate the Selective Service act. The defendants are part of 29 Bundesmen indicted in an FBI drive to round up all subversive elements in the country.

NEWARK, N. J.—FBI agents last night and early today raided the homes of 29 German and one Italian alien in Hudson and Bergen counties and in South New Jersey. E. E. Conroy, director of (Continued on Page Three)

OUR WEATHER MAN
High Thursday, 85.
Year Ago, 82.
Low Friday, 60.
Year Ago, 56.
FORECAST
Little change in temperature.
TEMPERATURES ELSEWHERE
High Low
Atlanta, Ga. 78 71
Bismarck, N. Dak. 87 61
Buffalo, N. Y. 82 60
Chicago, Ill. 80 60
Cincinnati, O. 87 63
Cleveland, O. 83 57
Denver, Colo. 86 56
Detroit, Mich. 82 60
Grand Rapids, Mich. 82 62
Indianapolis, Ind. 83 60
Kansas City, Mo. 87 59
Louisville, Ky. 87 64
Memphis, Tenn. 86 68
Minneapolis, Minn. 85 59
Montgomery, Ala. 88 70
Oklahoma City, Okla. 87 67
Pittsburgh, Pa. 82 61

BERLIN CLAIMS ROSTOV'S CAPTURE

DEVASTATING RAIDS HIT NEW JAPANESE BASES

PAPUA DISTRICT IN NEW GUINEA BOMB-RIDDLED

Five Heavy Attacks Reported By General MacArthur On Nipponese Craft

BUILDINGS, BARGES RUINED

Three Large Ships Blasted; Medium And Dive-Bombers Used In Offensive

By Lee Van Atta
UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 24—Allied fliers have begun a series of devastating raids to oust the Japanese from newly-won positions in the Papua territory of New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today.

Five heavy attacks, carried out by both American-made medium bombers and dive-bombers, were made against Japanese stores and installations in the Buna and Gona mission area where the Japanese landed an estimated 1,500 to 2,500 troops in a surprise sea-borne invasion.

Numerous damaging fires were started among Jap-occupied buildings and barges were broken up. A direct hit smashed amidships on a 5,000-ton transport believed to have been loaded with oil and gasoline.

The attacks by the United Nations airmen have resulted so far in the sinking of three large Japanese ships. One was sent to the bottom when reconnaissance planes first discovered the presence of the Japanese convoy off New Guinea. A second was sunk when troops were landing near Buna and the third was sent under yesterday.

20,000 Tons Destroyed
The blasting of the three vessels was estimated to have accounted for at least 20,000 tons of Japanese shipping.

The size of the invasion force was indicated by the disclosure at general headquarters that the convoy included cruisers, destroyers and mine-sweepers as well as transport vessels.

"Allied medium bombers carried out five attacks on enemy stores and installations in the Gona-Buna area," the communique said.

"Numerous fires were started. A 5,000 ton transport, apparently loaded with oil and gasoline, was hit directly amidships.

"Allied dive bombers attacked buildings and barges at Gona, placing all bombs in the target area.

"Fighters strafed enemy positions at Gona silencing an anti-aircraft battery.

"Other fighters attacked a small vessel north of Salamaua."

'GIRL TROUBLE' CITED IN DEATH OF OHIO YOUTH

LEBANON, July 24 — Fatal shooting of Wesley Elkins, 20, by his 16-year-old roommate was blamed today by Warren County Coroner H. M. Williams on "girl trouble."

Cecil Thompson, 16, was charged at the coroner's inquest with borrowing a .22-caliber rifle and a single cartridge; stalking Elkins through a 40-man railroad section gang at nearby Carlisle, and fatally shooting him because Elkins had ridiculed his romance and assertedly claimed that he had "stolen" Thompson's girl.

Thompson fled the shooting but surrendered at Cincinnati. Enos Gilbert, a witness and co-worker, owed his life to a quick of fate. When it became evident that Thompson was stalking Elkins, Elkins seized Gilbert for a shield as Thompson pulled the trigger twice, the gun mis-firing both times. When Gilbert finally threw himself free, Thompson pulled the trigger a third time, killing Elkins.

Sixth Chennault

PVT. Charles L. Chennault, pictured above eating his Army chow, is the fifth son of Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault to enter the American armed forces. General Chennault was commander of the famous American Volunteer Group in China, now incorporated into the U. S. Army Air Forces. Young Chennault is taking basic training at Keesler field, Mississippi.

NUCLEUS PLANT PLAN ADVISED

WPB Asks Concentration Of Industry To Help In War Effort

WASHINGTON, July 24 — American industries face a new and revolutionary development today as the nation's war planners prepared to further streamline the civilian economy.

Seeking to put every possible ounce of the country's industrial energy into the war effort, the War Production Board approved the principle of "concentration of industry."

Under such a policy of "selective limitations" essential civilian production will be concentrated in certain plants and regions.

"Nucleus plants" in an industry will be allowed to continue production at or near capacity. The remainder of the industry will be "closed down" or converted to the production of war materials.

Decision to adopt the principle of "concentration of industry" was taken after war production leaders had studied its operation in Germany and England. Officials hope to achieve four objectives:

- 1—Release vital manpower for direct war jobs.
- 2—Expand war production.
- 3—Save critical materials through production of "victory models."
- 4—Enable some firms in an industry to continue economical operation despite wartime restrictions.

The principle has already been attempted experimentally in the field of domestic cooking stoves with production of these articles "concentrated" among approximately 150 of the industry's nearly 250 member companies.

NO SUGAR ORDERS MAY BE FILED FIRST THREE DAYS DURING NEXT WEEK

Rush of business at the Pick-away county rationing office in Circleville city hall has forced board officials to declare a "holiday" on sugar rationing for the first three days next week. Several days are needed to place office records in satisfactory condition after a rush that has prevented office workers from doing anything except accommodate persons seeking sugar orders. Usual business will be conducted Saturday, but no sugar orders will be issued Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

ALLIED, SOVIET BOMBERS STRIKE NAZI DISTRICTS

Squadrons Rap Reich From Two Sides During Night; Attacks Admitted

INDUSTRIES OBJECTIVES

RAF Sinks Barges In Use On Dunkirk Canal, Hits German Laborers

LONDON, July 24—Germany was bombed during the night by air squadrons of both Britain and Russia, it was disclosed today.

While the Royal Air Force attacked industrial regions of western Germany, Soviet planes blasted objectives in East Prussia for the third time.

Acknowledgement of the combined RAF and Soviet aerial bombardment was given by the Berlin radio in a broadcast of reports by DNB, official German news agency.

DNB in admitting the attacks on German industrial regions by the RAF said the damage was "probably insignificant."

The Nazis claimed two British planes had been shot down. The German broadcast said the Soviet planes raided "the coastal region of East Prussia" but gave no further details. The industrial port city of Koenigsberg was the objective of the two previous attacks by Russian aircraft.

With the first light of dawn the RAF began a formidable series of "shuttle service" sorties against Nazi-held bases in northern France.

The British craft streaming out across the Dover straits flew so high that the majority could not be seen but the roar of their engines indicated that an extremely large force was participating in the operation.

Luftwaffe Active

Earlier in the night the Nazi Luftwaffe ranged over the channel to conduct a series of raids against England on a scale larger than had been experienced for some time.

The night bombardment of Germany by the RAF and the Nazi raids on England followed day-long sorties by British planes against military objectives in Nazi-occupied France and the low countries.

Five barges were sunk during the day in the Dunkirk canal. Laborers working on shore defenses along the occupied coast were raked with fire from the British craft.

Nazi aircraft were destroyed on the ground in a surprise RAF foray against the Lannion air-drome in Brittany.

COLLECTION DAY

Tomorrow will be regular collection day for The Daily Herald carriers. Please have your change ready.

Haupt's Mother Appears In Trial of Saboteurs

WASHINGTON, July 24—Mrs. Erna Haupt has testified in behalf of her son, Herbert Haupt, 22, the youngest of the eight Nazi saboteurs now on trial before a military commission in Washington, it was learned today as the hearing entered its 14th day.

Military sources made the disclosure following Mrs. Haupt's safe return to Chicago for arraignment on charges she aided and sheltered her son after he landed back in America aboard a German submarine. Mrs. Haupt collapsed at her arraignment.

Another witness for young Haupt was his uncle, Walter Wilhelm Froehling, who also is held by federal authorities in Chicago for aiding the spies. Haupt's father also is in jail on the same charges, but he has not testified at the trial.

The military commission kept the appearance of Mrs. Haupt on the witness stand as one of its closest guarded secrets. She was

Leahy Takes Over New Position

REAR Admiral William D. Leahy takes over his new duties as President Roosevelt's chief of staff, above, at a desk in the state department, across the street from the White House in Washington. Just how he will fit into military scheme of things has not been indicated.

Food Shipment For Men Held By Japs Prepared

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24 — Local Red Cross officials revealed today that the Swedish steamship Kananagora is being readied in San Francisco for a mercy shipment of food, medicine and other supplies for American prisoners in Japanese hands.

A. L. Schafer, Pacific area manager for the American Red Cross, said the ship is scheduled to call first at Kobe in Japan, then at Shanghai, Hong Kong and Manila.

"The ship is being painted white from stem to stern," Schafer revealed.

ARMY OFFICER FOUND TRAINING IN MARINE UNIT

SAN DIEGO, July 24 — Accused of leaving his post at Fort Benning, Ga., where he was an Army lieutenant, Delano Shirley, 23, today was held for investigation after he was found training as a private in the Marines at a local base.

Shirley was reported missing at Fort Benning last July 5. He enlisted in the Marine Corps at New Orleans July 15, telling recruiting officers that he had no previous military experience, it was reported.

Marine authorities said Shirley reported for training in San Diego last Saturday.

vealed. "She will have large red crosses painted on each side. We plan to have her strike out straight across the Pacific as soon as final details are worked out."

Approximately 100,000 packages of food and large quantities of clothing and medicines have been ordered shipped to San Francisco preparatory to loading the cargo, Schafer said.

Schafer's announcement followed close on disclosure in Washington that negotiations with enemy governments for safe passage of the ship have been virtually completed.

The campaign to have food and other extras sent to American prisoners of war in the Far East was launched by the San Francisco Press Club many weeks ago. Whether the prisoners on Bataan, for whom the San Francisco newspapers were primarily concerned, will be included on the mercy ship's route will be announced finally by the State department and the Red Cross in Washington.

SINGLE MEN IN WAR INDUSTRIES TO FACE DRAFT

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 24—The warning that single men in war industries will soon be drafted was left today by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national Selective Service director.

Addressing the International Baby Chick convention, Hershey declared that war plant managers should take advantage of present opportunities to train replacements. Continuing, he said:

"Three hundred thousand men workers will soon be replaced by women. Single male workers are now being deferred temporarily to give their employers a chance to train replacements. Employers who don't take advantage of this opportunity will find themselves losing large numbers of essential workers before they can be spared."

DEAD MAN CLASSIFIED IN IDAHO AS DISABLED AND UNFIT FOR ARMY SERVICE

BOISE, Ida., July 24 — The death of a draft registrant caused an Idaho local draft board some puzzlement, but not for long, State Selective headquarters reported today.

After debating what change this would make in the selective classification, the board eventually reclassified him in 4-F and listed him as "permanently disabled, unfit for military duty."

RED DEFENSES BROKEN, REICH OFFICIALS SAY

"Make Rampart Of Your Breast," Soviet Radio Appeals To Armies In Southern Area; Caucasus Fate To Be Decided

"MOPPING UP" REPORTS VOICED

Timoshenko Avoiding Encirclement, With Great Forces Of Soldiers Said To Be Waiting For Showdown Along Don

German troops have broken through the defenses of Rostov and stormed the town, the German high command claimed today. Mopping up operations are under way in the battered town from which the Nazis were driven in hasty retreat just eight months ago, said a communique. (EDITOR'S NOTE: While admitting that the situation at Rostov is perilous in the extreme, the Soviet high command has not conceded the city's fall. It was recalled that on July 7 the Nazis claimed capture of Voronezh, which 17 days afterward is still in Russian hands.)

Here is what the communique said: "As already made known by a special bulletin, troops of the German army, troops of the SS (elite guard) and Slovak detachments, excellently assisted by the Luftwaffe, broke through on the whole front the strongly fortified and deeply echeloned defense positions of Rostov.

"After hard fighting they captured by storm the town, which is important as a traffic and harbor center." Earlier reports reaching Stockholm had forecast the fall of Rostov with the claim that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko had withdrawn the bulk of the Red army forces to the east bank of the Don, leaving a reduced force to fight a rear-guard action and force the enemy to pay high for his conquest.

Moscow did not immediately comment on the German claim, but the midnight communique for the first time referred to fighting in the Rostov area. Shortly after the German announcement Reuters heard the Moscow radio announcer make an impassioned appeal to the Russian people.

"The fatherland is in danger," he quoted. "Make a rampart of your breast."

"The enemy has mustered all his reserves for an onslaught and deeper penetration of our country," the broadcast continued.

"We call on patriots to halt the enemy. Our patriotic fervor is becoming even greater. There is only one way to express it—by deeds of work for the good of the country. Our patriots will prove their devotion to their country. The enemy will be stopped and destroyed."

To this the Soviet army newspaper Red Star added another sombre warning as the rising tide of battle flowed and overflowed the field of combat.

"On the fighters of the Red army now lies a great responsibility—fate of the North Caucasus and Rostov," the paper said. "Defenders of the South: Defend your positions with self-sacrifice. Do not allow the enemy to advance!" Only 25 miles behind the hard-pressed Red army holding the (Continued on Page Three)

LONDONERS GET FIRST LOOK AT YANK SAILORS

LONDON, July 24—Large contingent of American sailors, the first seen in the British capital during the present war, arrived in London today on leave.

The seamen were from a task force of units of the United States fleet operating in European waters. Their visit in London constituted for many the first shore leave they had had in more than a year. A number of dances and other entertainments were immediately arranged for amusement of the sailors.

Before dispatching the men U. S. naval officers read them a list of instructions. Included in the orders were these:

- "Don't boast."
- "Don't argue."
- "Don't discuss ships or trips."
- Among those arriving in London were Emory Jacob, of Cleveland, O.; Thomas Jordan, Bridgeport, Conn.; William Hindmarch, Rochester, N. Y.; Kenneth Hendrickson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and J. P. McCleary, of Watertown, Conn.

The entire contingent was in high spirits. The sailors posed for photographers on their arrival and then spread out over London like a small tidal wave.

CENSOR REJECTS GIRL'S COW DRAWING; LOOKS TOO MUCH LIKE U. S. BUILDING

CINCINNATI, July 24—Censorship today came between a three-year-old miss and her daddy, an Army captain in Panama.

The little girl enclosed in a letter to him a picture of what she claimed was a cow. Soon afterward the sketch was returned with a polite note from the army censor:

"It is against military regulations to mail outside the continental limits of the United States drawings of any public buildings."

WEATHER

Warmer this afternoon and tonight.

FIFTY NINTH YEAR. NUMBER 176.

THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1942.

Two Telephones

Business Office 782 Editorial Rooms 581

THREE CENTS.

Plea Voiced To President

AS the Red armies are forced to retreat in their defense of the vital Caucasus, Maxim Litvinov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, makes another plea to President Roosevelt for the establishment of an allied second front against Germany to relieve the pressure on Russia. Litvinov is pictured leaving the White House after his conference with the President.

FOUR DUTCHMEN SHOT FOR FOOD OFFICE THEFTS

LONDON, July 24—Four Netherlands, charged with breaking into a government food office in Amsterdam, have been shot by order of a German military court, the German high command in the Netherlands announced today over Reich Commissioner Arthur Seyss-Inquart changed the death penalty of two others charged with the same offense to 15 years in prison each.

War Bulletins

NEW YORK — "Reasonably good treatment" is accorded American soldiers who are prisoners of the axis, Dr. Darius A. Davis, director of war prisoners' aid for the world YMCA, assured their relatives today.

NEW YORK — William Ottersbach, Seattle, Wash., German American Bund leader, today joined 24 others in awaiting trial on pleas of not guilty to indictments charging conspiracy to violate the Selective Service act. The defendants are part of 29 Bundesmen indicted in an FBI drive to round up all subversive elements in the country.

NEWARK, N. J.—FBI agents last night and early today raided the homes of 29 German and one Italian alien in Hudson and Bergen counties and in South New Jersey. E. E. Conroy, director of (Continued on Page Three)

| LOCAL | |
|-------------------------------|-------|
| High Thursday, 85. | |
| Year Ago, 92. | |
| Low Friday, 60. | |
| Year Ago, 66. | |
| FORECAST | |
| Little change in temperature. | |
| TEMPERATURES ELSEWHERE | |
| Atlanta, Ga. | 75-81 |
| Bismarck, N. Dak. | 87-61 |
| Buffalo, N. Y. | 82-60 |
| Chicago, Ill. | 80-60 |
| Cincinnati, O. | 87-63 |
| Cleveland, O. | 83-57 |
| Denver, Colo. | 86-56 |
| Detroit, Mich. | 82-60 |
| Grand Rapids, Mich. | 82-60 |
| Indianapolis, Ind. | 83-60 |
| Kansas City, Mo. | 87-69 |
| Louisville, Ky. | 87-64 |
| Memphis, Tenn. | 86-68 |
| Minneapolis, Minn. | 85-59 |
| Montgomery, Ala. | 88-70 |
| Oklahoma City, Okla. | 85-67 |
| Pittsburgh, Pa. | 82-61 |

BERLIN CLAIMS ROSTOV'S CAPTURE

DEVASTATING RAIDS HIT NEW JAPANESE BASES

PAPUA DISTRICT IN NEW GUINEA BOMB-RIDDLED

Five Heavy Attacks Reported By General MacArthur On Nipponese Craft

BUILDINGS, BARGES RUINED

Three Large Ships Blasted; Medium And Dive-Bombers Used In Offensive

By Lee Van Atta
UNITED NATIONS HEAD-QUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 24—Allied fliers have begun a series of devastating raids to oust the Japanese from newly-won positions in the Papua territory of New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today.

Five heavy attacks, carried out by both American-made medium bombers and dive-bombers, were made against Japanese stores and installations in the Buna and Gona mission area where the Japanese landed an estimated 1,500 to 2,500 troops in a surprise sea-borne invasion.

Numerous damaging fires were started among Jap-occupied buildings and barges were broken up. A direct hit smashed amidships on a 5,000-ton transport believed to have been loaded with oil and gasoline.

The attacks by the United Nations airmen have resulted so far in the sinking of three large Japanese ships. One was sent to the bottom when reconnaissance planes first discovered the presence of the Japanese convoy off New Guinea. A second was sunk when troops were landing near Buna and the third was sent under yesterday.

20,000 Tons Destroyed
The blasting of the three vessels was estimated to have accounted for at least 20,000 tons of Japanese shipping.

The size of the invasion force was indicated by the disclosure at general headquarters that the convoy included cruisers, destroyers and mine-sweepers as well as transport vessels.

"Allied medium bombers carried out five attacks on enemy stores and installations in the Gona-Buna area," the communique said.

"Numerous fires were started. A 5,000 ton transport, apparently loaded with oil and gasoline, was hit directly amidships.

"Allied dive bombers attacked buildings and barges at Gona, placing all bombs in the target area.

"Fighters strafed enemy positions at Gona silencing an anti-aircraft battery.

"Other fighters attacked a small vessel north of Salamaua."

'GIRL TROUBLE' CITED IN DEATH OF OHIO YOUTH

LEBANON, July 24 — Fatal shooting of Wesley Elkins, 20, by his 16-year-old roommate was blamed today by Warren County Coroner H. M. Williams on "girl trouble."

Cecil Thompson, 16, was charged at the coroner's inquest with borrowing a .22-caliber rifle and a single cartridge; stalking Elkins through a 40-man railroad section gang at nearby Carlisle, and fatally shooting him because Elkins had ridiculed his romance and assertedly claimed that he had "stolen" Thompson's girl.

Thompson fled the shooting but surrendered at Cincinnati. Enos Gilbert, a witness and co-worker, owed his life to a quirk of fate. When it became evident that Thompson was stalking Elkins, Elkins seized Gilbert for a shield as Thompson pulled the trigger twice, the gun mis-firing both times. When Gilbert finally threw himself free, Thompson pulled the trigger a third time, killing Elkins.

Sixth Chennault

PVT. Charles L. Chennault, pictured above eating his Army chow, is the fifth son of Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault to enter the American armed forces. General Chennault was commander of the famous American Volunteer Group in China, now incorporated into the U. S. Army Air Forces. Young Chennault is taking basic training at Keesler field, Mississippi.

NUCLEUS PLANT PLAN ADVISED

WPB Asks Concentration Of Industry To Help In War Effort

WASHINGTON, July 24 — American industries face a new and revolutionary development today as the nation's war planners prepared to further streamline the civilian economy.

Seeking to put every possible ounce of the country's industrial energy into the war effort, the War Production Board approved the principle of "concentration of industry."

Under such a policy of "selective limitations" essential civilian production will be concentrated in certain plants and regions.

"Nucleus plants" in an industry will be allowed to continue production at or near capacity. The remainder of the industry will be "closed down" or converted to the production of war materials.

Decision to adopt the principle of "concentration of industry" was taken after war production leaders had studied its operation in Germany and England. Officials hope to achieve four objectives:

- 1—Release vital manpower for direct war jobs.
- 2—Expand war production.
- 3—Save critical materials through production of "victory models."
- 4—Enable some firms in an industry to continue economical operation despite wartime restrictions.

The principle has already been attempted experimentally in the field of domestic cooking stoves with production of these articles "concentrated" among approximately 150 of the industry's nearly 250 member companies.

NO SUGAR ORDERS MAY BE FILED FIRST THREE DAYS DURING NEXT WEEK

Rush of business at the Pick-away county rationing office in Circleville city hall has forced board officials to declare a "holiday" on sugar rationing for the first three days next week.

Several days are needed to place office records in satisfactory condition after a rush that has prevented office workers from doing anything except accommodate persons seeking sugar orders. Usual business will be conducted Saturday, but no sugar orders will be issued Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

ALLIED, SOVIET BOMBERS STRIKE NAZI DISTRICTS

Squadrons Rap Reich From Two Sides During Night; Attacks Admitted

INDUSTRIES OBJECTIVES

RAF Sinks Barges In Use On Dunkirk Canal, Hits German Laborers

LONDON, July 24—Germany was bombed during the night by air squadrons of both Britain and Russia, it was disclosed today.

While the Royal Air Force attacked industrial regions of western Germany, Soviet planes blasted objectives in East Prussia for the third time.

Acknowledgement of the combined RAF and Soviet aerial bombardment was given by the Berlin radio in a broadcast of reports by DNB, official German news agency.

DNB in admitting the attacks on German industrial regions by the RAF said the damage was "probably insignificant."

The Nazis claimed two British planes had been shot down.

The German broadcast said the Soviet planes raided "the coastal region of East Prussia" but gave no further details. The industrial port city of Koenigsberg was the objective of the two previous attacks by Russian aircraft.

With the first light of dawn the RAF began a formidable series of "shuttle service" sorties against Nazi-held bases in northern France.

The British craft streaming out across the Dover straits flew so high that the majority could not be seen but the roar of their engines indicated that an extremely large force was participating in the operation.

Luftwaffe Active
Earlier in the night the Nazi luftwaffe ranged over the channel to conduct a series of raids against England on a scale larger than had been experienced for some time.

The night bombardment of Germany by the RAF and the Nazi raids on England followed day-long sorties by British planes against military objectives in Nazi-occupied France and the low countries.

Five barges were sunk during the day in the Dunkirk canal. Laborers working on shore defenses along the occupied coast were raked with fire from the British craft.

Nazi aircraft were destroyed on the ground in a surprise RAF foray against the Lannion air-drome in Brittany.

COLLECTION DAY

Tomorrow will be regular collection day for The Daily Herald carriers. Please have your change ready.

Haupt's Mother Appears In Trial of Saboteurs

WASHINGTON, July 24—Mrs. Erna Haupt has testified in behalf of her son, Herbert Haupt, 22, the youngest of the eight Nazi saboteurs now on trial before a military commission in Washington. It was learned today as the hearing entered its 14th day.

Military sources made the disclosure following Mrs. Haupt's safe return to Chicago for arraignment on charges she aided and sheltered her son after he landed back in America aboard a German submarine. Mrs. Haupt collapsed at her arraignment.

Another witness for young Haupt was his uncle, Walter Wilhelm Froehling, who also is held by federal authorities in Chicago for aiding the spies. Haupt's father also is in jail on the same charges, but he has not testified at the trial.

The military commission kept the appearance of Mrs. Haupt on the witness stand as one of its closest guarded secrets. She was

Leahy Takes Over New Position

REAR Admiral William D. Leahy takes over his new duties as President Roosevelt's chief of staff, above, at a desk in the state department, across the street from the White House in Washington. Just how he will fit into military scheme of things has not been indicated.

Food Shipment For Men Held By Japs Prepared

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24 — Local Red Cross officials revealed today that the Swedish steamship Kananagora is being readied in San Francisco for a mercy shipment of food, medicine and other supplies for American prisoners in Japanese hands.

A. L. Schafer, Pacific area manager for the American Red Cross, said the ship is scheduled to call first at Kobe in Japan, then at Shanghai, Hong Kong and Manila.

"The ship is being painted white from stem to stern," Schafer revealed. "She will have large red crosses painted on each side. We plan to have her strike out straight across the Pacific as soon as final details are worked out."

Approximately 100,000 packages of food and large quantities of clothing and medicines have been ordered shipped to San Francisco preparatory to loading the cargo, Schafer said.

Schafer's announcement followed close on disclosure in Washington that negotiations with enemy governments for safe passage of the ship have been virtually completed.

The campaign to have food and other extras sent to American prisoners of war in the Far East was launched by the San Francisco Press Club many weeks ago. Whether the prisoners on Bataan, for whom the San Francisco newspapermen were primarily concerned, will be included on the mercy ship's route will be announced finally by the State department and the Red Cross in Washington.

ARMY OFFICER FOUND TRAINING IN MARINE UNIT

SAN DIEGO, July 24 —Accused of leaving his post at Fort Benning, Ga., where he was an Army lieutenant, Delano Shirley, 23, today was held for investigation after he was found training as a private in the Marines at a local base.

Shirley was reported missing at Fort Benning last July 5. He enlisted in the Marine Corps at New Orleans July 15, telling recruiting officers that he had no previous military experience, it was reported.

Marine authorities said Shirley reported for training in San Diego last Saturday.

SINGLE MEN IN WAR INDUSTRIES TO FACE DRAFT

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 24—The warning that single men in war industries will soon be drafted was left today by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national Selective Service director.

Addressing the International Baby Chick convention, Hershey declared that war plant managers should take advantage of present opportunities to train replacements. Continuing, he said: "Three hundred thousand men workers will soon be replaced by women. Single male workers are now being deferred temporarily to give their employers a chance to train replacements. Employers who don't take advantage of this opportunity will find themselves losing large numbers of essential workers before they can be spared."

DEAD MAN CLASSIFIED IN IDAHO AS DISABLED AND UNFIT FOR ARMY SERVICE

BOISE, Ida., July 24 — The death of a draft registrant caused an Idaho local draft board some puzzlement, but not for long, State Selective headquarters reported today.

RED DEFENSES BROKEN, REICH OFFICIALS SAY

"Make Rampart Of Your Breast," Soviet Radio Appeals To Armies In Southern Area; Caucasus Fate To Be Decided

"MOPPING UP" REPORTS VOICED

Timoshenko Avoiding Encirclement, With Great Forces Of Soldiers Said To Be Waiting For Showdown Along Don

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
German troops have broken through the defenses of Rostov and stormed the town, the German high command claimed today. Mopping up operations are under way in the battered town from which the Nazis were driven in hasty retreat just eight months ago, said a communique.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: While admitting that the situation at Rostov is perilous in the extreme, the Soviet high command has not conceded the city's fall. It was recalled that on July 7 the Nazis claimed capture of Voronezh, which 17 days afterward is still in Russian hands.)

Here is what the communique said:

"As already made known by a special bulletin, troops of the German army, troops of the SS (elite guard) and Slovak detachments, excellently assisted by the luftwaffe, broke through on the whole front the strongly fortified and deeply echeloned defense positions of Rostov.

"After hard fighting they captured by storm the town, which is important as a traffic and harbor center."

Earlier reports reaching Stockholm had forecast the fall of Rostov with the claim that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko had withdrawn the bulk of the Red army forces to the east bank of the Don, leaving a reduced force to fight a rear-guard action and force the enemy to pay high for his conquest.

Moscow did not immediately comment on the German claim, but the midnight communique for the first time referred to fighting in the Rostov area.

Shortly after the German announcement Reuters heard the Moscow radio announcer make an impassioned appeal to the Russian people.

"The fatherland is in danger," he quoted. "Make a rampart of your breast."

"The enemy has mustered all his reserves for an onslaught and deeper penetration of our country," the broadcast continued. "We call on patriots to halt the enemy."

"Our patriotic fervor is becoming even greater. There is only one

STOCKHOLM, July 24 — The Swedish government officially charged today that Russian planes last night bombed Oeland island in the Baltic sea. A protest will be sent to Moscow.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Soviet planes carried out a raid on Koenigsberg, East Prussia, last night. It was thought possible some jetted bombs may have struck Oeland or that the island was attacked by mistake.)

way to express it—by deeds of work for the good of the country. "Our patriots will prove their devotion to their country. The enemy will be stopped and destroyed."

To this the Soviet army newspaper Red Star added another sombre warning as the rising tide of battle flowed and overflowed the field of combat.

"On the fighters of the Red army now lies a great responsibility—fate of the North Caucasus and Rostov," the paper said.

"Defenders of the South: Defend your positions with self-sacrifice."

"Do not allow the enemy to advance!"

Only 25 miles behind the hard-pressed Red army holding the (Continued on Page Three)

LONDONERS GET FIRST LOOK AT YANK SAILORS

LONDON, July 24—Large contingent of American sailors, the first seen in the British capital during the present war, arrived in London today on leave.

The seamen were from a task force of units of the United States fleet operating in European waters.

Their visit in London constituted for many the first shore leave they had had in more than a year. A number of dances and other entertainments were immediately arranged for amusement of the sailors.

Before dispatching the men U. S. naval officers read them a list of instructions. Included in the orders were these:

"Don't boast."

"Don't argue."

"Don't discuss ships or trips."

Among those arriving in London were Emery Jacob, of Cleveland, O.; Thomas Jordan, Bridgeport, Conn.; William Hindmarch, Rochester, N. Y.; Kenneth Hendrickson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and J. P. McCleary, of Watertown, Conn.

The entire contingent was in high spirits. The sailors posed for photographers on their arrival and then spread out over London like a small tidal wave.

CENSOR REJECTS GIRL'S COW DRAWING; LOOKS TOO MUCH LIKE U. S. BUILDING

CINCINNATI, July 24—Censorship today came between a three-year-old miss and her daddy, an Army captain in Panama.

The little girl enclosed in a letter to him a picture of what she claimed was a cow. Soon afterward the sketch was returned with a polite note from the army censor:

"It is against military regulations to mail outside the continental limits of the United States drawings of any public buildings."

22 TONS ADDED TO SCRAP PILE IN SINGLE WEEK

WPA Trucks Touring Rural Area In Cooperation With War Board

GREAT PILE PROVIDED

Fifth Vehicle To Be Placed On Route Starting Next Week, Knox Says

With 22 tons of scrap collected from Pickaway county farms since Monday in WPA trucks working in conjunction with the War Production Board, persons in charge of the salvage program are enthusiastic about the undertaking. Wilbur B. Knox, Columbus, who is assigned here to direct the scrap collection, said Friday that he would not be surprised if the rural area of Pickaway county yields from 250 to 300 tons of valued scrap.

Four trucks have been operating in the county since Monday, each designated with the sign "Government Scrap Collection." No other agency is authorized to collect scrap under the WPB program, Knox said. Starting Monday an additional truck will be used.

All scrap being collected is being put into a gigantic pile at the county garage, West High street, where it is attracting much attention.

To Tour County

"Every farm and every farmhouse in the county will be visited before the campaign is ended," Knox said. No solicitation is being carried on in municipalities at this time. The salvage official said that between 40 and 50 percent of the scrap being collected has been donated. If payment is wished the collectors provide the farmer with a voucher which will be paid by the U. S. treasury. Each truck carries a representative who issues the vouchers.

Regardless of the amount collected from each farm the collector issues a document to the resident showing whether he donated his scrap or whether he sold it.

Maize Mills plant, West Main street, is cooperating with the salvage committee by permitting use of its scales for truck load lots.

Knox, who is being assisted by Dan McClain, Pickaway county salvage chief, said that between 40 and 50 tons of rubber comes in daily from rural areas.

Any countian who has scrap that he wishes collected may call phone number 288 and one of the trucks will be assigned to make the call.

Knox was enthusiastic about the county's scrap supply, declaring that many farms have several tons of scrap available. He is making every effort to make Pickaway county one of the biggest scrap-producing districts in the state.

EAGLES TO HOLD RALLY AS HELP TO WAR EFFORT

Circleville Aerie No. 685, Fraternal Order of Eagles, is planning a patriotic rally Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Eagles' hall. Plans for the event were announced Friday by L. E. Coffland, president of the aerie.

The rally will be for members only, and novel features have been arranged for the program. To aid the national campaign to salvage vital materials necessary to the war effort, every member attending the rally must take some item of salvage, such as scrap metal of any kind, rubber, etc. All of this salvage material will be turned over to the local salvage committee after the meeting.

The principal speaker at the rally will be Lea W. King of New Lexington.

The local patriotic rally is one of a number being held by the various aerics of Eagles in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, according to George Smalley, secretary of the local organization. Among other things to be stressed at the rally will be the signing of pledges to purchase War Bonds and Stamps every pay day. After the rally, lunch and refreshments will be served to the members present.

COURT NEWS

PICKAWAY COUNTY Probate

William Hulet estate, relieved of administration.

Edwin Lilly estate, first and final account approved.

John Saxe estate, first and final account approved.

C. W. Squire estate, first and final account approved.

Orville Newton estate, first and final account approved.

Sarah Goddard estate, first partial account approved.

Ralph Roby estate, first account approved.

Ward Powell estate, first and final account approved.

Common Pleas

Ivor Rhodes vs. Lave Brown, damage suit claim filed.

Court of Appeals

Crites Oil Company vs. Ralston Purina Company, judgment confirmed.

Danis vs. Joseph Danis, judgment confirmed.

Ashville To Hear Story Of Air Base

Lieutenant Kimsey, Glider Instructor, To Speak At July 31 Gathering

ASHVILLE

July meeting of the Ashville Community Club will be held in the club room at 8:30 p. m. Friday, July 31.

Lieutenant Kimsey of the Lockbourne Army Air base will be present to address the club on the glider training program. Col. Balinger, commanding officer at the base, reports that Lt. Kimsey is an experienced flier and an outstanding instructor in the glider school.

The address promises to be interesting and informative. The meeting will be open to all men in the community. Members of the club are urged to attend and bring a guest with them. Preceding the address a short business session at which a financial report of the July Fourth celebration will be read will be held.

Ashville

A few of the community farmers who have completed their wheat threshing have given us their crop yields with many more yet to come. Those announced are the Miller Brothers, Frank and Irvin, in East of Duval territory, whose 79 acres produced a yield of 2300 bushels with an average of 29 bushels the acre. Wayne Brown, 47 acres with a yield of 1523 bushels, an average of a fraction over 32 bushels the acre. Both these, if our lines are not wrong are in Madison township. Orville Dountz, Scioto township, 71 acres with an average of 28 bushels the acre. Kermit Braslett on the V. H. Prushing farm Scioto township, 21 acres 465 bushels. And while on the farm line, a brood sow over at the Trump public sale the other day, sold for $79 and a cow for $165. Too, Uncle Sam is asking the hog feeders to put some lean steaks in the bacon, too fat and greasy for army boys who have to do the eating.

Ashville

Charles Cloud and Hoadley Brintling with their wives will leave here Saturday for a trip through the West to be gone for several days.

Ashville

The telephone repair force has been having for the last couple of days plenty to do correcting trouble in the under ground lines at the N. & W. crossing west of The News building.

Ashville

Miss Delores Beaver was operated on at Grant hospital Tuesday for appendix removal. "Getting along fine" is the word from there.

Ashville

Dick Baker of Chicago has spent the last couple of days here at the home of his mother, Mrs. Blanche Baker in poor health for several weeks, but improving now.

Ashville

For the once in the last several weeks it did not rain on the fresh air picture show yesterday evening.

Ashville

Mrs. Lucile Pete, Detroit, and Mrs. Paula Fuller, Columbus, at the home of their mother, Mrs. Blanche Baker for a few days, have returned home.

Ashville

A get-together meeting in the form of a picnic supper will be held by the membership of the United Brethren church this Friday evening at the church basement.

Ashville

There's lots of war news, but nothing finished yet—not even the Finns.

Irene Is In The Jam!

TRENE Dunne leaves the social whirl to become a rootin'-tootin', rip-rarin' gal of the West in "Lady in a Jam," a comedy riot, which together with the hit "Give Us Wings" starring the Dead End Kids, will open on Sunday for a three day run at the Grand theatre.

WITH LOCAL BOYS UNDER THE FLAG

John K. Mason Enters Army, Leaves For East To Study Camouflaging

John K. Mason, son of Mrs. Charles Mason, North Court street, went to Fort Hayes, Columbus, Thursday for induction in the U. S. Army. He was to be transferred immediately to Camp Meade, N. J., where he will take a special course in camouflaging.

Young Mason has been in Washington D. C. for more than a year serving as a draftsman for the government in its camp building program.

John D. Louis, East street, New Holland, has been offered a commission of second lieutenant in the United States medical administration corps. The appointment was announced to the draft board Friday from Fort Hayes. Young Louis has been a pre-dental student at Ohio State university.

Two enlistments in the armed forces were received Thursday by the local draft board. Clark Neff Jr., Ashville route 2, has been accepted for duty with the Navy. Carl Hooser Jr., Orient route 2, has enlisted in the Navy Air Corps through the Columbus induction center.

Charles and Joe Morris have returned to their Army duties after spending furloughs at their home in Saltcreek township. Charles is in the U. S. Army.

NEW MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL FEE SCHEDULE EFFECTIVE

New price schedule for Berger hospital services, approved by Circleville council, will become effective Saturday, July 25.

Included in the list are private room with bath, $6 daily, formerly $5; semi-private room with bath, $5, former price $4.50; semi-private room without bath, $4.50, former price $4; beds in wards, $3.50, former price $3; for use of operating room, $10; for use of delivery room, $5; care of newborn baby with mother, $5 a week; for use of emergency operating room according to exigency of case, $3 to $5; routine laboratory fee, $3 for an inside patient $4 for an outside patient. Room prices are per day per person.

Admiral Leahy Earned His Way Into Forefront Of Nation's Military Men

By DREW PEARSON
(Major Robert S. Allen on active duty)

WASHINGTON, July 24 — Behind the President's singling out of Admiral William Leahy as one of his most trusted advisers on war strategy is some vitally important background which may affect the entire future strategy of the war.

Not only is Admiral Leahy one of the most rounded navy men around the President (Hull liked him as ambassador to France and Ickes paid great tribute to him as governor of Puerto Rico), but the admiral also played a great part in trying to stop Japan before it was too late.

In fact, if Admiral Leahy's advice had been followed in 1937 when he was Chief of Naval Operations there would probably have been no war in the Far East, and perhaps none in Europe today.

Leahy proposed, when the Japs first went into China, that the U. S. and British fleets impose a long distance naval blockade, cutting off Japan's oil, scrap iron, cotton, and copper, and starving out the Japanese military machine in three months. At that time, Britain and the United States had the strongest navies in the world, were not worried about convoys, attacks in the Mediterranean, the protection of India.

All they had to do, Admiral Leahy told the President, was station the American fleet off the California coast and the British fleet at Singapore, and the Japs would be finished. At that time they had had no chance to build up heavy reserves of oil and scrap iron as they did later.

However, the State department blew hot and cold, finally undercut Leahy's plan.

STOP JAPAN

One year later, however, he revived it, after the Japs sank the Panay in a deliberate slap at the U.S.A. And on one Sunday afternoon in December, 1938, Leahy spent three hours in Secretary Hull's office pleading with him that now was the time to stop Japan, before it was too late.

Leahy argued that a world war was certain, that if we waited too long Britain would be in it up to the neck, could give us no help, but if we acted at once, showed Europe we meant business, it would serve as such an object lesson to Hitler that war in Europe might be prevented.

But on that same afternoon, Hugh Wilson, later ambassador to Germany and head of the appeasement clique, pleaded with Hull that we must not offend Japan, that she needed her place in the sun, that if we let her expand in China she would be satisfied, would go no further.

In the end, Hull sided with Hugh Wilson.

NOT TOO MANY FRONTS

Ever since then, Admiral Leahy has leaned toward concentrating our main war effort in the Far East. And ever since Pearl Harbor there has been an important group in the Navy—also in the Army—which favors knocking Japan out of the war first.

This group believes we cannot fight on too many fronts at once; that the problem of attacking heavily fortified France is terrific, that we should concentrate on Japan and the North African front. The latter they point out, could be used as a stepping stone into Europe after Japan is knocked out of the Pacific.

So with Admiral Leahy closer than ever to the White House, his views should have an important effect upon future war policy.

NO WOMEN WANTED

Justice Felix Frankfurter has just about decided to dispense with a law clerk next Court term.

His law clerk is being inducted into the Army and with experienced young lawyers so scarce, a friend suggested that Frankfurter employ a woman law clerk.

"I am sure you could find a very able young woman lawyer," the friend said. "And it would be quite an innovation. I know it would make a big hit with the women."

"It probably would," snapped Frankfurter, "but it wouldn't make a hit with me. I won't have a woman law clerk. Can't stand them."

NEW FLAG FOR CAPITOL

You hear little about it, but an important phase of war production planning is the dehydration (drying) of meats, vegetables and fruits for U. S. armed forces and lend-lease shipments.

WPB experts estimate that if all the food needed for United Nations armies were dehydrated instead of canned, the difference in container weights would be 4-billion pounds, or equal to the shipping space of 180,000 railroad cars or 360 merchant vessels of 10,000-ton capacity.

War chiefs are so concerned about the matter that a special inter-departmental committee of the WPB, the War and Agriculture Departments, has been appointed to expedite priority ratings on materials needed for erecting dehydrating plants.

At a recent meeting, this committee listened to various experts. Throughout the long discussion, an elderly man sat silent in the back

PATROLMAN DRIVES TRIO FROM BURGLARY ATTEMPT

Three men made an attempted robbery of the Clifton garage on South Court street Friday a little after 4 a. m. Operating 15 or 20 yards from the police station the would-be thieves were trying to remove a glass in the rear door of the building.

Noise made by the men aroused neighbors on Franklin street, who called the police department. Patrolman Alva Shasteen started from the station and was immediately sighted by one of the group who had been standing at the corner of the alley keeping a lookout.

Reports are that the guard yelled, "here comes Shasteen" and the three fled. A one man search in the vicinity failed to uncover the fugitives' whereabouts.

It's too bad that the Japs can't have those Aleutian "williwaw winds" all to themselves.

STOP and SHOP

at

Firestone Special Sale

★ TODAY and SATURDAY ★

HIT NO. 1

MURDER IN THE BIG HOUSE

HIT NO. 2

"ARIZONA LEGION"

GRAND CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

3 DAYS Starting SUNDAY

LAUGHS—THRILLS—ACTION!

★ HIT NO. 1 ★

THE SCREEN'S TOUGH BIRDS WANT TO BE

Birdmen!

Battling, Bullying, Brawling...risking all odds...for a chance to win their wings!

DEAD END KIDS

LITTLE TOUGH GUYS

GIVE US WINGS

Billy Halop - Huntz Hall - Gabriel Dell - Bernard Pansly - Bobby Jordan - WALLACE FORD - VICTOR JORY - ANNE GWYNNE - SHEPARD HOWARD

★ HIT NO. 2 ★

IRENE DUNNE

LADY in a Jam

with KNOXES RALPH BELLAMY EUGENE PALLETTE

ADDED JOYS DONALD'S SNOW FIGHT LATEST WAR NEWS

★ Tonite & Saturday • 2-First Run Features ★

SHUT MY BIG MOUTH

starring JOE E. BROWN ADELE MARA

Home in WYOMING

GENE AUTRY

Added Sat. "Sea Raiders" with Dead End Kids

CLIFTONA

3 Days Beginning

SUNDAY

She WANTS A MAN!

HELP WANTED FEMALE BOSS wants male Secretary. Must be willing to do NIGHT work!

Meet MacDONALD CAREY... You'll Like Him!

"Take A Letter, Darling"

ROSALIND RUSSELL FRED MacMURRAY

Mo. DONALD CAREY... ROBERT BENCHLEY CONSTANCE MOORE CECIL KELLAWAY

EXTRA WAR NEWS - And TRAVEL TALK

COMING SOON! WILLIAM POWELL HEDY LAMARR-in "CROSSROADS"

CIRCLE

2 HITS 2 TODAY

HIT NO. 1

DON BARRY

APACHE KID

LYNN MERRICK

REPUBLIC PICTURE

HIT NO. 2

Borrowed HERO

Plus Serial "Spy Smasher"

SUNDAY—3-HITS-3

BUD ABBOTT and LOU COSTELLO

RIO RITA

Directed by S. Sylvan Simon - Produced by Pandro S. Berman

KATHRYN GRAYSON JOHN CARROLL and EROS VOLUSIA

PLUS HIT NO. 2

"WOMEN IN DEFENSE"

PLUS CARTOON—"FIELD MOUSE"

22 TONS ADDED TO SCRAP PILE IN SINGLE WEEK

WPA Trucks Touring Rural Area In Cooperation With War Board

GREAT PILE PROVIDED

Fifth Vehicle To Be Placed On Route Starting Next Week, Knox Says

With 22 tons of scrap collected from Pickaway county farms since Monday in WPA trucks working in conjunction with the War Production Board, persons in charge of the salvage program are enthusiastic about the undertaking. Wilbur B. Knox, Columbus, who is assigned here to direct the scrap collection, said Friday that he would not be surprised if the rural area of Pickaway county yields from 250 to 300 tons of valued scrap.

Four trucks have been operating in the county since Monday, each designated with the sign "Government Scrap Collection." No other agency is authorized to collect scrap under the WPB program, Knox said. Starting Monday an additional truck will be used.

All scrap being collected is being put into a gigantic pile at the county garage, West High street, where it is attracting much attention.

To Tour County

"Every farm and every farmhouse in the county will be visited before the campaign is ended," Knox said. No solicitation is being carried on in municipalities at this time. The salvage official said that between 40 and 50 percent of the scrap being collected has been donated. If payment is wished the collectors provide the farmer with a voucher which will be paid by the U. S. treasury. Each truck carries a representative who issues the vouchers.

Regardless of the amount collected from each farm the collector issues a document to the resident showing whether he donated his scrap or whether he sold it.

Maizo Mills plant, West Main street, is cooperating with the salvage committee by permitting use of its scales for truck load lots.

Knox, who is being assisted by Dan McClain, Pickaway county salvage chief, said that between 40 and 50 tons of rubber comes in daily from rural areas.

Any quantity who has scrap that he wishes collected may call phone number 288 and one of the trucks will be assigned to make the call.

Knox was enthusiastic about the county's scrap supply, declaring that many farms have several tons of scrap available. He is making every effort to make Pickaway county one of the biggest scrap-producing districts in the state.

EAGLES TO HOLD RALLY AS HELP TO WAR EFFORT

Circleville Aerie No. 685, Fraternal Order of Eagles, is planning a patriotic rally Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Eagles' hall. Plans for the event were announced Friday by L. E. Coffland, president of the aerie.

The rally will be for members only, and novel features have been arranged for the program. To aid the national campaign to salvage vital materials necessary to the war effort, every member attending the rally must take some item of salvage, such as scrap metal of any kind, rubber, etc. All of this salvage material will be turned over to the local salvage committee after the meeting.

The principal speaker at the rally will be Lea W. King of New Lexington.

The local patriotic rally is one of a number being held by the various aeries of Eagles in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, according to George Smalley, secretary of the local organization. Among other things to be stressed at the rally will be the signing of pledges to purchase War Bonds and Stamps every pay day. After the rally, lunch and refreshments will be served to the members present.

COURT NEWS

PICKAWAY COUNTY Probate

William Hulet estate, relieved of administration.

Edwin Lilly estate, first and final account approved.

John Burk estate, first and final account approved.

C. W. Squire estate, first and final account approved.

Orville Newton estate, first and final account approved.

Sarah Goddard estate, first partial account approved.

Ralph Roby estate, first account approved.

Ward Powell estate, first and final account approved.

Common Pleas

Ivor Rhodes vs. Dave Brown, damage suit claim filed.

Court Of Appeals

Crities Oil Company vs. Ralston Purina Company, judgment confirmed.

Dennis vs. Joseph Danis, judgment confirmed.

Ashville To Hear Story Of Air Base

Lieutenant Kimsey, Glider Instructor, To Speak At July 31 Gathering

ASHVILLE

July meeting of the Ashville Community Club will be held in the club room at 8:30 p. m. Friday, July 31.

Lieutenant Kimsey of the Lockbourne Army Air base will be present to address the club on the glider training program. Col. Balldinger, commanding officer at the base, reports that Lt. Kimsey is an experienced flier and an outstanding instructor in the glider school.

The address promises to be interesting and informative. The meeting will be open to all men in the community. Members of the club are urged to attend and bring a guest with them. Preceding the address a short business session at which a financial report of the July Fourth celebration will be read will be held.

A few of the community farmers who have completed their wheat threshing have given us their crop yields with many more yet to come. Those announced are the Millar Brothers, Frank and Irvin, in East of Duval territory, whose 79 acres produced a yield of 2300 bushels with an average of 29 bushels the acre. Wayne Brown, 47 acres with a yield of 1523 bushels, an average of a fraction over 32 bushels the acre. Both these, if our lines are not wrong are in Madison township. Orville Dountz, Scioto township, 71 acres with an average of 28 bushels the acre. Kermit Braskett on the V. H. Prushing farm Scioto township, 21 acres 465 bushels. And while on the farm line, a brood sow over at the Trump public sale the other day, sold for $79 and a cow for $165. Too, Uncle Sam is asking the hog feeders to put some lean steaks in the bacon, too fat and greasy for army boys who have to do the eating.

Charles Cloud and Hoadley Brintlinger with their wives will leave here Saturday for a trip through the West to be gone for several days.

The telephone repair force has been having for the last couple of days plenty to do correcting trouble in the under ground lines at the N. & W. crossing west of The News building.

Miss Delores Beaver was operated on at Grant hospital Tuesday for appendix removal. "Getting along fine" is the word from there.

Dick Baker of Chicago has spent the last couple of days here at the home of his mother, Mrs. Blanch Baker in poor health for several weeks, but improving now.

For the once in the last several weeks it did not rain on the fresh air picture show yesterday evening.

Mrs. Lucile Pete, Detroit, and Mrs. Paula Fuller, Columbus, at the home of their mother, Mrs. Blanche Baker for a few days, have returned home.

A get-together meeting in the form of a picnic supper will be held by the membership of the United Brethren church this Friday evening at the church basement.

There's lots of war news, but nothing finished yet—not even the Finns.

Irene Is In The Jam!

IRENE Dunne leaves the social whirl to become a routin' tootin', rip-rarin' gal of the West in "Lady in a Jam," a comedy riot, which together with the hit "Give Us Wings" starring the Dead End Kids, will open on Sunday for a three day run at the Grand theatre.

WITH LOCAL BOYS UNDER THE FLAG

John K. Mason Enters Army, Leaves For East To Study Camouflaging

John K. Mason, son of Mrs. Charles Mason, North Court street, went to Fort Hayes, Columbus, Thursday for induction in the U. S. Army. He was to be transferred immediately to Camp Meade, N. J., where he will take a special course in camouflaging.

Young Mason has been in Washington D. C. for more than a year serving as a draftsman for the government in its camp building program.

John D. Louis, East street, New Holland, has been offered a commission of second lieutenant in the United States medical administration corps. The appointment was announced to the draft board Friday from Fort Hayes. Young Louis has been a pre-dental student at Ohio State university.

Two enlistments in the armed forces were received Thursday by the local draft board. Clark Neff Jr., Ashville route 2, has been accepted for duty with the Navy. Carl Hosier Jr., Orient route 2, has enlisted in the Navy Air Corps through the Columbus induction center.

Charles and Joe Morris have returned to their Army duties after spending furloughs at their home in Saltcreek township. Charles

NEW MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL FEE SCHEDULE EFFECTIVE

New price schedule for Berger hospital services, approved by Circleville council, will become effective Saturday, July 25.

Included in the list are private room with bath, $6 daily, formerly $5; semi-private room with bath, $5, former price $4.50; semi-private room without bath, $4.50, former price $4; beds in wards, $3.50, former price $3; for use of operating room, $10; for use of delivery room, $5; care of newborn baby with mother, $5 a week; for use of emergency operating room according to exigency of case, $3 to $5; routine laboratory fee, $3 for an inside patient $4 for an outside patient.

Room prices are per day per person.

Admiral Leahy Earned His Way Into Forefront Of Nation's Military Men

By DREW PEARSON (Major Robert S. Allen on active duty)

WASHINGTON, July 24 — Behind the President's singling out of Admiral William Leahy as one of his most trusted advisers on war strategy is some vitally important background which may affect the entire future strategy of the war.

Not only is Admiral Leahy one of the most rounded navy men around the President (Hull liked him as ambassador to France and Ickes paid great tribute to him as governor of Puerto Rico), but the admiral also played a great part in trying to stop Japan before it was too late.

In fact, if Admiral Leahy's advice had been followed in 1937 when he was Chief of Naval Operations there would probably have been no war in the Far East, and perhaps none in Europe today.

Leahy proposed, when the Japs first went into China, that the U. S. and British fleets impose a long distance naval blockade, cutting off Japan's oil, scrap iron, cotton, and copper, and starving out the Japanese military machine in three months. At that time, Britain and the United States had the strongest navies in the world, were not worried about convoys, attacks in the Mediterranean, the protection of India.

All they had to do, Admiral Leahy told the President, was station the American fleet off the California coast and the British fleet at Singapore, and the Japs would be finished. At that time they had had no chance to build up heavy reserves of oil and scrap iron as they did later.

However, the State department blew hot and cold, finally undercut Leahy's plan.

STOP JAPAN

One year later, however, he received it, after the Japs sank the Panay in a deliberate slap at the U.S.A. And on one Sunday afternoon in December, 1938, Leahy spent three hours in Secretary Hull's office pleading with him that now was the time to stop Japan, before it was too late.

Leahy argued that a world war was certain, that if we waited too long Britain would be in it up to the neck, could give us no help, but if we acted at once, showed Europe we meant business, it would serve as such an object lesson to Hitler that war in Europe might be prevented.

But on that same afternoon, Hugh Wilson, later ambassador to Germany and head of the appeasement clique, pleaded with Hull that we must not offend Japan, that she needed her place in the sun, that if we let her expand

NEW FLAG FOR CAPITOL

You hear little about it, but an important phase of war production planning is the dehydration (drying) of meats, vegetables and fruits for U. S. armed forces and lend-lease shipments.

WPB experts estimate that if all the food needed for United Nations armies were dehydrated instead of canned, the difference in container weights would be 4-billion pounds, or equal to the shipping space of 180,000 railroad cars or 360 merchant vessels of 10,000-ton capacity.

War chiefs are so concerned about the matter that a special inter-departmental committee of the WPB, the War and Agriculture Departments, has been appointed to expedite priority ratings on materials needed for erecting dehydrating plants.

At a recent meeting, this committee listened to various experts. Throughout the long discussion, an elderly man sat silent in the back

PATROLMAN DRIVES TRIO FROM BURGLARY ATTEMPT

Three men made an attempted robbery of the Clifton garage on South Court street Friday a little after 4 a. m. Operating 15 or 20 yards from the police station the would-be thieves were trying to remove a glass in the rear door of the building.

Noise made by the men aroused neighbors on Franklin street, who called the police department. Patrolman Alva Shasteen started from the station and was immediately sighted by one of the group who had been standing at the corner of the alley keeping a lookout.

Reports are that the guard yelled, "here comes Shasteen" and the three fled. A one man search in the vicinity failed to uncover the fugitives' whereabouts.

It's too bad that the Japs can't have those Aleutian "williwaw winds" all to themselves.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Admiral Sherman, commander of the late airplane carrier Lexington, pays great tribute to newly enlisted navy men. "With only four months training," he says, "they behaved like veterans. The order to abandon ship was almost like a parade drill." . . . Credit farsighted Senator Josh. Lee of Oklahoma with having advocated many months ago giant trans-Atlantic transport planes to carry war materials to Russia and Britain. Now various experts say this will be the only solution to our serious shipping problem. Mrs. Claude Pepper, wife of Senator "No-X-Card" Pepper of Florida, walks to social engagements or takes the street car. Commander Paul Smith, ex-editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, now in charge of Navy press relations, is itching to get into combat duty, probably will go to sea soon.

STOP and SHOP at Firestone Special Sale

An arrangement making it possible for data registered in the air to be used almost at once on the ground will shortly be in force at a new stratospheric station to be opened at Payenne, Switzerland. Balloons will be fitted with automatic short-wave transmitters to send out data registered by instruments.

★ TODAY and SATURDAY ★

HIT NO. 1

MURDER IN THE BIG HOUSE

HIT NO. 2

"ARIZONA LEGION"

3 DAYS Starting SUNDAY

LAUGHS—THRILLS—ACTION!

★ HIT NO. 1 ★

THE SCREEN'S TOUGH BIRDS WANT TO BE Birdmen!

DEAD END KIDS LITTLE TOUGH GUYS

GIVE US WINGS

Wally Holop - Huntz Hall - Gabriel Dell - Bernard Pandey - Bobby Jordan

WALLACE FORD - VICTOR JORY ANNE GWYNNE - SHEPP HOWARD

★ HIT NO. 2 ★

IRENE DUNNE in a Jam

ADDED JOYS DONALD'S SNOW FIGHT LATEST WAR NEWS

★ Tonite & Saturday • 2-First Run Features ★

SHUT MY BIG MOUTH starring JOE E. BROWN ADELE MARA

Home in Wyoming GENE AUTRY

Added Sat. "Sea Raiders" with Dead End Kids

CLIFTONA 3 Days Beginning SUNDAY

She WANTS A MAN!

HELP WANTED FEMALE BOSS wants male Secretary. Must be willing to do NIGHT work!

PARAMOUNT PRESENTS ROSALIND RUSSELL FRED MacMURRAY

"Take A Letter, Darling"

Meet MacDONALD CAREY... You'll Like Him!

EXTRA WAR NEWS - And - TRAVEL TALK

COMING SOON! WILLIAM POWELL HEDY LAMARR-in "CROSSROADS"

CIRCLE 2 HITS 2 TODAY

HIT NO. 1 DON BARRY APACHE KID LYNN MERRICK A REPUBLIC PICTURE

HIT NO. 2 Borrowed HERO

Plus Serial "Spy Smasher"

SUNDAY—3-HITS-3

BUD ABBOTT and LOU COSTELLO RIO RITA KATHRYN GRAYSON JOHN CARROLL and EROS VOLUSIA

Directed by S. Sylvan Simon - Produced by Pandro S. Berman

PLUS HIT NO. 2 "WOMEN IN DEFENSE"

PLUS CARTOON — "FIELD MOUSE"

HULL PREDICTS COP NO. 1 ROLE FOR UNCLE SAM

International Police Need
After War Stressed In
Secretary's Talk

WASHINGTON, July 24—Secretary of State Cordell Hull's radio address to the nation today was interpreted in diplomatic circles in Washington as foreshadowing the establishment of an international police force after the war—with Uncle Sam in the role of Cop No. 1.

While bluntly warning the American people that "unlimited effort" and sacrifice are required to win the "life and death struggle of preservation of our freedom, our homes, and our very existence," Hull emphasized that when the war has been won, the United States and the other United Nations must be prepared to enforce peace for a long time to come.

If world wars are to be avoided every 20 years, Hull said, an international agency must be created which can, "by force, if necessary, keep the peace among nations in the future." He also said there must be established an "international court of justice" to which nations can take their disputes for peaceful settlement.

To Prolong Armistice

He warned that the United Nations must exercise surveillance over aggressor nations until such time as the latter demonstrate their willingness and ability to live at peace with other nations. This is in accord with the State department's idea of a prolonged armistice during which American and other United Nations armies of occupation would maintain law and order while the passions and hatreds of war were cooling off.

The length of time that the United Nations will have to police the defeated axis countries, must, Hull added, "depend on the rapidity with which the peoples of Germany, Japan, Italy and their satellites give convincing proof that they have repudiated and abandoned monstrous philosophy of superior race and conquest by force, and have embraced loyally the basic principles of peaceful processes."

Asserting that "lack of vigilance is the greatest danger to liberty," the secretary said the "right to freedom cannot be divorced from the duty of defending it."

"We are," he added, "forced to fight because we ignored the simple but fundamental fact that the price of peace and of the preservation of right and freedom among nations is the acceptance of international responsibilities."

In urging the need of establishment of an international police agency after the war, Hull said one great lesson that has remained unlearned throughout the ages is that "liberty is truly won only when it is guarded by the same watchfulness, the same courage, the same willingness to fight for it which first secured it."

"It is," he continued, "perhaps too much to expect that tyrants will ever learn that man's longing for liberty cannot be destroyed. Dreams of conquest have their roots in diseased mentality. And that malady may well be ineradicable."

Axis Aim Noted

The secretary stressed that the ultimate aim of the axis power is the enslavement of the world by "the most ambitious, depraved, and cruel leaders in history."

He warned the few remaining neutral nations of the world that under these circumstances, "professions of neutrality . . . are as absurd and suicidal as are such professions on the part of a citizen of a peaceful community attacked by a band of confessed outlaws."

In what was seen as an appeal to India to drop political differences with Great Britain and join the United Nations cause, Hull said:

"There is no chance for liberty for any people anywhere save through the victory of the free peoples. It has been our purpose in the past—and will remain our purpose in the future—to use the full measure of our influence to support attainment of freedom by all peoples, who, by their acts, show themselves worthy of it and ready for it."

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Thou shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness.—Exodus 23:1.

Renfro Valley barn dance, showing at Ted Lewis park Thursday evening, attracted a capacity audience.

Ellen Essick, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Essick, Ashville, underwent a tonsil operation Friday in a Berger hospital.

The ladies of Mt. Pleasant church will sponsor a food sale in Wallace's Bakery, Saturday, July 25, beginning at 9:30. —ad.

John Hedges, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hedges of Ashville route 1, had his tonsils removed Friday in a Berger hospital operation.

John McSweeney of Wooster, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was a political visitor Thursday in Circleville and Pickaway county.

There will be a chicken supper, August 5 at Dutch Hollow church, 3 miles west of Amanda on U. S. 22. Start serving 5 p. m. —ad.

MARKETS

CASH quotations made to farmers in Circleville:

| CATTLE | |
|----------------------|------|
| Springers, 2 lbs. up | 23 |
| Heavy Hens | 17 |
| Leghorn Hens | 13 |
| Old Roosters | 10 |
| WHEAT | |
| No. 2 Yellow Corn | 1.11 |
| No. 2 White Corn | .94 |
| Old Roosters | 1.55 |
| EGGS | |
| Cream, Premium | .26 |
| Cream, Regular | .24 |
| Eggs | .23 |

CLOSING MARKETS

PUBLISHED BY THE J. W. ESHELMAN & SONS

| WHEAT | |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| Open High Low Close | |
| Sept.—119 1/2 119 1/2 118 1/2 118 1/2 | |
| Dec.—122 1/2 122 1/2 121 1/2 121 1/2 | |
| May—127 1/2 127 1/2 126 1/2 126 1/2 | |
| CORN | |
| Open High Low Close | |
| Sept.—90 1/2 90 1/2 89 1/2 89 1/2 | |
| Dec.—93 1/2 93 1/2 92 1/2 92 1/2 | |
| May—97 1/2 97 1/2 96 1/2 96 1/2 | |
| OATS | |
| Open High Low Close | |
| Sept.—45 1/2 45 1/2 44 1/2 44 1/2 | |
| Dec.—51 1/2 51 1/2 50 1/2 50 1/2 | |
| May—54 1/2 54 1/2 53 1/2 53 1/2 | |

CLOSING LIVESTOCK MARKET

PUBLISHED BY THE PICKAWAY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

| RECEIPTS—2,500 lbs. to 40c lower | |
|---|--|
| 400 lbs. $14.25—250 to 225 lbs. $14.50—200 to 180 lbs. $14.75—150 to 140 lbs. $14.50—140 to 120 lbs. $13.75—120 to 100 lbs. $13.50—100 to 80 lbs. $13.25—80 to 60 lbs. $12.50—60 to 40 lbs. $12.25—40 to 20 lbs. $11.50—20 to 10 lbs. $11.25—10 to 5 lbs. $11.00—5 to 2 lbs. $10.75—2 to 1 lb. $10.50—1 lb. and under $10.25—Sows, $12.50 @ $13.50; Stags—$11.50. | |
| LOCAL | |
| 400 lbs. $14.25—250 to 225 lbs. $14.50—200 to 180 lbs. $14.75—150 to 140 lbs. $14.50—140 to 120 lbs. $13.75—120 to 100 lbs. $13.50—100 to 80 lbs. $13.25—80 to 60 lbs. $12.50—60 to 40 lbs. $12.25—40 to 20 lbs. $11.50—20 to 10 lbs. $11.25—10 to 5 lbs. $11.00—5 to 2 lbs. $10.75—2 to 1 lb. $10.50—1 lb. and under $10.25—Sows, $12.50 @ $13.50; Stags—$11.50. | |

War Bulletins

(Continued from Page One)
the FBI's Newark office, said that an undisclosed number of arrests were made in a continuation of the series of raids aimed at known axis sympathizers.

ROME—An Italian high command communique today claimed the capture of British paratroopers dropped in Libya.

BEDFORD, Mass. — An Army board of investigators today probed into the airplane crash which killed Lieut. Clyde W. Kaffenberger, of New Weston, O., when he was on a routine flight.

POMEROY COACH NAMED AT GREENFIELD McCLAIN

GREENFIELD, July 24 — Forest Creason, 29, of Pomero, today was hired as director of athletics and head coach at Greenfield McClain high school.

Creason succeeds Gerald Armstrong who will assume the head football and baseball coaching position at Denison university this fall. The new McClain coach was at Pomero high school last year. He is a graduate of Columbus Central high school and Findlay College, is married and has two children.

TRIO IN RACE FOR N. Y. GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

James M. Mead

Charles Poletti

John J. Bennett, Jr.

A test of strength between President Roosevelt and his former campaign manager, James A. Farley, is shaping in New York state, where the chief executive has expressed his support of Senator James M. Mead in his attempt to secure the Democratic nomination for governor while Farley has been working to win the nomination for State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr. A third seeker of the nomination is Lieut. Gov. Charles Poletti, who is backed by Gov. Herbert Lehman.

MEAT SHORTAGE FORCES ACTION BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, July 24 — A shortage of meat, due to a "squeeze" between prices of livestock and processed cuts, today reached serious proportions in several sections of the country, particularly the East, as the government hurriedly took action to relieve the situation.

Reports reached Washington that supplies of beef and pork are rapidly dwindling in many cities and orders are being rationed because of the price ceiling on processed meat and the advancing ceilingless prices on livestock.

At the same time, the Bureau of Labor statistics disclosed that the average family food budget has been thrown out of balance by an increase of more than 16 percent in prices of all foods over last year.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard announced the following program to ease the shortage and to enable small packers to get out from under the prize squeeze that has threatened to force them out of business:

1. Government purchases of meat, particularly pork products, for lend-lease shipment will be reduced temporarily, thus providing larger supplies for domestic consumption.
2. Beginning Monday, maximum prices for meats bought for lend-lease will be reduced below ceilings fixed by the OPA, the object being to do away with advantages enjoyed by big packers handling lend-lease orders over small packers selling for domestic consumption.
3. Adjustments will be made in price differentials in different areas to bring prices paid by the government for lend-lease meats more in line with the actual cost to packers in the various areas.
4. A kind of subsidy arrangement will be put into effect where small packers can process meats for the government for a fee. The government will take 75 percent of the processed meats for lend-lease account, and turn back the other 25 percent at special prices to the packers to be sold to the public.

ARMY INDUCTEE FROM HIGHLAND COUNTY KILLED

COLUMBUS, July 24—John W. Carl, 23-year-old U. S. army inductee from Leesburg, Highland county, was shot and killed late yesterday while trying to escape from the guard house, Fort Hayes officials announced today. Carl, a two-time deserter, was returned from Highland county only Monday. He was inducted last August 4 and twice deserted his post, officials said.

RED DEFENSES BROKEN, REICH OFFICIALS SAY

(Continued from Page One)
Germans on the border-line of the Don at Tsimlyansk lies the last railroad connecting the North Caucasus with the rest of Russia.

"The Don will flow red with German blood before the Red army allows the enemy to cross," Red Star said.

The supreme test of Timoshenko's tactics in retreating before superior enemy forces to avoid allowing large units of his troops to be surrounded will be made at Tsimlyansk, where the Red army is making a stand to save Stalingrad and the railway.

The river here is more than 1,000 feet wide. Successful Soviet resistance at Tsimlyansk, besides justifying Timoshenko's tactics, would defeat the ultimate objective of the costly German drive, save the Caucasus and Stalingrad and enable the Soviets ultimately to regroup themselves for a counter-offensive.

Every Russian, including each soldier in the whole Red army, knows only too well the price of defeat.

Rich Fields Ruined
Dispatches to Moscow newspapers told how the rich fields of grain surrounding Rostov now are burned-out wastes, while "freedom-loving villages nearby have been reduced to heaps of ashes."

Before the war, Rostov was the center of agricultural machinery and tractor construction. It embraces one of the largest combine factories in South Russia and one that originally was supervised by American engineers.

The city itself is unusually attractive. It has wide, tree-bordered streets and squares and a lovely waterfront on the Don, 25 miles from the point where the river flows into the Sea of Azov. Its old-fashioned and comfortable main hotel, the Moskovskaya, is known to many travelers.

There was no longer any question that Von Bock's drive was aimed at forcing an immediate decision in the battle for the Caucasian oil fields.

On the Western Front the RAF again battered industrial areas of the Ruhr and Rhineland districts of Germany during the night and simultaneously the Red air force struck at East Prussia in its third raid of the week.

Then with the first streak of dawn the RAF resumed the shuttle raids across the channel to pound the occupied coasts of France and the lowlands.

Seven British bombers were lost during the night but the RAF took a similar toll of Germans who raided the midlands and East Anglia in greater force than usual.

Action slackened in the Egyptian desert as Gen. Sir Claude

FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR TO START NEXT TUESDAY

Annual Fayette county fair will open next Tuesday night to continue for the remainder of the week with four afternoons of harness racing and five nights of midway shows and rides scheduled. In addition to these events, the fair will offer numerous agricultural exhibits and the Ohio Hereford show.

Auchinleck's army of the Nile consolidated the gains made in the surprise offensive launched Tuesday night. Artillery duels, armored patrol thrusts and steady raids on enemy positions by RAF fighters and bombers continued but on a reduced scale.

There were no more of the fierce tank battles that shook the desert Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Retreats Ordered

One encouraging aspect of the fighting in the Caucasus in the lack of the familiar German claims that great bodies of the Red army have been "encircled and annihilated." Moscow reported that Timoshenko had ordered his forces to retreat whenever threatened with encirclement and they have followed his orders with the greatest skill.

A Vichy radio report said German aircraft were systematically bombing the bridge across the Don in an effort to cut off the withdrawal of the Soviet armies.

When the Germans captured Rostov last fall it literally blew up in their faces. The Russians planted mines thickly throughout the town, and littered the abandoned buildings with concealed time bombs. The Nazis were much relieved to get out, and it will be no surprise if history repeats.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Walnut Silver Thimble

We met at the home of Joan Brinker with seven members present. After the business hour games were played under the direction of Evelyn Norris. Various members of our club will attend the 4H Club camp next Monday.

Our next meeting will be held August 5 at the home of Donna May.

Vivian Martin,
News Reporter.

FORD TIRE PLAN BEING OFFERED TO HALT CRISIS

DETROIT, July 24—The Ford Motor company announced today that it has presented for government approval a tire replacement plan which is designed to solve the problem of transportation for its more than 200,000 workers without using rubber or any other critical materials.

Charles E. Sorenson, Ford vice president and general manager, announced that the material the Ford company planned to use for rebuilding tires was a substance known as ethylene-polysulphide or thiolol. Sorenson said that two pounds of this substance would give a tread of one-tenth inch skid thickness, good for 4,000 to 5,000 miles of "moderate" driving.

If the government approves the plan, Sorenson said, the company is willing to offer the process and methods to the country's war industry as a whole.

The Ford executive said the rubber substitute as worked out in the Ford laboratories has been tested for months on the road. All kinds of reclaimed rubber, synthetic rubber and rubber substitutes were tested before it was found that thiolol was best under the circumstances, Sorenson explained.

It was emphasized that the thiolol could be produced with little or no use of vital materials—even the tanks and vats necessary in the production process being made from wood or concrete.

Tires treated with thiolol would be sold to employees at nominal cost, Sorenson said, and the company would take care to see that the plan was not abused.

TWO 'HARI-KIRI' ACTIONS CAUSED BY TOKYO RAID

LONDON, July 24—The intrepid bombing expedition of Brig. Gen. James Doolittle and his United States airmen on Tokyo had an aftermath in the suicide of two high Japanese officers, it was revealed today.

The American airmen, who created panic in Tokyo when they flew over the capital of Japan on their way to military objectives, passed the Imperial palace, according to dispatches from Lourno Marquis, where Americans are being exchanged for Japanese nationals.

The two Japanese officers committed hari-kiri because they felt that the United States war birds had endangered the life of Emperor Hirohito when they passed over the Imperial residence.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When Gen. Doolittle was decorated by President Roosevelt in Washington on his return from the first air attack on Japan proper, it was revealed that only military objectives were sought out by the American flyers and they were under orders not to drop any bombs near the Imperial residence.)

OHIO'S CLASS A, B TIRE QUOTA SET FOR AUGUST

WASHINGTON, July 24—Ohio's quota of new auto tires for August was announced today by the Office of Price Administration as 3,284 Class A tires and 7,068 Class B, or a total of 10,352.

Also allocated to the state will be 32,883 new tubes and 51,199 re-caps for autos, motorcycles and light passenger-carrying vehicles.

There will be 13,692 Class A tires, 17,500 re-caps, and 16,130 new tubes for trucks, buses, tractors and other heavy vehicles. The new quotas were higher than those of last month.

ROSS COUNTY DEMOCRATS BACK CLARENCE KNISLEY

COLUMBUS, July 24—Ross county Democratic executive committee today announced it had endorsed former State Treasurer and Industrial Commissioner Clarence H. Knisley, of Bainbridge, for the party's gubernatorial nomination at the August 11 primary.

BURTON LEAVES DEFENSE POST; STONE SELECTED

COLUMBUS, July 24—Courtney Burton, young Cleveland executive, today stepped down as director of the Ohio State Defense Council and Ralph Stone, of Ash-tabula, former commander of the Ohio American Legion, was named to take his place as acting director.

Burton, who has been serving without pay, will remain with the council as associate director. He said the press of personal business and his desire to join the armed forces in the near future caused him to make the request that he be relieved of at least part of his duties.

Stone, who was commander of the Ohio legion in 1940 and 1941, has been head of the council's civilian volunteer section.

PERSONS DRIVING HORSES WIN FREE FAIR ADMISSION

FREMONT, July 24—To aid in the drive to conserve rubber, directors of the Sandusky County Fair today announced that all persons coming to the 90th annual exposition in horse-drawn vehicles would be admitted free, as well as all service men in uniform.

G-MEN PROBING TRAIN ACCIDENT NEAR CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, July 24—FBI today was investigating the derailling of three cars of a Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad train at Accotink, Va., 15 miles south of Washington, which resulted in the injury of 35 persons, none seriously.

Twenty-five of the injured received first aid at nearby Fort Belvoir and the others were sent to Alexandria, Va., hospital. Only four remained at the hospital for further treatment.

The last car of the train jumped the tracks yesterday at a curve just north of Accotink and overturned. The next two cars jumped the rails, but remained upright, bumping along the ties for a quarter of a mile before the speeding train could be brought to a stop.

VACCINE BLAMED FOR 62 ARMY JAUNDICE DEATHS

WASHINGTON, July 24—Secretary of War Stimson today announced that 28,525 cases of yellow jaundice had broken out in the Army in the United States and abroad since January 1, resulting in 62 deaths and that the cause had been traced to vaccine used to inoculate the troops against yellow fever.

BUY DEFENSE STAMPS

To relieve Misery of 666
Try "Rub-My-Tism"—a Wonderful
Linctant

Ringgold Farm Hampshires

Annual Bred Sow Auction Sale

AUGUST 11th

at the Farm at 1 o'clock

55—HEAD—55

Sow bred for early farrow. Proven Herd Boars. Top Spring gilts plus Hog houses. Write us for your free catalogue.

RINGGOLD FARM

CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

Mr. and Mrs. Frank John Williamson announce the marriage of their daughter
Bertha Ann
to Arthur David Agre
United States Navy
the eleventh of July and forty-two California

Rytex-Hyllited

WEDDING

Invitations or Announcements

100 for $6.75

50 for $4.25
25 for $3

For a wedding on the "grand scale" . . . or for one charmingly simple . . . Rytex-Hyllited Wedding Invitations or Announcements will add the final perfect note to the ceremony.

*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Circleville Daily Herald

STIFFLER'S STORE

Attend Stiffler's

Blanket Sale!

Use Our Blanket Lay-A-Way Plan!
A Small Deposit Holds Any Blanket Until Wanted! Start today.

A LOAD OF 52 GOOD STEERS

Steers Weigh 415 Pounds

Part of a Load of Heifers Averaging 294 Pounds

| | |
|---------|---------------------|
| Steers | $12.00 per Hundred |
| Heifers | $13.25 per Hundred |

Pickaway Livestock

COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION
Phone 118 or 482

WELCOME TO THE FAIR

FAYETTE COUNTY WASHINGTON C. H.

JULY 28-29-30-31 - AUG. 1

5 Spectacular Days - Nights

A LARGE ENTRY OF THE BEST HORSES
Will Compete in - - - 4 Days of HARNESS RACES!
—(2 P. M.)—
WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY
FRIDAY and SATURDAY

AMERICA ON PARADE!

Ten Beautiful Episodes of
Patriotic and Historical Entertainment
Tuesday - Wednesday - Thursday — 8:30 P. M.

Gus Sun Presents:
POODLES HANNEFORD
and His Famous Circus Riding Ensemble
Also Music, Comedy, Dancing and Acrobatic Acts
FRIDAY and SATURDAY — 8:30 P. M.

• OHIO HEREFORD SHOW
Thursday, July 30

Plenty of - - -
• SHOWS and RIDES
And Everything Else That Goes To Make a Real Fair.

—Admission—
Day, 25¢ - - - Night 15¢
Tax Included.

HULL PREDICTS COP NO. 1 ROLE FOR UNCLE SAM

International Police Need
After War Stressed In
Secretary's Talk

WASHINGTON, July 24—Secretary of State Cordell Hull's radio address to the nation today was interpreted in diplomatic circles in Washington as foreshadowing the establishment of an international police force after the war—with Uncle Sam in the role of Cop No. 1.

While bluntly warning the American people that "unlimited effort" and sacrifice are required to win the "life and death struggle of preservation of our freedom, our homes, and our very existence," Hull emphasized that when the war has been won, the United States and the other United Nations must be prepared to enforce peace for a long time to come.

If world wars are to be avoided every 20 years, Hull said, an international agency must be created which can, "by force, if necessary, keep the peace among nations in the future." He also said there must be established an "international court of justice" to which nations can take their disputes for peaceful settlement.

To Prolong Armistice

He warned that the United Nations must exercise surveillance over aggressor nations until such time as the latter demonstrate their willingness and ability to live at peace with other nations. This is in accord with the State department's idea of a prolonged armistice during which American and other United Nations armies of occupation would maintain law and order while the passions and hatreds of war were cooling off.

The length of time that the United Nations will have to police the defeated axis countries, must, Hull added, "depend on the rapidity with which the peoples of Germany, Japan, Italy and their satellites give convincing proof that they have repudiated and abandoned monstrous philosophy of superior race and conquest by force, and have embraced loyally the basic principles of peaceful processes."

Asserting that "lack of vigilance is the greatest danger to liberty," the secretary said the "right to freedom cannot be divorced from the duty of defending it."

"We are," he added, "forced to fight because we ignored the simple but fundamental fact that the price of peace and of the preservation of right and freedom among nations is the acceptance of international responsibilities."

In urging the need of establishment of an international police agency after the war, Hull said one great lesson that has remained unlearned throughout the ages is that "liberty is truly won only when it is guarded by the same watchfulness, the same courage, the same willingness to fight for it which first secured it."

"It is," he continued, "perhaps too much to expect that tyrants will ever learn that man's longing for liberty cannot be destroyed. Dreams of conquest have their roots in diseased mentality. And that malady may well be ineradicable."

Axis Aim Noted

The secretary stressed that the ultimate aim of the axis power is the enslavement of the world by "the most ambitious, depraved, and cruel leaders in history."

He warned the few remaining neutral nations of the world that under these circumstances, "professions of neutrality . . . are as absurd and suicidal as are such professions on the part of a citizen of a peaceful community attacked by a band of confessed outlaws."

In what was seen as an appeal to India to drop political differences with Great Britain and join the United Nations cause, Hull said:

"There is no chance for liberty for any people anywhere save through the victory of the free peoples. It has been our purpose in the past—and will remain our purpose in the future—to use the full measure of our influence to support attainment of freedom by all peoples, who, by their acts, show themselves worthy of it and ready for it."

One large oak or beech tree will discharge over 10 gallons of moisture into the air every 24 hours.

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT
Thou shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness.—Exodus 23:1.

Renfro Valley barn dance, showing at Ted Lewis park Thursday evening, attracted a capacity audience.

Ellen Essick, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Essick, Ashville, underwent a tonsil operation Friday in a Berger hospital.

The ladies of Mt. Pleasant church will sponsor a food sale in Wallace's Bakery, Saturday, July 25, beginning at 9:30. —ad.

John Hedges, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hedges of Ashville route 1, had his tonsils removed Friday in a Berger hospital operation.

John McSweeney of Wooster, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was a political visitor Thursday in Circleville and Pickaway county.

There will be a chicken supper, August 5 at Dutch Hollow church, 3 miles west of Amanda on U. S. 22. Start serving 5 p. m. —ad.

MARKETS

CASH quotations made to farmers in Circleville:

| POULTRY | |
|----------------------|------|
| Springers, 4 lbs. up | 22 |
| Heavy Hens | 17 |
| Leghorn Hens | 13 |
| Old Roosters | 10 |
| Wheat | 1.11 |
| No. 2 Yellow Corn | .86 |
| No. 2 White Corn | .84 |
| Soybeans | 1.05 |
| Cream, Premium | .36 |
| Cream, Regular | .34 |
| Eggs | .23 |

CLOSING MARKETS

PUBLISHED BY
THE J. W. ESHELMAN & SONS
WHEAT

| Open | High | Low | Close |
|--------------|---------|---------|---------------|
| Sept-119 1/2 | 119 1/2 | 118 1/2 | 118 1/2 @ 1/2 |
| Dec-122 1/2 | 122 1/2 | 121 1/2 | 122 @ 1/2 |
| May | 127 | 125 1/2 | 126 1/2 |

CORN

| Open | High | Low | Close |
|-------------|--------|--------|----------|
| Sept-90 1/2 | 90 1/2 | 89 1/2 | 90 @ 5/8 |
| Dec-92 1/2 | 92 1/2 | 91 1/2 | 92 @ 1/2 |
| May | 97 1/2 | 95 1/2 | 97 1/2 |

OATS

| Open | High | Low | Close |
|-------------|--------|--------|--------------|
| Sept-48 1/2 | 48 1/2 | 48 1/2 | 48 1/2 bid |
| Dec-51 1/2 | 51 1/2 | 51 1/2 | 51 1/2 bid |
| May | 51 1/2 | 51 1/2 | 51 1/2 asked |

CLOSING LIVESTOCK MARKET

PUBLISHED BY
THE PICKAWAY COUNTY FARM
CINCINNATI

RECEIPTS—2,500, 15c to 40c lower; 200 to 400 lbs., $14.00—275 to 300 lbs., $14.25—250 to 275 lbs., $14.50—225 to 250 lbs., $14.75—150 to 225 lbs., $14.50—100 to 150 lbs., $14.75—50 to 100 lbs., $14.50—150 to 160 lbs., $14.25—130 to 140 lbs., $14.00—120 to 130 lbs., $13.75—110 to 120 lbs., $13.50—100 to 110 lbs., $13.25—Sows, $12.25 @ $13.00.

RECEIPTS—3,000, 15c to 25c lower; 150 to 240 lbs., $14.50 @ $14.90—Sows, $12.35 @ $12.70.

LOCAL

RECEIPTS—350, 25c lower; 200 to 400 lbs., $14.20—250 to 300 lbs., $14.35—240 to 260 lbs., $14.50—200 to 240 lbs., $14.75—150 to 200 lbs., $14.60—100 to 150 lbs., $14.50—140 to 160 lbs., $13.90—100 to 140 lbs., $13.00 @ $13.50—Sows, $12.00 @ $12.50; Stags—$11.50.

War Bulletins

(Continued from Page One)
The FBI's Newark office, said that an undisclosed number of arrests were made in a continuation of the series of raids aimed at known axis sympathizers.

ROME—An Italian high command communique today claimed the capture of British paratroopers dropped in Libya.

BEDFORD, Mass. — An Army board of investigators today probed into the airplane crash which killed Lieut. Clyde W. Kaffenberger, of New Weston, O., when he was on a routine flight.

POMEROY COACH NAMED
AT GREENFIELD McCLAIN

GREENFIELD, July 24 — Forest Creason, 29, of Pomero, today was hired as director of athletics and head coach at Greenfield McClain high school.

Creason succeeds Gerald Armstrong who will assume the head football and baseball coaching position at Denison university this fall. The new McClain coach was at Pomero high school last year. He is a graduate of Columbus Central high school and Findlay College, is married and has two children.

TRIO IN RACE FOR N. Y. GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

James M. Mead

Charles Poletti

John J. Bennett, Jr.

A test of strength between President Roosevelt and his former campaign manager, James A. Farley, is shaping in New York state, where the chief executive has expressed his support of Senator James M. Mead in his attempt to secure the Democratic nomination for governor while Farley has been working to win the nomination for State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr. A third seeker of the nomination is Lieut. Gov. Charles Poletti, who is backed by Gov. Herbert Lehman.

MEAT SHORTAGE FORCES ACTION BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, July 24 — A shortage of meat, due to a "squeeze" between prices of livestock and processed cuts, today reached serious proportions in several sections of the country, particularly the East, as the government hurriedly took action to relieve the situation.

Reports reached Washington that supplies of beef and pork are rapidly dwindling in many cities and orders are being rationed because of the price ceiling on processed meat and the advancing ceilingless prices on livestock.

At the same time, the Bureau of Labor statistics disclosed that the average family food budget has been thrown out of balance by an increase of more than 16 percent in prices of all foods over last year.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard announced the following program to ease the shortage and to enable small packers to get out from under the prize squeeze that has threatened to force them out of business:

1. Government purchases of meat, particularly pork products, for lend-lease shipment will be reduced temporarily, thus providing larger supplies for domestic consumption.

2. Beginning Monday, maximum prices for meats bought for lend-lease will be reduced below ceilings fixed by the OPA, the object being to do away with advantages enjoyed by big packers handling lend-lease orders over small packers selling for domestic consumption.

3. Adjustments will be made in price differentials in different areas to bring prices paid by the government for lend-lease meats more in line with the actual cost to packers in the various areas.

4. A kind of subsidy arrangement will be put into effect where small packers can process meats for the government for a fee. The government will take 75 percent of the processed meats for lend-lease account, and turn back the other 25 percent at special prices to the packers to be sold to the public.

ARMY INDUCTEE FROM HIGHLAND COUNTY KILLED

COLUMBUS, July 24—John W. Carl, 23-year-old U. S. army inductee from Leesburg, Highland county, was shot and killed late yesterday while trying to escape from the guard house, Fort Hayes officials announced today. Carl, a two-time deserter, was returned from Highland county only Monday. He was inducted last August 4 and twice deserted his post, officials said.

RED DEFENSES BROKEN, REICH OFFICIALS SAY

(Continued from Page One)

Germans on the border-line of the Don at Tsimlyansk lies the last railroad connecting the North Caucasus with the rest of Russia.

"The Don will flow red with German blood before the Red army allows the enemy to cross," Red Star said.

The supreme test of Timoshenko's tactics in retreating before superior enemy forces to avoid allowing large units of his troops to be surrounded will be made at Tsimlyansk, where the Red army is making a stand to save Stalingrad and the railway.

The river here is more than 1,000 feet wide. Successful Soviet resistance at Tsimlyansk, besides justifying Timoshenko's tactics, would defeat the ultimate objective of the costly German drive, save the Caucasus and Stalingrad and enable the Soviets ultimately to regroup themselves for a counter-offensive.

Every Russian, including each soldier in the whole Red army, knows only too well the price of defeat.

Rich Fields Ruined

Dispatches to Moscow newspapers told how the rich fields of grain surrounding Rostov now are burned-out wastes, while "freedom-loving villages nearby have been reduced to heaps of ashes."

Before the war, Rostov was the center of agricultural machinery and tractor construction. It embraces one of the largest combine factories in South Russia and one that originally was supervised by American engineers.

The city itself is unusually attractive. It has wide, tree-bordered streets and squares and a lovely waterfront on the Don, 25 miles from the point where the river flows into the Sea of Azov. Its old-fashioned and comfortable main hotel, the Moskovskaya, is known to many travelers.

There was no longer any question that Von Bock's drive was aimed at forcing an immediate decision in the battle for the Caucasian oil fields.

On the Western Front the RAF again battered industrial areas of the Ruhr and Rhineland districts of Germany during the night and simultaneously the Red air force struck at East Prussia in its third raid of the week.

Then with the first streak of dawn the RAF resumed the shuttle raids across the channel to pound the occupied coasts of France and the lowlands.

Seven British bombers were lost during the night but the RAF took a similar toll of Germans who raided the midlands and East Anglia in greater force than usual.

Action slackened in the Egyptian desert as Gen. Sir Claude

FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR TO START NEXT TUESDAY

Annual Fayette county fair will open next Tuesday night to continue for the remainder of the week with four afternoons of harness racing and five nights of midway shows and rides scheduled. In addition to these events, the fair will offer numerous agricultural exhibits and the Ohio Hereford show.

Auchinleck's army of the Nile consolidated the gains made in the surprise offensive launched Tuesday night. Artillery duels, armored patrol thrusts and steady raids on enemy positions by RAF fighters and bombers continued but on a reduced scale.

There were no more of the fierce tank battles that shook the desert Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Retreats Ordered

One encouraging aspect of the fighting in the Caucasus in the lack of the familiar German claims that great bodies of the Red army have been "encircled and annihilated." Moscow reported that Timoshenko had ordered his forces to retreat whenever threatened with encirclement and they have followed his orders with the greatest skill.

A Vichy radio report said German aircraft were systematically bombing the bridge across the Don in an effort to cut off the withdrawal of the Soviet armies.

When the Germans captured Rostov last Fall it literally blew up in their faces. The Russians planted mines thickly throughout the town, and littered the abandoned buildings with concealed time bombs. The Nazis were much relieved to get out, and it will be no surprise if history repeats.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Walnut Silver Thimble
We met at the home of Joan Brinker with seven members present. After the business hour games were played under the direction of Evelyn Norris. Various members of our club will attend the 4H Club camp next Monday.

Our next meeting will be held August 5 at the home of Donna May.

Vivian Martin,
News Reporter.

FORD TIRE PLAN BEING OFFERED TO HALT CRISIS

DETROIT, July 24—The Ford Motor company announced today that it has presented for government approval a tire replacement plan which is designed to solve the problem of transportation for its more than 200,000 workers without using rubber or any other critical materials.

Charles E. Sorenson, Ford vice president and general manager, announced that the material the Ford company planned to use for rebuilding tires was a substance known as ethylene-poly sulphide or thiokol. Sorenson said that two pounds of this substance would give a tread of one-tenth inch solid thickness, good for 4,000 to 5,000 miles of "moderate" driving.

If the government approves the plan, Sorenson said, the company is willing to offer the process and methods to the country's war industry as a whole.

The Ford executive said the rubber substitute as worked out in the Ford laboratories has been tested for months on the road. All kinds of reclaimed rubber, synthetic rubber and rubber substitutes were tested before it was found that thiokol was best under the circumstances, Sorenson explained.

It was emphasized that the thiokol could be produced with little or no use of vital materials—even the tanks and vats necessary in the production process being made from wood or concrete.

Tires treated with thiokol would be sold to employees at nominal cost, Sorenson said, and the company would take care to see that the plan was not abused.

TWO 'HARI-KIRI' ACTIONS CAUSED BY TOKYO RAID

LONDON, July 24—The intrepid bombing expedition of Brig. Gen. James Doolittle and his United States airmen on Tokyo had an aftermath in the suicide of two high Japanese officers, it was revealed today.

The American airmen, who created panic in Tokyo when they flew over the capital of Japan on their way to military objectives, passed the Imperial palace, according to dispatches from Lour-enco Marques, where Americans are being exchanged for Japanese nationals.

The two Japanese officers committed hari-kiri because they felt that the United States war birds had endangered the life of Emperor Hirohito when they passed over the Imperial residence. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When Gen. Doolittle was decorated by President Roosevelt in Washington on his return from the first air attack on Japan proper, it was revealed that only military objectives were sought out by the American flyers and they were under orders not to drop any bombs near the Imperial residence.)

OHIO'S CLASS A, B TIRE QUOTA SET FOR AUGUST

WASHINGTON, July 24—Ohio's quota of new auto tires for August was announced today by the Office of Price Administration as 3,284 Class A tires and 7,068 Class B, or a total of 10,352.

Also allocated to the state will be 32,883 new tubes and 51,199 recaps for autos, motorcycles and light passenger-carrying vehicles. There will be 13,692 Class A tires, 17,500 recaps, and 16,130 new tubes for trucks, buses, tractors and other heavy vehicles. The new quotas were higher than those of last month.

ROSS COUNTY DEMOCRATS BACK CLARENCE KNISLEY

COLUMBUS, July 24—Ross county Democratic executive committee today announced it had endorsed former State Treasurer and Industrial Commissioner Clarence H. Knisley, of Bainbridge, for the party's gubernatorial nomination at the August 11 primary.

BURTON LEAVES DEFENSE POST; STONE SELECTED

COLUMBUS, July 24—Courtney Burton, young Cleveland executive, today stepped down as director of the Ohio State Defense Council and Ralph Stone, of Ash-tabula, former commander of the Ohio American Legion, was named to take his place as acting director.

Burton, who has been serving without pay, will remain with the council as associate director. He said the press of personal business and his desire to join the armed forces in the near future caused him to make the request that he be relieved of at least part of his duties.

Stone, who was commander of the Ohio legion in 1940 and 1941, has been head of the council's civilian volunteer section.

PERSONS DRIVING HORSES WIN FREE FAIR ADMISSION

FREMONT, July 24—To aid in the drive to conserve rubber, directors of the Sandusky County Fair today announced that all persons coming to the 90th annual exposition in horse-drawn vehicles would be admitted free, as well as all service men in uniform.

G-MEN PROBING TRAIN ACCIDENT NEAR CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, July 24—FBI today was investigating the derailling of three cars of a Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad train at Accotink, Va., 15 miles south of Washington, which resulted in the injury of 35 persons, none seriously.

Twenty-five of the injured received first aid at nearby Fort Belvoir and the others were sent to Alexandria, Va., hospital. Only four remained at the hospital for further treatment.

The last car of the train jumped the tracks yesterday at a curve just north of Accotink and overturned. The next two cars jumped the rails, but remained upright, bumping along the ties for a quarter of a mile before the speeding train could be brought to a stop.

VACCINE BLAMED FOR 62 ARMY JAUNDICE DEATHS

WASHINGTON, July 24—Secretary of War Stimson today announced that 28,525 cases of yellow jaundice had broken out in the Army in the United States and abroad since January 1, resulting in 62 deaths and that the cause had been traced to vaccine used to inoculate the troops against yellow fever.

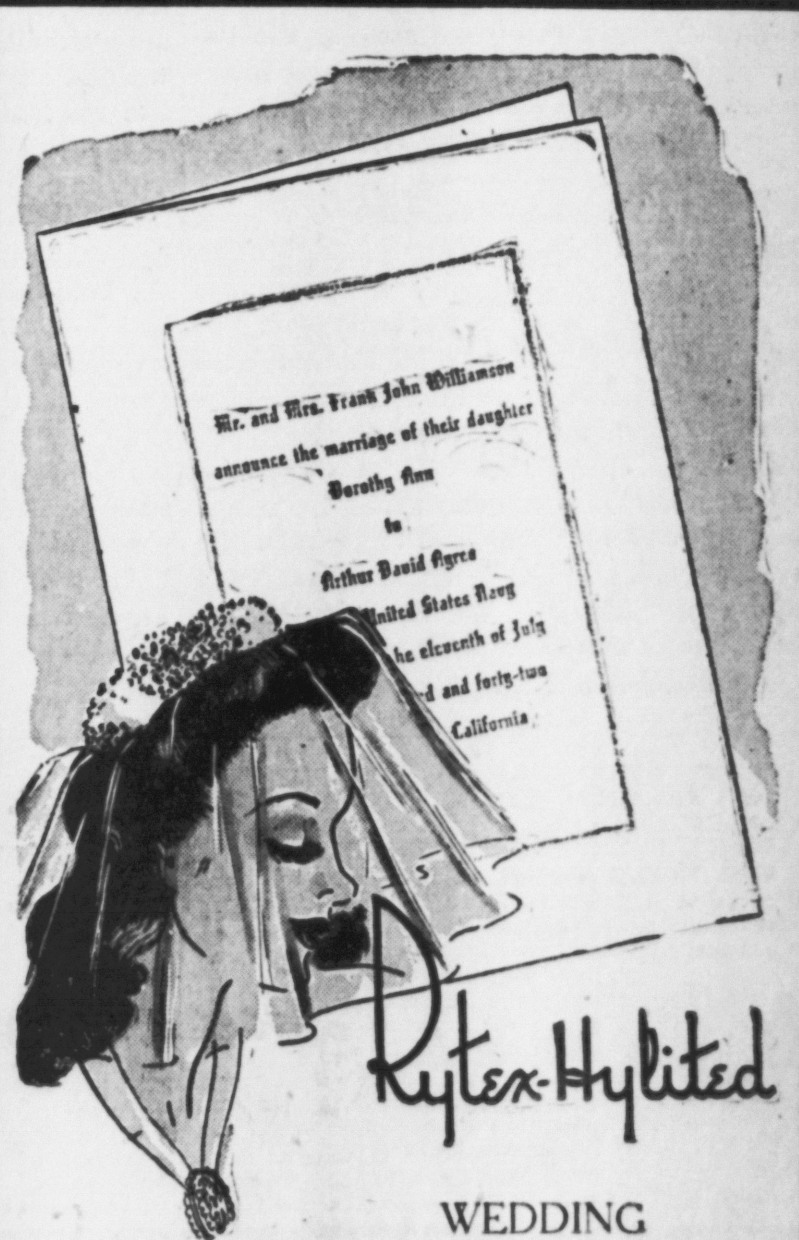

BUY DEFENSE STAMPS

To relieve Misery of 666
Try "Rub-My-Tim"—a Wonderful
Linctant

Ringgold Farm Hampshires Annual Bred Sow Auction Sale AUGUST 11th at the Farm at 1 o'clock 55—HEAD—55

Sow bred for early farrow. Proven Herd Boars. Top Spring gilts plus Hog houses. Write us for your free catalogue.

RINGGOLD FARM CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

WEDDING

Invitations or Announcements

100 for $6.75

50 for $4.25
25 for $3

For a wedding on the "grand scale" . . . or for one charmingly simple . . . Rytex-Hylited Wedding Invitations or Announcements will add the final perfect note to the ceremony.

*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Circleville Daily Herald

STIFFLER'S STORE
Attend Stiffler's
Blanket Sale!
Use Our Blanket Lay-A-Way Plan!
A Small Deposit Holds Any Blanket Until Wanted! Start today.

A LOAD OF 52 GOOD STEERS
Steers Weigh 415 Pounds
Part of a Load of Heifers Averaging 294 Pounds
Steers $12.00 per Hundred
Heifers $13.25 per Hundred
Pickaway Livestock
COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION
Phone 118 or 482

Welcome TO THE FAIR
FAYETTE COUNTY WASHINGTON C. H.
JULY 28-29-30-31 - AUG. 1
5 Spectacular Days - Nights
A LARGE ENTRY OF THE BEST HORSES
Will Compete in - - - 4 Days of
HARNESS RACES!
(2 P. M.)
WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
AMERICA ON PARADE!
Ten Beautiful Episodes of
Patriotic and Historical Entertainment
Tuesday - Wednesday - Thursday - 8:30 P. M.
Gus Sun Presents:
POODLES HANNEFORD
and His Famous Circus Riding Ensemble
Also Music, Comedy, Dancing and Acrobatic Acts
FRIDAY and SATURDAY - 8:30 P. M.
OHIO HEREFORD SHOW
Thursday, July 30
Plenty of - - -
SHOWS and RIDES
And Everything Else That Goes To Make a Real Fair.
Admission—
Day, 25¢ - - - Night 15¢
Tax Included.

The Circleville Herald
Consolidation of The Circleville Herald, Established 1883, and The Union-Herald, established 1894.
Published Evenings Except Sunday by THE CIRCLEVILLE PUBLISHING COMPANY
210 North Court Street, Circleville
T. E. WILSON Publisher
Member: Ohio Newspaper Association, International News Service, Central Press Association, and the Ohio Select List.
NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
JOHN W. CULLEN COMPANY
230 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago; 630 Fifth Avenue, New York; 3044 N. Grand Blvd., Detroit.
SUBSCRIPTION
By carrier in Circleville, 15c per week. By mail Pickaway County and Circleville trading territory, per year, $4 in advance; Zones one and two, $5 per year in advance; beyond first and second postal zones, per year, $6.00 in advance.
Entered at Postoffice at Circleville, Ohio, as Second Class Matter.

OPEN LETTERS

TO PARENTS AND FRIENDS OF BOYS IN SERVICE

ALL: Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce this week started on a project that is an important one for all of us. The Jaycees have mailed letters to parents of all men in Uncle Sam's service asking that pictures of the boys be sent to them so the photographs can be placed in a collection. This collection will be put on display in a prominent business district location so that every one can pay respects to the men who are giving their all in the war effort. I can promise you that the photographs will be well cared for. They will not be damaged by the Jaycees and they will be returned at the end of the struggle. Many cities and towns throughout the nation have carried out this project with much success. Parents and friends of the several hundred men in the armed services have cooperated splendidly wherever the program has been tried, and there isn't any reason why the undertaking should not become a success in Circleville and Pickaway county. Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are to be commended for embarking on this program, and I hope that they succeed in obtaining the picture of every local youth who is serving his flag.

CIRCUITEER.

TO 4-H CLUBS

YOUTHS: Monday, many of you will attend an annual encampment of rural people from six central Ohio communities at the Ross-Hocking camp site. An interesting program has been outlined for the period and the courses in handicraft and other features should attract a great deal of interest. Many men have spent much effort to make the annual affair an interesting one and this year assures the capacity group many educational and interesting discussions as well as projects.

CIRCUITEER.

TO DRAFT BOARD

MEMBERS: All of us have a slight idea concerning what your work consists of, but very few of us know anything at all about the numerous difficult problems you are called on to decide. I, for one, believe that the Pickaway county draft board has done a splendid job. I know, and so do members of your board, that every one of your decisions may not have been the correct one. But it is certain that each and every decision you have issued has been based on good and careful judgment. Your first job is to fill your quotas, regard-

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By— Charles P. Stewart

THIS YEAR'S election is a simple enough proposition. Only senators and representatives' seats are at stake. Candidates haven't been very vocal on the stump. They've been too generally detained in Washington to get out and campaign. Also there has been a good deal of resentment in congress concerning the bitterness with the lawmakers' war-time legislation has been criticized. The war hasn't been going over satisfactorily from the United Nations' standpoint, and congress has been popularly panned for developments' unsatisfactoriness more vigorously than our executive administration has. Illustratively, in a Washington newspaper the other day I read a "letter to the editor," from one of the publication's readers who tells of the tremendous clean-up he thinks he could have made already "if we had a wide-awake government."

By government he means the legislative end of it, for he adds, "But our congress consists of a lot of rusty politicians, who know as little about war as about thrift or economy and prefer to spend billions on ridiculous bondologies." Such comment, of which there's plenty, isn't calculated to guarantee a friendly contest at the polls. If there's a bunch of "rusty politicians" on Capitol Hill, it makes them particularly sore, because their contention is that the works, in so far as they've been gummed, from Uncle Sam's angle, have been executed, not legislatively, gummed.

Hence it's a mean congressional campaign. Still, it's only normally mean. The 1940 campaign was presidentially mean on account of the third term issue. Still, it slid across with a reasonable degree of harmony. Results showed that the public accepted the emergency as justifying disregard of a national anti-third-term precedent, and there was no violent holler contrariwise.

This year, even if there's ugliness, no precedent's involved. But suppose the war's still raging in 1944!

Or suppose the war's over but a heck of an economic crisis is on hand!

How about a fourth term in the White House?

If that question isn't asked, it's poor guessing.

Three terms, as an exception, passed muster. But would four of 'em?

Politicians won't discuss it as a possibility. Democrats won't do it, because the idea scares 'em. Republicans won't, because they're afraid of being accused of present-day anti-administration sympathies. Dozens of 'em are confidentially putting the problem to one another, though.

Say the war ends before early 1944. Okay, that'll be the answer. Say the United Nations will have won by then, and our own economies have been slicked up by then. Okay, also.

But say the muss is still rampart, with the outcome dependent upon United National 100 per cent solidarity. If the Axis has us and our associates on the run by that time, as it has, to a certain extent, at present, there's no telling. But if we and the rest of the aggregation seem to be just on the verge of scoring near-victory or POSSIBLE victory, then what?

A Tough Decision

Will we want to turn over the boss-ship of our job to a new administration?

And yet, if we don't—

Four terms in the presidential office!

Who'd be discussed as a Rooseveltian rival?

Wendell Wilkie's most frequently mentioned.

I don't know why he should be. He is, though.

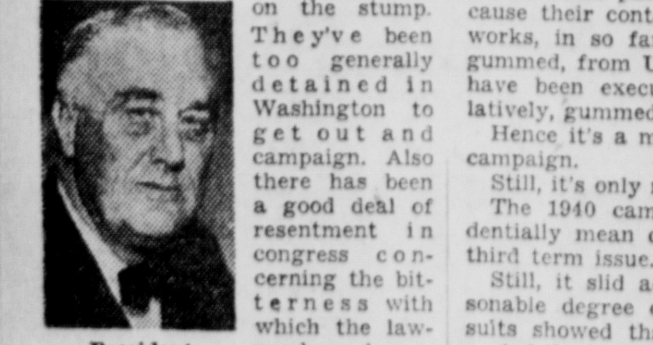

Anyway, the idea of a 16-year president isn't dismissed as an impossibility in Washington—and the suggestion's made that 16 years might run on into indefinite perpetuity.

It would depend upon subsequent circumstances.

There even is speculation as to who President Roosevelt's inheritor should be. It might be Wilkie, if in a hurry, but later?

A Roosevelt descendant or whom?

You can't tell, these times.

President Roosevelt

less of whether single men or married men are called to fill them. When your available unmarried men are gone, you have to call in married men and that is about all there is to it, regardless of what national director, Congress, or anyone else announces concerning who shall go first. You are doing a fine job despite the many difficulties faced and the many problems you are called on to consider.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CYCLISTS

RIDERS: Rationing of tires is bringing the bicycle into greater use, particularly on the part of adults. The number of bicycles in use throughout the country has increased more than a million since 1940 and undoubtedly will increase still more in the future. In all, there are now some 9,000,000 bicycle owners in the United States. Local pedalers are reminded that bicycles are subject to the same regulations as motor vehicles in-so-far as practicable in the Uniform Traffic Act for Ohio. All bicycles are required by state law to be equipped with an adequate brake as well as with a bell or horn capable of being heard at a distance of at least 100 feet but not with a siren or whistle. If used at night all bicycles must be equipped with a white light in front and a red light in the rear, both visible at least 500 feet. As an aid to safe bicycling Chief W. F. McCrady suggests the following rules for bike riders:

1. Obey all traffic laws, signs and signals.
2. Ride with traffic. Keep to the right and close to the curb or side of the roadway.
3. Keep both hands on the handlebars except to signal.
4. When possible avoid busy streets or highways.
5. Do not leave a driveway or cross an intersection without looking both ways to make sure of being safe.
6. Look out for cars pulling from parking places.
7. Do not play riding games on streets or highways.
8. Unless necessary do not ride in foggy weather or on slippery streets.
9. Be alert for traffic in all directions.
10. Always keep your bicycle in good mechanical condition.

CIRCUITEER.

TO LANDLORDS

ALL: "Were city landlords never children themselves?" asks a despairing father newly come to this fair city, and unable to find a dwelling for his wife and two children. "I thought we were fighting this war to defend, among other things, our concept of family life. But I am beginning to think that families are not wanted any more. Or maybe I just don't the city, but he can't stay here without the children being small to start with." It isn't merely a lack of housing, he says. He finds plenty of places that he could afford, and that would suit his family. But always the landlord refuses to rent because of the children. Those children, presumably, are no worse than any others. They have to live somewhere. Their father is needed in the city, but he can't stay here without his family. It is astonishing how many such cases there are. If landlords do not change their attitude, the government will have to step in and safeguard family life in war time by relaxing the boycott against children.

CIRCUITEER.

"Nothing came up. Do you suppose I planted the seeds upside down?"

DIET AND HEALTH

Gives Common-Sense Facts About National Nutrition

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
AFTER ALL that has been said, written and propagandized about the state of the national nutrition, it is a relief to have a book by Dr. Morris Fishbein, "The National Nutrition," which gives us some common-sense facts.

Examination of the men who were rejected under the Selective Service showed that less than a fraction of 1 per cent of them were underweight, but a number of them were rejected because they had evidences in their bodies of dietetic and nutritional errors which occurred when they were young.

Surveys made in 1936 and 1937 showed that 34 of the families in the United States had diets rated as good, 1/2 were rated as fair and the rest were rated as poor. This does not necessarily mean, however, according to Dr. Fishbein, that as a whole the national nutrition is in a very perilous state. He says: "When a Texas county reported according to Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator, that 'malnutrition has been a contributing cause in approximately 60 per cent of the deaths in this county for the past five years,' it was reporting a generalization and not an established fact.

"No doubt," he continues, "all of us have some malnutrition. I doubt that anyone subsists long on a perfect diet. The human being is not constituted to live on a perfect diet. His mind makes him partake of innumerable follies in the selection of food. He is cursed with appetites. There are fat people who are malnourished."

What all of this does mean is that we must continue to take care of the national nutrition in a common sense way. I believe that in respect of the stimulus of wartime, the improvement in our national nutrition in the last 20 years has been more remarkable than that exhibited by any peoples who have lived.

Food for Energy

We need foods that contain energy and those are either starch or fat foods, foods that contain vitamins and minerals and this includes milk, eggs, vegetables, cheese and cereals, and we need meat to furnish us material that is not present in any other food.

There is probably more prejudice against the use of meat than any other single article of food. This may be a throw-back from a very early state of man. Ethnologists suggest that man at first lived on a vegetable diet because he could obtain it easily. Meat was on the hoof and in motion. As soon as he began to try to get meat he came into competition with carnivorous animals. According to Furnas, primitive man obtained his first meat by following sick or crippled animals until they were no longer able to fight.

Charles Lamb, who did not pose as an ethnologist, had somewhat the same theory about man's first acquaintance with roast pork.

According to an eminent nutritional expert, the following is a weekly grocery order for a family of three or four, including the essentials that the family must have to remain healthy:

Milk, 10 to 14 quarts; eggs, 6; bread, 14 to 18 loaves; rice, macaroni and other cereals, 3 to 6 pounds; potatoes, 15 to 20 pounds; beans and peas, 1 or 2 pounds; other vegetables, 4 to 7 pounds; fruit, 3 pounds; tomatoes (canned), 2 to 3 pounds; fresh fruit, prunes, dried fruits, occasionally; meat, fish and cheese, 1 to 5 pounds; butter, lard and oleomargarine, 2 pounds; sugar, sweets, seasoning and cocoa, 3 pounds.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. M.:—About six years ago I had an attack of hives which was brought on by such foods as orange juice, eggs, asparagus, etc. A diet of starches eliminated this entirely until just recently when it has started again accompanied by severe attacks of hay fever. Could the two be associated in any way?

Answer: Yes. Hives are caused by a very large number of substances. There are more things that cause hives than any other allergic condition. They can be caused by plants, and since you have hay fever at the same time, it is possible that both the hives and the hay fever are caused by exposure to some plant.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clending has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clending, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

On Saturday morning Dian opened her eyes to behold a perfect day—a day that was all green and silver beneath a cloudless dome of soft blue. And she was strangely disappointed. She had gone to bed the night before, after an entire day at the farm, actually hoping that Saturday would be a day of rain and general disagreeableness. But it wasn't like that at all. It was a day especially made for picnics—and the birds were singing away as though there wasn't a thing wrong in the whole wide world. And maybe they were right. Maybe she was the only thing that was wrong.

She turned away from the window where she had gone to have a look at the weather, and found herself wishing that even now something would happen to make the picnic an impossibility. She dreaded it with every fiber of her being. She was utterly fed up with being one of Claire Lester's foursome.

But nothing did happen, and by the time she had showered, dressed and had her breakfast, she knew that she would have to go through with it. Besides, Claire was counting on Betsy to take them out to the lake, since Betsy was a roomy old car, and permitted the carrying of such things as picnic hampers, bathing paraphernalia, a bag of charcoal for broiling out-of-doors, and the making of coffee—also blankets to spread out upon the narrow strip of beach.

"We'll have the boys row us out to the little island in the middle of the lake," Claire had said the evening before, when telephoning to discuss final plans. "It'll be fun pretending we've been cast ashore from a wrecked ship."

"Yes, heaps of fun," said Dian without enthusiasm. "I suppose the island will be the setting for your final test—the last act, so to speak, of the comedy drama you've been playing."

"Perhaps," said Claire. "But you needn't take that tone. What's the matter with you anyway, Dian?"

"Nothing at all. Why?"

"You sound as though you'd soured on the whole world."

"Goodness! What a thing to say! I'm just tired, that's all. I spent hours looking over books out at the farm—and what I need's a good night's rest."

"Well, I certainly hope you get it," said Claire, none too pleasantly. "A picnic's no place for a grouch. What time will you stop to pick me up?"

"Around nine-thirty. I'll stop at the inn first and get Bill and Paul. That all right with you?"

"Yes—only don't be here before nine-thirty."

And now it was morning—the day of the picnic—and Dian was loading her stuff into the car. A cat rubbed against her ankles now and then, and a perky little hen kept begging for something to eat.

Dian tossed her a piece of toast upon which she had been nibbling. "Now," she said, "go lay an egg!"

Miss Martha came out. Dian watched her cross the yard, and wondered if she imagined that her aunt walked with a new sprightliness. Anyway, she certainly looked sort of different. Could Jerome's

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

JEROME STEPPED closer to Miss Martha, and Dian couldn't help but see them, since the street light threw a bar of silver across the porch floor. "Anyway, Martha, I saw you in a new light tonight."

"What on earth are you driving at, Jerome?"

"I mean, I saw that you're ornamental."

"Me? At my age!"

"Age has nothing to do with it. Besides, I'm far from young myself. I reckon maybe I am a bit too old for Dian."

"Shucks! A girl like Dian needs an older man to look after her."

"How about you?" said Jerome softly. "Don't you need someone to look after you?"

"Fiddlesticks! I've been looking after myself all this time, so I reckon I can go on."

"Maybe," said Jerome. Then he pulled Miss Martha toward him and kissed her.

"Well!" Miss Martha said explosively. "Well, of all things!"

"Don't be mad, Martha," said Jerome, his voice shaking. "I—I couldn't help it."

"Now I know you're saving, stark crazy!" Miss Martha said. Jerome looked at her for a moment, and then he walked down the steps.

Romance Thumbs a Ride
by ALLEN EPPES
RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

JEROME STEPPED closer to Miss Martha, and Dian couldn't help but see them, since the street light threw a bar of silver across the porch floor. "Anyway, Martha, I saw you in a new light tonight."

"What on earth are you driving at, Jerome?"

"I mean, I saw that you're ornamental."

"Me? At my age!"

"Age has nothing to do with it. Besides, I'm far from young myself. I reckon maybe I am a bit too old for Dian."

"Shucks! A girl like Dian needs an older man to look after her."

"How about you?" said Jerome softly. "Don't you need someone to look after you?"

"Fiddlesticks! I've been looking after myself all this time, so I reckon I can go on."

"Maybe," said Jerome. Then he pulled Miss Martha toward him and kissed her.

"Well!" Miss Martha said explosively. "Well, of all things!"

"Don't be mad, Martha," said Jerome, his voice shaking. "I—I couldn't help it."

"Now I know you're saving, stark crazy!" Miss Martha said. Jerome looked at her for a moment, and then he walked down the steps.

"Good night," he called back. "I've certainly got a lot of thinking to do—after that kiss."

"Well—I never!" said Miss Martha. She turned quickly, found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went on into the house.

Dian did not move. She sat there in the porchswing feeling a bit stunned. It took her some little time to get hold of herself. When she did, she smiled somewhat wryly, and thought: "I lost Fred, and now darned if it doesn't look like I've lost Jerome." She also found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went into the house. Quietly, she didn't want her Aunt Martha to hear her. She wanted to get to her room and into bed. She couldn't bear the idea of having to talk to anyone.

On Saturday morning Dian opened her eyes to behold a perfect day—a day that was all green and silver beneath a cloudless dome of soft blue. And she was strangely disappointed. She had gone to bed the night before, after an entire day at the farm, actually hoping that Saturday would be a day of rain and general disagreeableness. But it wasn't like that at all. It was a day especially made for picnics—and the birds were singing away as though there wasn't a thing wrong in the whole wide world. And maybe they were right. Maybe she was the only thing that was wrong.

She turned away from the window where she had gone to have a look at the weather, and found herself wishing that even now something would happen to make the picnic an impossibility. She dreaded it with every fiber of her being. She was utterly fed up with being one of Claire Lester's foursome.

But nothing did happen, and by the time she had showered, dressed and had her breakfast, she knew that she would have to go through with it. Besides, Claire was counting on Betsy to take them out to the lake, since Betsy was a roomy old car, and permitted the carrying of such things as picnic hampers, bathing paraphernalia, a bag of charcoal for broiling out-of-doors, and the making of coffee—also blankets to spread out upon the narrow strip of beach.

"We'll have the boys row us out to the little island in the middle of the lake," Claire had said the evening before, when telephoning to discuss final plans. "It'll be fun pretending we've been cast ashore from a wrecked ship."

"Yes, heaps of fun," said Dian without enthusiasm. "I suppose the island will be the setting for your final test—the last act, so to speak, of the comedy drama you've been playing."

"Perhaps," said Claire. "But you needn't take that tone. What's the matter with you anyway, Dian?"

"Nothing at all. Why?"

"You sound as though you'd soured on the whole world."

"Goodness! What a thing to say! I'm just tired, that's all. I spent hours looking over books out at the farm—and what I need's a good night's rest."

"Well, I certainly hope you get it," said Claire, none too pleasantly. "A picnic's no place for a grouch. What time will you stop to pick me up?"

"Around nine-thirty. I'll stop at the inn first and get Bill and Paul. That all right with you?"

"Yes—only don't be here before nine-thirty."

And now it was morning—the day of the picnic—and Dian was loading her stuff into the car. A cat rubbed against her ankles now and then, and a perky little hen kept begging for something to eat.

Dian tossed her a piece of toast upon which she had been nibbling. "Now," she said, "go lay an egg!"

Miss Martha came out. Dian watched her cross the yard, and wondered if she imagined that her aunt walked with a new sprightliness. Anyway, she certainly looked sort of different. Could Jerome's

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

JEROME STEPPED closer to Miss Martha, and Dian couldn't help but see them, since the street light threw a bar of silver across the porch floor. "Anyway, Martha, I saw you in a new light tonight."

"What on earth are you driving at, Jerome?"

"I mean, I saw that you're ornamental."

"Me? At my age!"

"Age has nothing to do with it. Besides, I'm far from young myself. I reckon maybe I am a bit too old for Dian."

"Shucks! A girl like Dian needs an older man to look after her."

"How about you?" said Jerome softly. "Don't you need someone to look after you?"

"Fiddlesticks! I've been looking after myself all this time, so I reckon I can go on."

"Maybe," said Jerome. Then he pulled Miss Martha toward him and kissed her.

"Well!" Miss Martha said explosively. "Well, of all things!"

"Don't be mad, Martha," said Jerome, his voice shaking. "I—I couldn't help it."

"Now I know you're saving, stark crazy!" Miss Martha said. Jerome looked at her for a moment, and then he walked down the steps.

"Good night," he called back. "I've certainly got a lot of thinking to do—after that kiss."

"Well—I never!" said Miss Martha. She turned quickly, found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went on into the house.

Dian did not move. She sat there in the porchswing feeling a bit stunned. It took her some little time to get hold of herself. When she did, she smiled somewhat wryly, and thought: "I lost Fred, and now darned if it doesn't look like I've lost Jerome." She also found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went into the house. Quietly, she didn't want her Aunt Martha to hear her. She wanted to get to her room and into bed. She couldn't bear the idea of having to talk to anyone.

On Saturday morning Dian opened her eyes to behold a perfect day—a day that was all green and silver beneath a cloudless dome of soft blue. And she was strangely disappointed. She had gone to bed the night before, after an entire day at the farm, actually hoping that Saturday would be a day of rain and general disagreeableness. But it wasn't like that at all. It was a day especially made for picnics—and the birds were singing away as though there wasn't a thing wrong in the whole wide world. And maybe they were right. Maybe she was the only thing that was wrong.

She turned away from the window where she had gone to have a look at the weather, and found herself wishing that even now something would happen to make the picnic an impossibility. She dreaded it with every fiber of her being. She was utterly fed up with being one of Claire Lester's foursome.

But nothing did happen, and by the time she had showered, dressed and had her breakfast, she knew that she would have to go through with it. Besides, Claire was counting on Betsy to take them out to the lake, since Betsy was a roomy old car, and permitted the carrying of such things as picnic hampers, bathing paraphernalia, a bag of charcoal for broiling out-of-doors, and the making of coffee—also blankets to spread out upon the narrow strip of beach.

"We'll have the boys row us out to the little island in the middle of the lake," Claire had said the evening before, when telephoning to discuss final plans. "It'll be fun pretending we've been cast ashore from a wrecked ship."

"Yes, heaps of fun," said Dian without enthusiasm. "I suppose the island will be the setting for your final test—the last act, so to speak, of the comedy drama you've been playing."

"Perhaps," said Claire. "But you needn't take that tone. What's the matter with you anyway, Dian?"

"Nothing at all. Why?"

"You sound as though you'd soured on the whole world."

"Goodness! What a thing to say! I'm just tired, that's all. I spent hours looking over books out at the farm—and what I need's a good night's rest."

"Well, I certainly hope you get it," said Claire, none too pleasantly. "A picnic's no place for a grouch. What time will you stop to pick me up?"

"Around nine-thirty. I'll stop at the inn first and get Bill and Paul. That all right with you?"

"Yes—only don't be here before nine-thirty."

And now it was morning—the day of the picnic—and Dian was loading her stuff into the car. A cat rubbed against her ankles now and then, and a perky little hen kept begging for something to eat.

Dian tossed her a piece of toast upon which she had been nibbling. "Now," she said, "go lay an egg!"

Miss Martha came out. Dian watched her cross the yard, and wondered if she imagined that her aunt walked with a new sprightliness. Anyway, she certainly looked sort of different. Could Jerome's

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

JEROME STEPPED closer to Miss Martha, and Dian couldn't help but see them, since the street light threw a bar of silver across the porch floor. "Anyway, Martha, I saw you in a new light tonight."

"What on earth are you driving at, Jerome?"

"I mean, I saw that you're ornamental."

"Me? At my age!"

"Age has nothing to do with it. Besides, I'm far from young myself. I reckon maybe I am a bit too old for Dian."

"Shucks! A girl like Dian needs an older man to look after her."

"How about you?" said Jerome softly. "Don't you need someone to look after you?"

"Fiddlesticks! I've been looking after myself all this time, so I reckon I can go on."

"Maybe," said Jerome. Then he pulled Miss Martha toward him and kissed her.

"Well!" Miss Martha said explosively. "Well, of all things!"

"Don't be mad, Martha," said Jerome, his voice shaking. "I—I couldn't help it."

"Now I know you're saving, stark crazy!" Miss Martha said. Jerome looked at her for a moment, and then he walked down the steps.

"Good night," he called back. "I've certainly got a lot of thinking to do—after that kiss."

"Well—I never!" said Miss Martha. She turned quickly, found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went on into the house.

Dian did not move. She sat there in the porchswing feeling a bit stunned. It took her some little time to get hold of herself. When she did, she smiled somewhat wryly, and thought: "I lost Fred, and now darned if it doesn't look like I've lost Jerome." She also found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went into the house. Quietly, she didn't want her Aunt Martha to hear her. She wanted to get to her room and into bed. She couldn't bear the idea of having to talk to anyone.

On Saturday morning Dian opened her eyes to behold a perfect day—a day that was all green and silver beneath a cloudless dome of soft blue. And she was strangely disappointed. She had gone to bed the night before, after an entire day at the farm, actually hoping that Saturday would be a day of rain and general disagreeableness. But it wasn't like that at all. It was a day especially made for picnics—and the birds were singing away as though there wasn't a thing wrong in the whole wide world. And maybe they were right. Maybe she was the only thing that was wrong.

She turned away from the window where she had gone to have a look at the weather, and found herself wishing that even now something would happen to make the picnic an impossibility. She dreaded it with every fiber of her being. She was utterly fed up with being one of Claire Lester's foursome.

But nothing did happen, and by the time she had showered, dressed and had her breakfast, she knew that she would have to go through with it. Besides, Claire was counting on Betsy to take them out to the lake, since Betsy was a roomy old car, and permitted the carrying of such things as picnic hampers, bathing paraphernalia, a bag of charcoal for broiling out-of-doors, and the making of coffee—also blankets to spread out upon the narrow strip of beach.

"We'll have the boys row us out to the little island in the middle of the lake," Claire had said the evening before, when telephoning to discuss final plans. "It'll be fun pretending we've been cast ashore from a wrecked ship."

"Yes, heaps of fun," said Dian without enthusiasm. "I suppose the island will be the setting for your final test—the last act, so to speak, of the comedy drama you've been playing."

"Perhaps," said Claire. "But you needn't take that tone. What's the matter with you anyway, Dian?"

"Nothing at all. Why?"

"You sound as though you'd soured on the whole world."

The Circleville Herald
Consolidation of The Circleville Herald, Established 1883, and the Daily Union-Herald, established 1894.

Published Evenings Except Sunday by
THE CIRCLEVILLE PUBLISHING COMPANY
210 North Court Street, Circleville

T. E. WILSON Publisher

Member Ohio Newspaper Association, International News Service, Central Press Association, and the Ohio Select List.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
JOHN W. CULLEN COMPANY
230 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago; 630 Fifth Avenue, New York; 3044 N. Grand Blvd., Detroit.

SUBSCRIPTION
By carrier in Circleville, 18c per week. By mail Pickaway County and Circleville trading territory, per year, $4 in advance; Zones one and two, $5 per year in advance; beyond first and second postal zones, per year, $6.00 in advance.

Entered at Postoffice at Circleville, Ohio, as Second Class Matter.

OPEN LETTERS

TO PARENTS AND FRIENDS OF BOYS IN SERVICE

ALL: Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce this week started on a project that is an important one for all of us. The Jaycees have mailed letters to parents of all men in Uncle Sam's service asking that pictures of the boys be sent to them so the photographs can be placed in a collection. This collection will be put on display in a prominent business district location so that every one can pay respects to the men who are giving their all in the war effort. I can promise you that the photographs will be well cared for. They will not be damaged by the Jaycees and they will be returned at the end of the struggle. Many cities and towns throughout the nation have carried out this project with much success. Parents and friends of the several hundred men in the armed services have cooperated splendidly wherever the program has been tried, and there isn't any reason why the undertaking should not become a success in Circleville and Pickaway county. Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are to be commended for embarking on this program, and I hope that they succeed in obtaining the picture of every local youth who is serving his flag.

CIRCUITEER.

TO 4-H CLUBS

YOUTHS: Monday, many of you will attend an annual encampment of rural people from six central Ohio communities at the Ross-Hocking camp site. An interesting program has been outlined for the period and the courses in handicraft and other features should attract a great deal of interest. Many men have spent much effort to make the annual affair an interesting one and this year assures the capacity group many educational and interesting discussions as well as projects.

CIRCUITEER.

TO DRAFT BOARD MEMBERS: All of us have a slight idea concerning what your work consists of, but very few of us know anything at all about the numerous difficult problems you are called on to decide. I, for one, believe that the Pickaway county draft board has done a splendid job. I know, and so do members of your board, that every one of your decisions must not have been the correct one. But it is certain that each and every decision you have issued has been based on good and careful judgment. Your first job is to fill your quotas, regard-

WORLD AT A GLANCE —By Charles P. Stewart

THIS YEAR'S election is a simple enough proposition. Only senators and representatives' seats are at stake. Candidates haven't been very vocal on the stump. They've been too generally detained in Washington to get out and campaign. Also there has been a good deal of resentment in congress concerning the bitterness with which the lawmakers' war-time legislation has been criticized. Illustratively, in a Washington newspaper the other day I read a "letter to the editor," from one of the publication's readers who tells of the tremendous clean-up he thinks he could have made already "if we had a wide-awake government."

By government he means the legislative end of it, for he adds, "But our congress consists of a lot of rusty politicians, who know as little about war as about thrift or economy and prefer to spend billions on ridiculous boondoggles."

Such comment, of which there's plenty, isn't calculated to guarantee a friendly contest at the polls. If there's a bunch of "rusty politicians" on Capitol Hill, it makes them particularly sore, because their contention is that the works, in so far as they've been gummed, from Uncle Sam's angle, have been executive, not legislative, gummed.

Hence it's a mean congressional campaign.

Still, it's only normally mean. The 1940 campaign was presidentially mean on account of the third term issue.

Still, it slid across with a reasonable degree of harmony. Results showed that the public accepted the emergency as justifying disregard of a national anti-third-term precedent, and there was no violent holler contrivance.

This year, even if there's ugliness, no precedent's involved. But suppose the war's still raging in 1944!

Or suppose the war's over but a heck of an economic crisis is on hand!

How about a fourth term in the White House?

If that question isn't asked, it's poor guessing.

Three terms, as an exception, passed muster. But would four of 'em?

Politicians won't discuss it as a possibility. Democrats won't do it, because the idea scares 'em. Republican won't, because they're afraid of being accused of present-day anti-administration sympathies. Dozens of 'em are confidentially putting the problem to one another, though.

Say the war ends before early 1944. Okay, that'll be the answer. Say the United Nations will have won by then, and our own economies have been slicked up by then. Okay, aico.

But say the muck is still rampant, with the outcome dependent upon United National 100 per cent solidarity. If the Axis has us and our associates on the run by that time, as it has, to a certain extent, at present, there's no telling. But if we and the rest of the aggregation seem to be just on the verge of scoring near-victory or POSSIBLE victory, then what?

A Tough Decision

Will we want to turn over the boss-ship of our job to a new administration?

And yet, if we don't—

Four terms in the presidential office!

Who'd be discussed as a Roosevelt rival?

Wendell Willkie's most frequently mentioned.

I don't know why he should be. He is, though.

Anyway, the idea of a 16-year president isn't dismissed as an impossibility in Washington—and the suggestion's made that 16 years might run on into indefinite perpetuity.

It would depend upon subsequent circumstances.

There even is speculation as to who President Roosevelt's inheritor should be. It might be Willkie, if in a hurry, but later?

A Roosevelt descendant or whom?

You can't tell, these times.

less of whether single men or married men are called to fill them. When your available unmarried men are gone, you have to call in married men and that is about all there is to it, regardless of what national director, Congress, or anyone else announces concerning who shall go first. You are doing a fine job despite the many difficulties faced and the many problems you are called on to consider.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CYCLISTS

RIDERS: Rationing of tires is bringing the bicycle into greater use, particularly on the part of adults. The number of bicycles in use throughout the country has increased more than a million since 1940 and undoubtedly will increase still more in the future. In all, there are now some 9,000,000 bicycle owners in the United States. Local pedalers are reminded that bicycles are subject to the same regulations as motor vehicles in so far as practicable in the Uniform Traffic Act for Ohio. All bicycles are required by state law to be equipped with an adequate brake as well as with a bell or horn capable of being heard at a distance of at least 100 feet but not with a siren or whistle. If used at night all bicycles must be equipped with a white light in front and a red light in the rear, both visible at least 500 feet. As an aid to safe bicycling Chief W. F. McCrady suggests the following rules for bike riders:

1. Obey all traffic laws, signs and signals.
2. Ride with traffic. Keep to the right and close to the curb or side of the roadway.
3. Keep both hands on the handlebars except to signal.
4. When possible avoid busy streets or highways.
5. Do not leave a driveway or cross an intersection without looking both ways to make sure of being safe.
6. Look out for cars pulling from parking places.
7. Do not play riding games on streets or highways.
8. Unless necessary do not ride in foggy weather or on slippery streets.
9. Be alert for traffic in all directions.
10. Always keep your bicycle in good mechanical condition.

CIRCUITEER.

TO LANDLORDS

ALL: "Were city landlords never children themselves?" asks a despairing father newly come to this fair city, and unable to find a dwelling for his wife and two children. "I thought we were fighting this war to defend, among other things, our concept of family life. But I am beginning to think that families are not wanted any more. Or maybe I just don't like the city, but he can't stay here without the children being small to start with." It isn't merely a lack of housing, he says. He finds plenty of places that he could afford, and that would suit his family. But always the landlord refuses to rent because of the children. Those children, presumably, are no worse than any others. They have to live somewhere. Their father is needed in the city, but he can't stay here without his family. It is astonishing how many such cases there are. If landlords do not change their attitude, the government will have to step in and safeguard family life in war time by relaxing the boycott against children.

CIRCUITEER.

"Nothing came up. Do you suppose I planted the seeds upside down?"

DIET AND HEALTH

Gives Common-Sense Facts About National Nutrition

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

AFTER ALL that has been said, written and propagated about the state of the national nutrition, it is a relief to have a book by Dr. Morris Fishbein, "The National Nutrition," which gives us some common-sense facts.

Examination of the men who were rejected under the Selective Service showed that less than a fraction of 1 per cent of them were underweight, but a number of them were rejected because they had evidences in their bodies of dietetic and nutritional errors which occurred when they were young.

Surveys made in 1936 and 1937 showed that 1/4 of the families in the United States had diets rated as good, 1/2 were rated as fair and the rest were rated as poor. This does not necessarily mean, however, according to Dr. Fishbein, that as a whole the national nutrition is in a very perilous state. He says: "When a Texas county reported, according to Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator, that 'malnutrition has been a contributing cause in approximately 60 per cent of the deaths in this county for the past five years,' it was reporting a generalization and not an established fact.

"No doubt," he continues, "all of us have some malnutrition. I doubt that anyone subsists long on a perfect diet. The human being is not constituted to live on a perfect diet. His mind makes him partake of innumerable follies in the selection of food. He is cursed with appetites. There are fat people who are malnourished."

What all of this does mean is that we must continue to take care of the national nutrition in a common sense way. I believe that in the perspective of the stimulus of war time, the improvement in our national nutrition in the last 20 years has been more remarkable than that exhibited by any peoples who have lived.

Food for Energy

We need foods that contain energy and those are either starch or fat foods, foods that contain vitamins and minerals and these include milk, eggs, vegetables, cheese and cereals, and we need meat to furnish us material that is not present in any other food.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Renner of Memphis, Tenn., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ulm, North Court street, and J. Ray Plum, Williamsport.

Approximately 1,500 Democrats, their families and friends attended an outing at Gold Cliff park sponsored by the Pickaway County Democratic club. Three hundred were entertained at a banquet at the Tavern.

25 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crist and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Crist and son, William, of North Court street left on a motor trip to Cleveland and Buffalo.

Mrs. Mary Dunlap, 97, Chillicothe's most venerable resident, tripped and fell on the street while on her way home from church. She was the mother of S. W. Dunlap and J. M. Dunlap of Circleville and N. J. Dunlap of Kirlington.

Neil Walker of the Signal Corps stationed at Delaware spent a short furlough with friends in Circleville.

10 YEARS AGO

The high mark of the year was recorded when 101 degrees were registered on the government thermometer, Dr. H. R. Clarke, weatherman, reported.

Committees were appointed and plans concerning the part Pickaway county was to play in the state fair pageant, "Washington Lives," were discussed at a meeting of representative groups at the farm bureau home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Noggle, West Union street, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Valentine, Salt Creek township, left for a 10-day vacation at Virginia Beach.

Romance Thumbs a Ride
by ALLEN EPPES

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

JEROME STEPPED closer to Miss Martha. And Diane couldn't help but see them, since the street light threw a bar of silver across the porch floor. "Anyway, Martha, I saw you in a new light tonight."

"What on earth are you driving at, Jerome?"

"I mean, I saw that you're ornamental."

"Me? At my age?"

"Age has nothing to do with it. Besides, I'm far from young myself. I reckon maybe I am a bit too old for Diane."

"Shucks! A girl like Diane needs an older man to look after her."

"How about you?" said Jerome softly. "Don't you need someone to look after you?"

"Fiddlesticks! I've been looking after myself all this time, so I reckon I can go on."

"Maybe," said Jerome. Then he pulled Miss Martha toward him and kissed her.

"Well!" Miss Martha said explosively. "Well, of all things!"

"Don't be mad, Martha," said Jerome, his voice shaking. "I—I—couldn't help it."

"Now I know you're raving, stark crazy!" Miss Martha said. Jerome looked at her for a moment, and then he walked down the steps.

"Good night," he called back. "I've certainly got a lot of thinking to do—after that kiss."

"Do—after that kiss?"

"Well—I never!" said Miss Martha.

She turned quickly, found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went on into the house.

Diane did not move. She sat there in the porchway feeling a bit stunned. It took her some little time to get hold of herself. When she did, she smiled somewhat wryly, and thought: "I lost Fred, and now I've lost Jerome. She also found her latchkey, unlocked the door and went into the house. Quietly, stealthily. She didn't want her Aunt Martha to hear her. She wanted to get to her room and into bed. She couldn't bear the idea of having to talk to anyone.

On Saturday morning Diane opened her eyes to behold a perfect day—a day that was all green and silver beneath a cloudless dome of soft blue. And she was strangely disappointed. She had gone to bed the night before, after an entire day at the farm, actually hoping that Saturday would be a day of rain and general disagreeableness. But it wasn't like that at all. It was a day especially made for picnics—and the birds were singing away as though there wasn't a thing wrong in the whole wide world. And maybe they were right. Maybe she was the only thing that was wrong.

She turned away from the window where she had gone to have a look at the weather, and found herself wishing that even now something would happen to make the picnic an impossibility. She dreaded it with every fiber of her being. She was utterly fed up with being one of Claire Lester's foursome.

But nothing did happen, and by the time she had showered, dressed and had her breakfast, she knew that she would have to go through with it. Besides, Claire was counting on Betsy to take them out to the lake, since Betsy was a roomy old car, and permitted the carrying of such things as picnic hampers, bathing paraphernalia, a bag of charcoal for broiling cut-of-dorrs, and the making of coffee—also blankets to spread out upon the narrow strip of beach.

"We'll have the boys row us out to the little island in the middle of the lake," Claire had said the evening before, when telephoning to discuss final plans. "It'll be fun pretending we've been cast ashore from a wrecked ship."

"Yes, heaps of fun," said Diane without enthusiasm. "I suppose the island will be the setting for your final test—the last act, so to speak, of the comedy drama you've been playing."

"Perhaps," said Claire. "But you needn't take that tone. What's the matter with you anyway, Diane?"

"Nothing at all. Why?"

"You sound as though you'd soured on the whole world."

"Goodness! What a thing to say! I'm just tired, that's all. I spent hours looking over books out at the farm—and what I need's a good night's rest."

"Well, I certainly hope you get it," said Claire, none too pleasantly. "A picnic's no place for a grouch. What time will you stop to pick me up?"

"Around nine-thirty. I'll stop at the inn first and get Bill and Paul. That all right with you?"

"Yes—only don't be here before nine-thirty."

And now it was morning—the day of the picnic—and Diane was loading her stuff into the car. A cat rubbed against her ankles now and then, and a perky little hen kept begging for something to eat. Diane tossed her a piece of toast upon which she had been nibbling. "Now," she said, "go lay an egg!"

Miss Martha came out. Diane watched her cross the yard, and wondered if she imagined that her aunt walked with a new sprightliness. Anyway, she certainly looked sort of different. Could Jerome's

GRAB BAG

One-Minute Test

1. What United States president said, "If you don't say anything, you won't be called on to repeat it?"

2. How old is dowager Queen Mary of England?

3. To what country did the Republic of Panama formerly belong?

Words of Wisdom

Resignation is putting God between ourselves and our troubles. —Mad. Swetchine.

Hints on Etiquette

When eating in a public place, or anywhere but at home, it is not correct to break crackers or bread into the soup.

Today's Horoscope

A sharp temper, fierce emotions and a vivid imagination are the salient traits of persons who have birthdays today. They should beware of praise and flattery, be more poised and level-headed. These persons have talent and ability, but should develop self-confidence. On the whole, a fortunate year is presaged for them. They should guard against deception in love or social matters. Pleasant financial surprises will be experienced by them. Born on this date a child will derive much help from old people and be successful; but sorrow through loss of relatives and friends may occasionally affect the health.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. Calvin Coolidge.
2. Seventy-five.
3. Colombia.

You're Telling Me!

AS THOUGH the weather wasn't fierce enough, Grandpappy Jenkins got into a hot football argument today.

Gandhi, we read, is down to 98 pounds but we understand the little fellow continues to throw his weight around.

Junior positively refuses to eat alphabet soup during Summer vacation. Says it reminds him of school.

Hunting and fishing. Factographs tell us, were man's first jobs. Some people, comments Zedek Dumbkopf, have a funny idea of what constitutes work.

Hitler, according to a correspondent, abhors going to the dentist. Probably reminds him too much of the Yanks.

According to an almanac just published Emperor Hirohito of Japan: will get into trouble next year. That's a little late. He got into trouble last December 7.

Factographs

Under the Chilean constitution (1925), the president is elected for six years, the 43 senators for eight, and 143 deputies for four, all by direct popular vote.

To meet the increased demands for glycerine, used in the manufacture of nitro-glycerine for the armed forces, the soap industry has both stepped up its production and adopted means of securing the largest yields of glycerine possible by the use of fatty acids separated from glycerides, rather than whole fats.

The use of critical materials in the manufacture of light bulbs

Wife Preservers

Keep your shoes in good repair. Save the heels straightened as often as necessary, and replace worn soles as soon as the outer sole wears through.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Noggle, West Union street, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Valentine, Salt Creek township, left for a 10-day vacation at Virginia Beach.

NOAH NUMSKULL

BOLE MUSIC BOOM!

DEAR NOAH—WOULD A FELLOW BE A HEEL IF HE PLAYED A SHEEL HORN? BOB WESTON U.S. NAVY

DEAR NOAH—WHAT SHOULD A COP DO IF A WOMAN WITH AN ARRESTING FIGURE PASSED BY? FLOYD STARR NEWTON, N.C.

STARS SAY—

For Friday, July 24

RATHER ANXIOUS and difficult situations are likely to develop on this day, according to the lunar aspects. With sound conservatism as well as some straight thinking these adverse circumstances may be successfully and happily composed. A brilliant idea or the introduction of an amiable, friendly and generous impulse may accomplish much, rather than a subtle or direct gesture.

Those whose birthday it is may convert menacing or uncertain situations into successful issues by clever, shrewd and sagacious management, and friendly approach rather than subtlety and finesse. It is possible that an elderly person or an old institution may prove a helpful intermediary.

A child born on this day should be fairly successful by its cleverness, stability and sincerity. Its friends will be found among the elderly, from whom should come benefits.

The climate of New Zealand ranges from the sub-tropical in the north to the mildly temperate in the south.

Highest Quality Motor Oil

2 Gallon Can

97c

Gordon's

Corner Main & Scioto Sts.

We Pay CASH For Horses $6-Cows $4

OF SIZE AND CONDITION
HOGS, SHEEP, CALVES and COLTS REMOVED

Quick Service CALL Clean Trucks

Phone 104 Reverse Charges—

Pickaway Fertilizer
A. Jones & Sons Circleville, O.

—: Social Happenings-Personals-News of Interest to Women :—

Mrs. John Boggs Hostess At Bridge And Luncheon

Contract Played By Club, Extra Guests

Lovely arrangements of Summer garden flowers made an attractive setting for the morning party and luncheon Thursday when Mrs. John Boggs, West Union street, entertained her contract bridge club. Mrs. Lemuel Weldon, Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Arthur L. Wilder were asked in addition to club members, Miss Margaret Boggs also playing a substitute hand.

Several rounds of bridge were enjoyed at three tables, club prizes for scores going to Mrs. George Littleton and Mrs. Orion King. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Weldon carried home bridge favors for scores among the guest players.

A delightful lunch was served at noon at the small tables. In addition to the club prize winners, members playing were Mrs. L. M. Mader, Mrs. G. I. Nickerson, Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger, Mrs. Harry Sohn, Mrs. E. T. Hedges and Mrs. W. Emerson Downing.

Robtown Aid

About 30 attended the annual picnic of the Robtown Ladies' Aid society held Thursday in Dewey's Grove. Several members of the Sunday school of the church were guests also.

Dinner was served at noon on tables under the trees and contests and games were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Mrs. Cecil Ward, president of the Aid society, headed the committee in charge of the arrangements.

The next meeting of the society will be August 13, the place to be announced later.

Class Picnic

About 12 members of the Sunday School class of the junior department of the Methodist church, taught by Miss Patty Owens, went to Gold Cliff park Thursday and enjoyed a swimming party.

A fine picnic supper was served at 6:30 p. m.

Thursday Outing

Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Davison, the Misses Florence Dunton, Mary Heffner and Win-

SOCIAL CALENDAR

FRIDAY
WASHINGTON GRANGE, Washington school, Friday at 8:30 p. m.

SUNDAY
LANMAN REUNION, GOLD Cliff park, Sunday.

TUESDAY
AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY picnic, Gold Cliff park, Tuesday at 6 p. m.
STAR GRANGE, MONROE school, Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.
SCIOTO VALLEY GRANGE, the grange hall, Tuesday at 9 p. m.

THURSDAY
W. C. T. U., HOME AND HOSPITAL, East Main street, Thursday, all-day session.

fred Parrett of Circleville enjoyed an outing Thursday at Buckeye Lake where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Roebuck of West Franklin street who have a cottage there for the week.

W.C.T.U.

Circleville Women's Christian Temperance Union will entertain the ladies of the Home and Hospital at dinner Thursday, July 30, when it holds its monthly session at the home on East Main street. The all-day session will begin at 10:45 a. m.

Members are requested to take a covered dish, sandwiches and their own table service for the dinner.

U. B. Aid

Ladies' Aid society of the United Brethren church will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. in the community house.

Miss Barbara Stevenson has returned to her home in Cincinnati after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Stevenson and family of Wayne township.

Mrs. Charles G. Shulze, 316 South Court street, went to Detroit, Mich., Friday for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Breen, and daughters and other relatives.

JOAN CRAWFORD, ACTOR ARE WED

Film Star Joan Crawford, above, and Phillip Terry, inset, youthful Hollywood actor, surprised the film colony with their sudden marriage in Hidden Valley, Cal. Miss Crawford is the former wife of Actors Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Franchot Tone.

Church Lawn Fete Draws Big Crowd

A highly successful lawn fete was staged Thursday by the congregation of St. Joseph's Catholic church under the leadership of the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Reidy. Several hundred persons visited the church affair beginning at 5 p. m. and continuing through the late evening hours.

Lunch was served throughout the evening at tables on the west side of the church lawn under the supervision of Miss Mary McKenzie, Mrs. John Carle, Mrs. Ralph Head, Mrs. Forrest Short, Mrs. J. C. Rader and Mrs. G. D. Bradley, many of the other women of the church assisting the members of the general committee.

Booths for the sale of miscellaneous articles, groceries and soft drinks were arranged along east side of the lawn and many games with appeal for young and old were in play during the pleasant evening.

The miscellaneous booth was in charge of Mrs. Tom Lake, Miss Marie Morshauer and Mrs. Doyle Haas with others assisting.

Mrs. Joe Burns, Mrs. Harvey Dresbach, Miss Eleanor Snyder and Miss Ruth Morris supervised the serving of the lunch and were assisted by other women of the church.

The grocery store was in charge of Mrs. Mark Armstrong, Mrs. Don Mason, Mrs. Fred Roundhouse and Miss Henrietta Stocklen. Soft drinks were sold by a group headed by Don Goeller.

Publicity for the lawn fete was handled by Miss Anna Shea and Mrs. Allen Thornton, and Mrs. Charles G. Shulze and Mrs. Mark Howell were in charge of the finances.

A. J. Anders, Everett Stocklen and Eugene Smith of Circleville, Frank Gleisner, Darbyville and George Elsas, Chillicothe, supervised the many games. Lewis Friend was in charge of the ring tossing and Jack Hale and Mark Howell, the baseball game.

Everett Stocklen also arranged the lighting for the occasion.

Father Reidy hopes to announce Sunday the proceeds of the event which was enjoyed by a representative gathering of the people of the city.

The money gained through the lawn party will help pay the expense of remodeling the parochial school building into the modern community house which is now being freely used by members of all congregations of Circleville.

Mrs. Anna Ritt of West Union street and her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, of Athens are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seyford Betz and children of Fort Wayne, Ind. They were accompanied to Van Wert, O., by Miss Mary Curtin of South Scioto street who is visiting.

ing Miss Beverly Saunders, formerly of Circleville.

Mrs. Helen C. Stout of 217 West Mill street had for her guests Thursday evening Miss Margaret Cummins, Miss Ruth and Miss Peggy Hedges, Bobby Hedges and Bob Cull of Columbus. They also attended the lawn fete at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hughes of Washington D. C. are spending a 10-day vacation with friends and relatives in Williamsport, Atlanta and Chillicothe. They are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fitch, Chillicothe, parents of Mrs. Hughes.

Miss Marcella Meyer, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Meyer of Williamsport, has accepted a teaching position in Marysville schools. Miss Meyer, who was graduated in June from Ohio State university, will teach physical education.

James Long of New York City is spending a month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deffenbaugh and daughter, Anna Ruth, of East Main street.

The Misses Frances Yeager, Rosemary Yeager and Clara Yeager of Chillicothe were Thursday visitors at the home of Miss Ruth Morris of Saltcreek township.

Miss Clara Bradley of Washington, D. C., is spending two weeks at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Bradley, of Pickaway township.

Mrs. Arnold Reichelderfer of Tarlton visited Thursday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Leist, of Walnut street.

Mrs. Don Morris and daughter, Nancy, of Chillicothe are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Groom and daughter, Frances, of Park place.

Mrs. John Malover and Miss Caroline Malover of Cleveland are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Susa of North Court street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Huber of Troy have returned to their home after a short visit with friends of the Circleville community.

Mrs. Edgar DeLong and daughter of Saltcreek township were Thursday shoppers in Circleville.

Mrs. Charles Noble and Mrs.

On The Air

FRIDAY
Evening
6:00 Sports, WING.
6:15 Hodge Hopper, WBNS.
6:30 Lum and Abner, WLW.
6:45 Lowell Thomas, WLW; The World Today, WHIO.
7:00 Fred W. Waring, WLW; Fulton Lewis Jr., WHKC; Amos 'n' Andy, WHIO.
7:15 Dear John, WHIO; Johnson Family, WHKC.
7:45 H. V. Kaltenborn, WLW.
8:00 Service, Concert, KDKA; Lewishorn, Concert, WHIO.
8:15 Dan Kerton, WHKC.
8:30 Information Please, WLW.
9:00 Playhouse, WHIO; Walt Time, WLW; Gang Busters, WCOL.
9:30 Dinah Shore, WHKC; Double or Nothing, WKRC; That Brewster Boy, WHIO; Plantation Party, WLW.
10:00 Meet Your Navy, WCOL; Caravan, WBNS.
10:30 Jimmy Joy, WHKC.
11:00 News, WHIO.
11:45 Duke Ellington, WING.
12:00 Tommy Tucker, WKRC; Richard Himber, WCOL; News, WLW.

SATURDAY
Morning
7:30 News, WKRC.
8:30 Dancing Stripes, WHIO.
9:00 Breakfast Club, WCOL.
10:00 Navy Band, WCOL.
10:30 Dancing Preview, WLW.
10:45 Let's Pretend, WCHS.
11:00 Service Men Hop, WING.
11:30 Little Blue Playhouse, WLW; Let's Pretend, WCHS.
Afternoon
12:00 Theatre of Today, WCHS.
12:30 Golden Melodies, WING.
1:00 Vincent-Lopez, WCOL.
1:45 Rudy Bundy, WHKC.
2:00 Fantasy in Melody, WING.
2:30 School of the Air, WHKC.
2:45 Matinee in Rhythm, WLW.
3:00 F. O. R. Detroit, WBNS.
4:00 Club Matinee, WING.
4:45 Feature Race, WHKC.
5:00 Concert Orchestra, WLW.
5:30 Stan Kerton, WCHS.
Evening
6:15 Sports, WKRC.
6:45 The World Today, WHIO.
7:00 The People's Platform, WHIO; Baseball Roundup, WKRC.
7:30 Billie, the Teller, WHIO.
8:30 Green Harnet, WCOL; Bob Crosby, WHKC; Velvet Music, KDKA.
9:00 Summer Symphony, WCOL; Hit Parade, WHIO; Barn Dance, WLW.
9:45 Saturday Night Serenade, WHAS.
10:00 John Hughes, WHKC.
10:30 Grand Ole Opera, WING.
11:00 Duke Ellington, WING.
11:15 Claude Terrell, WCHS.
11:30 Dick Jurgens, WHIO.
11:45 Ray Heatherton, WING.
12:00 News, WLW.

a grave lack of control has been shown in publishing war songs with catch-lines which might easily be offensive to our Latin American compatriots. Lanny and his co-workers on the board will attempt to correct this situation by advising in the production of only positive, fighting war songs in keeping with our part in the struggle for freedom.

MARCH ORIGIN

Even less well known than John Philip Sousa's stirring "Freelance March" itself, revived for the radio public by John Nesbitt and Meredith Willson who are appearing on the Summer replacement for Fibber McGee and Molly, is the source from which it came. The famed march king also wrote two musical comedies, both of which had two-years run on Broadway. The "Freelance March" came from one of the stage successes by the same name.

FILM PLANNED

The film industry was quick to follow in the footsteps of radio when it was learned that the "Stage Door Canteen" was going on the air. Word coming from Hollywood today reveals that the movie version of the "Canteen's" story will be written by Delmer Daves, just signed by Sol Lesser, producer of the forthcoming picture.

RADIO BRIEFS

Most dialers know Hi Brown as a director. Hi, who guides "Inner Sanctum Mysteries" over the Blue network Sunday nights, is also an excellent script writer. He does the plots of "Green Valley, U. S. A.," a current Sunday CBS series which switches to Wednesday starting July 29 at 7:30 p. m.

New York is still getting its share of tourists despite curtailed train travel and gasoline shortage. How they get to town is not known but the majority of people in the audience at "Star Spangled Vaudeville" over NBC last Sunday were from the hinterlands.

ROSS NAMED

Radio Tenor Lanny Ross, currently starring in the Caravan Hour CBS, Fridays, 10 to 11 p. m. has been chosen to represent radio singers on a board composed of prominent figures in the music field which will act in an advisory capacity to the Office of War Information. It is generally felt by the music industry that it has failed to produce the militant, vigorous type of war song that the country's effort demands and that

Kenneth List and son, Donald, of near Williamsport were Thursday visitors in Circleville.

Mrs. John Wolford of Pickaway township was a Circleville visitor Thursday.

Mrs. Marie Walters and Mrs. Mary Jane Lightie of Five Points were Thursday shopping visitors in Circleville.

Mrs. George Hitler of Washington township was a Thursday shopper in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes and daughter, Nancy, of Columbus spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. N. G. Spangler of West High street.

Mrs. H. G. Bausum of Little Walnut was a Circleville visitor Thursday.

Miss Mary Ellen Byers of New Holland was a Thursday shopping visitor in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Millar of near Ashville were business visitors in Circleville Thursday.

Mrs. Jesse Hildenbrand, Pickaway township, was a Thursday shopping visitor in Circleville.

Miss Harriet Morris of Saltcreek township is spending a two-week vacation at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

GIFTS that don't stop giving

On any gift occasion, your enduring sentiment—your earnest wish to aid—can hardly be better expressed than with a handsome Sheaffer LIFETIME Feathertouch gift. It's striking when given, and it brings YOU to mind ever after... Sheaffer matched sets, $3.95 up.

L.M. BUTCHCO
Famous for Diamonds
BUY WAR BONDS TODAY

Fraturdays at 9:30 p. m., from Hollywood until December, is in daily conferences with picture officials at Warner Brothers studios and is expected shortly to sign a contract for a major musical picture for Fall production.

Harry W. Flannery this week begins a tour of west coast shipyards under the aegis of the U. S. Maritime Commission. The CBS commentator will tell defense workers about the Nazi production methods he observed during his year as a war correspondent in Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Kline of Columbus spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buzzard.

Private Arthur Beatty of Champaign field, Ill., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Beatty.

Mrs. Cecil Willoughby and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angles of Columbus.

Mrs. Mary Powell spent Friday in Columbus with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Downs and daughter, of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fullen and son Larry of Ashville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beatty.

WORDS OF THE WISE

A lie is a breach of promise; for whoever seriously addresses his discourse to another tacitly promises to speak the truth, because he knows that truth is expected.—(Paley)

VACATION SPECIAL!

Fine quality Overnight Bag fitted with Dresser Set. Regular price $7.00. Special Sale Price $4.80. BRUNNER'S

NEW LIST OF BERGER HOSPITAL PRICES EFFECTIVE JULY 25

Private room with bath $6.00 per day per person
Semi-private room with bath $5.00 per day per person
Semi-private room without bath $4.50 per day per person
Beds in wards $3.50 per day per person
For use of the operating room $10.00
For use of the delivery room $ 5.00
Care of newborn baby with mother $5.00 per week
For use of the emergency operating room $3.00 to $5.00
According to the exigency of the case.
The routine laboratory fee shall be $3.00 (in) $4.00 (out)

Johnson's Klean Floor Duster

FOR WALLS AND FLOOR
59¢
Rubber ferrule, can't scratch floors or furniture. A real mop at a very low price.

CRIST DEPT. STORE

LONESOME? PHONE "ESCORT GIRL"

"Cook Electrically"

Electric cooking is the one way to cook and keep cool. With an electric range there is no flame pouring out hot blasts of air into the kitchen. Tests show that after three hours of cooking on a hot summer day an electric kitchen will stay 10 to 15 degrees cooler than a kitchen with a flame type stove!

If you are not now enjoying cool Electric Cooking — invest your money in War Bonds and put an Electric Range on your "Victory" list.

Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Company
114 E. MAIN

Slim Blackout

THIS is a perfectly simple black wool jersey formal frock which has an elegant effect because of the graceful draping of the skirt fullness that details the model and conceals a slit to make walking or dancing easy. But the Hollywood designer who created the gown kicks up a little excitement to set off simplicity by tying a flock of brilliant lacings into the fabric of the left forearm sleeve. The ribbons which make the bowknots are cerise, yellow, turquoise, green, purple... and their ends are tipped with metal, like shoelaces. Long gloves of cerise rayon jersey are worn with the frock; the hat is made of black felt and black lace.

OFFICE HOURS:
Dr. D. S. Goldschmidt
Over J. C. Penney Co. Store
OPTOMETRIST

EYES EXAMINED GLASSES FITTED
Daily 9 to 5, Saturday 9 to 9
Evenings by Appointment—Phone 448.
121 1/2 W. Main St.
Over J. C. Penney Co. Store
OPTOMETRIST

—: Social Happenings-Personals-News of Interest to Women :—

Mrs. John Boggs Hostess
At Bridge And Luncheon

Contract Played
By Club, Extra
Guests

Lovely arrangements of Summer garden flowers made an attractive setting for the morning party and luncheon Thursday when Mrs. John Boggs, West Union street, entertained her contract bridge club. Mrs. Lemuel Weldon, Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Arthur L. Wilder were asked in addition to club members, Miss Margaret Boggs also playing a substitute hand.

Several rounds of bridge were enjoyed at three tables, club prizes for scores going to Mrs. George Littleton and Mrs. Orion King. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Weldon carried home bridge favors for scores among the guest players.

A delightful lunch was served at noon at the small tables.

In addition to the club prize winners, members playing were Mrs. L. M. Mader, Mrs. G. I. Nickerson, Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger, Mrs. Harry Sohn, Mrs. E. T. Hedges and Mrs. W. Emerson Downing.

Robtown Aid

About 30 attended the annual picnic of the Robtown Ladies' Aid society held Thursday in Dewey's Grove. Several members of the Sunday school of the church were guests also.

Dinner was served at noon on tables under the trees and contests and games were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Mrs. Cecil Ward, president of the Aid society, headed the committee in charge of the arrangements.

The next meeting of the society will be August 13, the place to be announced later.

Class Picnic

About 12 members of the Sunday School class of the junior department of the Methodist church, taught by Miss Patty Owens, went to Gold Cliff park Thursday and enjoyed a swimming party.

A fine picnic supper was served at 6:30 p. m.

Thursday Outing

Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Davison, the Misses Florence Dunton, Mary Heffner and Win-

Slim Blackout

THIS is a perfectly simple black wool jersey frock which has an elegant effect because of the graceful draping of the skirt fullness that details the model and conceals a slit to make walking or dancing easy.

But the Hollywood designer who created the gown kicks up a little excitement to set off simplicity by tying a flock of brilliant lacings into the fabric of the left forearm sleeve. The ribbons which make the bowknots are cerise, yellow, turquoise, green, purple . . . and their ends are tipped with metal, like shoelaces. Long gloves of cerise rayon jersey are worn with the frock; the hat is made of black felt and black lace.

JOAN CRAWFORD, ACTOR ARE WED

Film Star Joan Crawford, above, and Phillip Terry, inset, youthful Hollywood actor, surprised the film colony with their sudden marriage in Hidden Valley, Cal. Miss Crawford is the former wife of Actors Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Franchot Tone.

Church Lawn Fete
Draws Big Crowd

A highly successful lawn fete was staged Thursday by the congregation of St. Joseph's Catholic church under the leadership of the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Reidy. Several hundred persons visited the church affair beginning at 5 p. m. and continuing through the late evening hours.

Lunch was served throughout the evening at tables on the west side of the church lawn under the supervision of Miss Mary McKenzie, Mrs. John Carle, Mrs. Ralph Head, Mrs. Forrest Short, Mrs. J. C. Rader and Mrs. G. D. Bradley, many of the other women of the church assisting the members of the general committee.

Booths for the sale of miscellaneous articles, groceries and soft drinks were arranged along east side of the lawn and many games with appeal for young and old were in play during the pleasant evening.

The miscellaneous booth was in charge of Mrs. Tom Lake, Miss Marie Morshauer and Mrs. Doyle Haas with others assisting.

Mrs. Joe Burns, Mrs. Harvey Dresbach, Miss Eleanor Snyder and Miss Ruth Morris supervised the serving of the lunch and were assisted by other women of the church.

The grocery store was in charge of Mrs. Mark Armstrong, Mrs. Don Mason, Mrs. Fred Roundhouse and Miss Henrietta Stocklen. Soft drinks were sold by a group headed by Don Goeller.

Publicity for the lawn fete was handled by Miss Anna Shea and Mrs. Allen Thornton, and Mrs. Charles G. Shulze and Mrs. Mark Howell were in charge of the finances.

A. J. Anders, Everett Stocklen and Eugene Smith of Circleville, Frank Gleisner, Darbyville and George Elsass, Chillicothe, supervised the many games. Lewis Friend was in charge of the ring tossing and Jack Hale and Mark Howell, the baseball game.

Everett Stocklen also arranged the lighting for the occasion.

Father Reidy hopes to announce Sunday the proceeds of the event which was enjoyed by a representative gathering of the people of the city.

The money gained through the lawn party will help pay the expense of remodeling the parochial school building into the modern community house which is now being freely used by members of all congregations of Circleville.

Mrs. Anna Ritt of West Union street and her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, of Athens are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seyford Betz and children of Fort Wayne, Ind. They were accompanied by Van Wert, O., by Miss Mary Curtin of South Scioto street who is visit-

On The Air

FRIDAY
Evening
6:00 Sports, WING.
6:15 Radio Hopper, WBNS.
6:30 Lum and Abner, WLW.
6:45 Lowell Thomas, WLW; The World Today, WHIO.
7:00 Fred Waring, WLW; Fulton Lewis Jr., WHKC; Amos 'n' Andy, WHIO.
7:15 Dear John, WHIO; Johnson Family, WHIO.
7:45 H. V. Kaltenborn, WLW.
8:00 Service Concert, KDKA; Lewishohn Concert, WHIO.
8:15 Dan Kenton, WHKC.
8:30 Information Please, WLW.
9:00 Playhouse, WHIO; Waltz Time, WLW; Gang Busters, WCOL.
9:30 Dinah Shore, WHKC; Double or Nothing, WKRC; That Brewster Boy, WHIO; Plantation Party, WLW.
10:00 Meet Your Navy, WCOL; Caravan, WBNS.
10:30 Jimmy Joy, WHKC.
11:00 News, WHIO.
11:45 Duke Ellington, WING.
12:00 Tommy Tucker, WKRC; Richard Himber, WCOL; News, WLW.

SATURDAY
Morning
7:30 News, WKRC.
8:30 Dancing Strings, WHIO.
9:00 Breakfast Club, WCOL.
10:00 Navy Band, WLW.
10:30 Dancing Preview, WLW.
10:45 Red Cross Program, WHKC.
11:00 Service Men Hop, WING.
11:30 Little Blue Playhouse, WLW; Let's Pretend, WCHS.
12:00 Theatre of Today, WCHS.
12:30 Golden Melodies, WING.
1:30 Vincent Lombardi, WKRC.
1:45 Rudy Bundy, WHKC.
2:00 Fantasy in Melody, WING.
2:45 School of the Air, WHKC.
2:45 Matinee in Rhythm, WLW.
3:30 F. O. B. Detroit, WBNS.
4:00 Club Matinee, WING.
4:45 Feature Race, WHKC.
5:00 Concert Orchestra, WLW.
5:30 Stan Kenton, WCHS.

Evening
6:15 Sports, WKRC.
6:45 The World Today, WHIO.
7:00 The People's Platform, WHIO; Baseball Roundup, WKRC.
7:30 Tillie, the Teller, WHIO.
8:30 Great Hornet, WCOL; Bob Crosby, WHKC; Velvet Music, KDKA.
9:00 Summer Symphony, WCOL; Hi! Parade, WHIO; Barn Dance, WLW.
9:45 Saturday Night Serenade, WHIO.
10:00 John Hughes, WHKC.
10:30 Grand Ole Opera, WING.
11:00 Duke Ellington, WING.
11:15 Claude Thornhill, WCHS.
11:45 Dick Jurgens, WHIO.
12:00 Ray Heatherton, WING.
12:00 News, WLW.

ROSS NAMED

Radio Tenor Lanny Ross, currently starring in the Caravan Hour CBS, Fridays, 10 to 11 p. m. has been chosen to represent radio singers on a board composed of prominent figures in the music field which will act in an advisory capacity to the Office of War Information. It is generally felt by the music industry that it has failed to produce the militant, vigorous type of war song that the country's effort demands and that

Kenneth List and son, Donald, of near Williamsport were Thursday visitors in Circleville.

Mrs. John Wolford of Pickaway township was a Circleville visitor Thursday.

Mrs. Marie Walters and Mrs. Mary Jane Lightie of Five Points were Thursday shopping visitors in Circleville.

Mrs. George Hitler of Washington township was a Thursday shopper in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes and daughter, Nancy, of Columbus spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. N. G. Spangler of West High street.

Mrs. H. G. Bausum of Little Walnut was a Circleville visitor Thursday.

Miss Mary Ellen Evers of New Holland was a Thursday shopping visitor in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Millar of near Ashville were business visitors in Circleville Thursday.

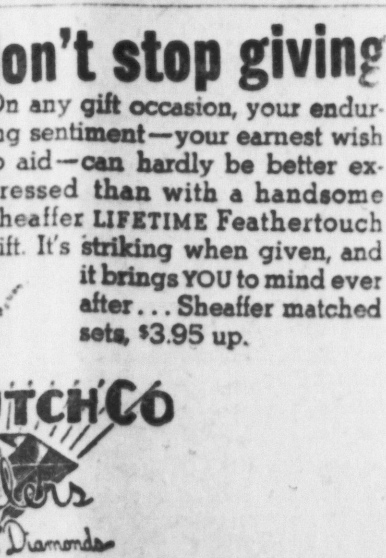

Mrs. Jesse Hildenbrand, Pickaway township, was a Thursday shopping visitor in Circleville.

Miss Harriet Morris of Saltcreek township is spending a two-week vacation at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

On any gift occasion, your enduring sentiment—your earnest wish to aid—can hardly be better expressed than with a handsome Sheaffer LIFETIME Feathertouch gift. It's striking when given, and it brings you to mind ever after . . . Sheaffer matched sets, $3.95 up.

GIFTS that don't stop giving

On any gift occasion, your enduring sentiment—your earnest wish to aid—can hardly be better expressed than with a handsome Sheaffer LIFETIME Feathertouch gift. It's striking when given, and it brings you to mind ever after . . . Sheaffer matched sets, $3.95 up.

L.M. BUTCH CO
Diamonds
BUY WAR BONDS TODAY

a grave lack of control has been shown in publishing war songs with catch-lines which might easily be offensive to our Latin American compatriots. Lanny and his co-workers on the board will attempt to correct this situation by advising in the production of only positive, fighting war songs in keeping with our part in the struggle for freedom.

MARCH ORIGIN

Even less well known than John Philip Sousa's stirring "Freelance March" itself, revived for the radio public by John Nesbitt and Meredith Willson who are appearing on the Summer replacement for Fibber McGee and Molly, is the source from which it came. The famed march king also wrote two musical comedies, both of which had two-years run on Broadway. The "Freelance March" came from one of the stage successes by the same name.

FILM PLANNED

The film industry was quick to follow in the footsteps of radio when it was learned that the "Stage Door Canteen" was going on the air. Word coming from Hollywood today reveals that the movie version of the "Canteen" story will be written by Delmer Daves, just signed by Sol Lesser, producer of the forthcoming picture.

RADIO BRIEFS

Most dialers know Hi Brown as a director. Hi, who guides "Inner Sanctum Mysteries" over the Blue network Sunday nights, is also an excellent script writer. He does the plots of "Green Valley, U. S. A.," a current Sunday CBS series which switches to Wednesdays starting July 29 at 7:30 p. m.

New York is still getting its share of tourists despite curtailed train travel and gasoline shortage. How they get to town is not known but the majority of people in the audience at "Star Spangled Vaudeville" over NBC last Sunday were from the hinterlands.

Maestro Billy Mills is composing a complete musical score for the Victory Parade program starring Hal (The Great Gildersleeve) Peary and Mills' orchestra which will be aired by NBC Sunday, August 2.

Dinah Shore, whose Blue network song program will emanate

LONESOME? PHONE "ESCORT GIRL"

Fridays at 9:30 p. m., from Hollywood until December, is in daily conferences with picture officials at Warner Brothers studios and is expected shortly to sign a contract for a major musical picture for Fall production.

Harry W. Flannery this week begins a tour of west coast shipyards under the aegis of the U. S. Maritime Commission. The CBS commentator will tell defense workers about the Nazi production methods he observed during his year as a war correspondent in Berlin.

DARBYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Kline of Columbus spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buzzard.

Private Arthur Beatty of Chanute field, Ill., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Beatty.

Mrs. Cecil Willoughby and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angles of Columbus.

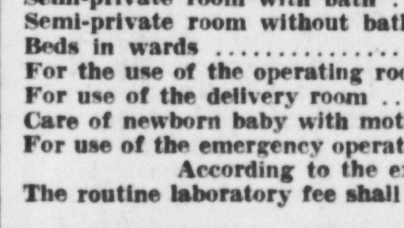

Mrs. Mary Powell spent Friday in Columbus with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Downs and daughter, of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fullen and son Larry of Ashville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beatty.

WORDS OF THE WISE

A lie is a breach of promise: for whoever seriously addresses his discourse to another tacitly promises to speak the truth, because he knows that truth is expected.—(Paley)

VACATION SPECIAL!

Fine quality Overnight Bag fitted with Dresser Set. Regular price $7.00. Special Sale Price $4.80.

BRUNNER'S

NEW LIST OF BERGER HOSPITAL

Private room with bath . . . $6.00 per day per person
Semi-private room with bath . . . $5.00 per day per person
Semi-private room without bath . . . $4.50 per day per person
Beds in wards . . . $3.50 per day per person
For the use of the operating room . . . $10.00
For use of the delivery room . . . $ 5.00
Care of newborn baby with mother . . . $5.00 per week
For use of the emergency operating room . . . $3.00 to $5.00
According to the exigency of the case.
The routine laboratory fee shall be . . . $3.00 (in) $4.00 (out)

Johnson's Klean Floor Duster

FOR WALLS AND FLOOR

59¢

Rubber ferrule, can't scratch floors or furniture. A real mop at a very low price.

CRIST

DEPT. STORE

"Cook Electrically"

Electric cooking is the one way to cook and keep cool. With an electric range there is no flame pouring out hot blasts of air into the kitchen. Tests show that after three hours of cooking on a hot summer day an electric kitchen will stay 10 to 15 degrees cooler than a kitchen with a flame type stove!

If you are not now enjoying cool Electric Cooking — invest your money in War Bonds and put an Electric Range on your "Victory" list.

Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Company

114 E. MAIN

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED

OFFICE HOURS:
Daily 9 to 5, Saturday 9 to 3
Evenings by Appointment—Phone 448.

Dr. D. S. Goldschmidt
121½ W. Main St.
Over J. C. Fenney Co. Store
OPTOMETRIST

DAILY CROSSWORD

ACROSS

1. Give a place to
8. Displacing
10. The devil
11. Place of worship
13. Amidst
14. Bird
15. Writing implement
16. Type measure
18. Previously
19. Cooked in fat
21. Narrow water passages
24. Guido's highest note
27. Ascertain
28. Carp
30. Sweet potato
31. Emit
33. Illegal interest rate
34. Brought into existence
37. Member of Parliament (abbr.)
38. Consume
41. Smells
43. Tropical fruit
45. Harass
46. Kind of duck
47. Reverberated
49. Commenced

DOWN

1. English illustrat of
2. Persia
3. Fruits
4. Not (prefix)

5. Amalekite king
6. Come in
7. Feminine title
9. Wanders about idly
10. Weaken
12. Soap flax
17. Parasitic insect
19. Distant
20. Long cliff
21. Cunning
22. Beverage
23. Male sheep

24. Feminine name
25. Ignited
26. Malt beverage
29. Some
32. Silent
33. Uneasiness
34. Young calf
35. European river
36. Flowers
38. Finished
39. Grown old
40. High
42. Portico

SCALP MIFFS
AERIE ANGLE
PRIOR TINGOT
SOLD TANK SETA
SILVER
RESORT AMAH
INCASE DURA
ANA ERG FIR
NUNS ORATES
TITILE OAFISH
TERT
ARE ASH BOB REARS IMAGE
FENSE TULLE
STEER EMER

Yesterday's Answer
44. Officer's assistant
48. Biblical city

ROOM AND BOARD

By Gene Ahern

ME TELL AUNT CLARA YOU SEND HER STEER HORN FOR PRESENT, SHE SAY YOU PUT UM ON HEAD AND GO RUN OVER TO ZOO!

THEN I SAY YOU LIKE FOR MARRY HER, SHE GET HEAP MAD AND PUSH ME OUT WITH KICK!

HA,---AIN'T SHE WONDERFUL, CHIEF? I ADMIRE THAT LADY!--SHE'S GOT TH' GRIT AND FIGHTIN' SPIRIT OF A BOB-CAT UP IN A WET PINE TREE!

Gene Ahern 7-24

CAN'T DISCOURAGE TERRY

BRICK BRADFORD

By William Ritt and Harold Gray

YOUR FATHER IS DELIRIOUS -- HE DIDN'T MEAN WHAT HE SAID!

HIS MIND WAS CLEAR AND HIS WORDS WERE MEANT!

MEANWHILE, OUTSIDE THE HUT --

ARA, MY SISTER -- WHERE IS OUR FATHER? TELL ME, QUICKLY!

7-24

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. Scott

THE PROCESS OF EGG INCUBATION IN EGYPT HAS NOT CHANGED IN 4,000 YEARS -- IN WHICH STEAMING ASHES, MUD, CAMEL DUNG AND PALM LEAVES ARE USED

SCRAP

LEEUWENHOEK A DUTCHMAN WAS THE DISCOVERER OF MICROBES IN WATER

EDWARD ENTWISTLE--AN ENGLISHMAN--WAS THE FIRST LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER -- HE RAN STEPHENSON'S "ROCKET" AT THE AGE OF 16 1/2 YEARS

CAN A BATTER GET TO FIRST BASE IN LESS THAN FOUR SECONDS? YES--IN 3.8 OR 3.9 SECONDS

7-24

BLONDIE

ILL SURPRISE BLONDIE WITH SOME ICE-CREAM FOR SUPPER

ICE CREAM SODAS

DAGWOOD SEE IF YOU CAN SEE WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH MY MOWER

LET'S SEE--IT'S THE BEARINGS

7-24

TOO BAD YOU DIDN'T BRING SOME NICE COOL ICE-CREAM FOR DESSERT

WHERE DID YOU GET THE ICE-CREAM, HERBERT?

I FOUND IT HANGING ON THE LAWN-MOWER HANDLE

7-24

DONALD DUCK

POST OFFICE

DONALD DUCK

DONALD DUCK'S ROLLER SKATE SHOP FOR SALE OR RENT WHY WALK?

WALT DISNEY

POPEYE

POPEYE, THERE'S A SPY DOWNSTAIRS, ASKING TO SEE YOU

OKAY, SEND THE SPY UP

I SUSPECT IT IS OLIVE DISGUISED AGAIN

COME IN, SPY!

KNOCK KNOCK KNOCK

AHOY, SPY, TAKE OFF YER WITSKERS AN' SIT DOWN

STOP! I'LL TELL HITLER!

OUCH

OH, MY GORSH, YA ARE ONE!

YES-S-S! HITLER WANTS TO KNOW YOUR BUSINESS IN WASHINGTON

7-24

TILLIE THE TOILER

SHOO!

GOOD GRIEF! TOBY LANE'S CHICKENS ARE RUINING MY GARDEN

I CAN'T WASTE MY TIME CHASING THESE PESTS. I'LL HAVE TO USE SOME OTHER METHOD TO KEEP THEM AWAY

7-24

THIS WILL FRIGHTEN THEM OFF

GWAK

7-24

ELIA KETT

SHOVEL--PAIS OF SAND AND A HOSE--HOW'S THAT?

A FIRE-EXTINGUISHER? WOULD COME IN HANDY--IN CASE THE WATER PRESSURE FAILED!

I'LL TELL DAD!

TAKE A PEEK AT THE TIN MILLINERY!

7-24

DON'T PAY ANY ATTENTION TO THEM!

FOR INCENDIARY BOMBS YOU FIRST SPRAY THEM LIKE THIS

NEVER USE A FULL STREAM--LIKE THAT!

GLUB!

7-24

MUGGS McGINNIS

"SLUGGER" CORNELL IS OUT LOOKIN' FOR ME!!

THAT SHRIMP!

WHAT?

"THAT SAWED-OFF RUNT...SAY, YOU'RE NOT AFRAID OF THAT FLAT-HEADED GUY...ARE YOU?"

NOW THAT YOU MENTION IT...NO!!...WHY?

...CAUSE...

IF I WERE YOU...I'D BE!!

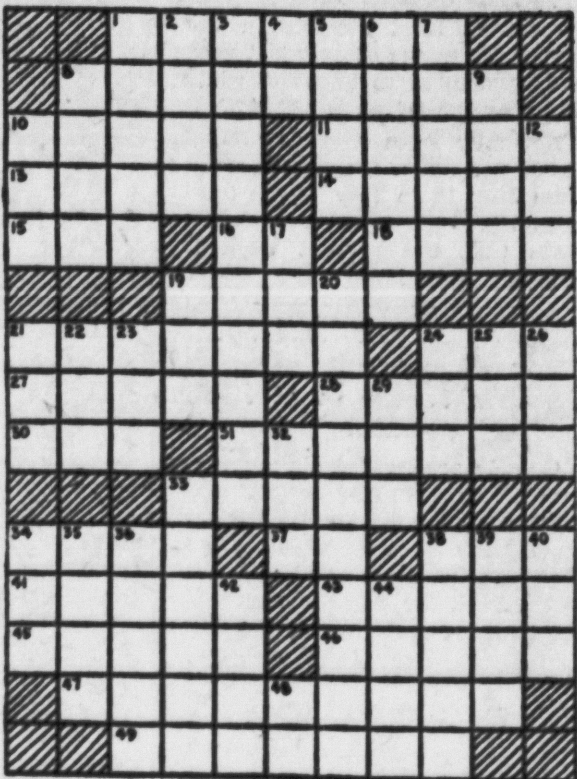

Wally Bishop

DAILY CROSSWORD

- ACROSS
1. Give a place
 8. Displacing
 10. The devil
 11. Place of worship
 13. Amidst
 14. Bird
 15. Writing implement
 16. Type measure
 18. Previously
 19. Cooked in fat
 21. Narrow water passages
 24. Guido's highest note
 27. Ascertain
 28. Carp
 30. Sweet potato
 31. Emit
 33. Illegal interest rate
 34. Brought into existence
 37. Member of Parliament (abbr.)
 38. Consume
 41. Smells
 43. Tropical fruit
 45. Harness
 46. Kind of duck
 47. Reverberated
 49. Commenced
- DOWN
1. English illustrat or
 2. Persia
 3. Fruits
 4. Not (prefix)
 5. Amalekite king
 6. Cultivated
 7. Come in
 9. Feminine title
 12. Soas flax
 17. Parasitic insect
 19. Distant
 20. Long cliff
 21. Cunning
 22. Beverage
 23. Male sheep
 24. Feminine name
 25. Ignited
 26. Malt beverage
 29. Some
 32. Silent
 33. Uneasiness
 34. Young calf
 35. European river
 36. Flowers
 38. Finished
 39. Grown old
 40. High, craggy hill
 42. Portico

SCALP MIFFE
ARIE ANIE
PRIE INOT
SOE WAN SEA
SERIES
RESORT AMAH
INCAE DURA
ANA ERG EIR
NUNG ORATES
MITH ORATISH
ARE ASH BOB REANS IMAGE
ENBUE TULE
STEEL EMER

Yesterday's Answer
44. Officer's assistant
48. Biblical city

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. Scott

THE PROCESS OF EGG INCUBATION IN EGYPT HAS NOT CHANGED IN 4,000 YEARS - IN WHICH STEAMING ASHES, MUD, CAMEL DUNG AND PALM LEAVES ARE USED

SCRAPPS

LEEUEWENHOEK A DUTCHMAN WAS THE DISCOVERER OF MICROBES IN WATER

EDWARD ENTWISTLE - AN ENGLISHMAN - WAS THE FIRST LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER - HE RAN STEPHENSON'S "ROCKET" AT THE AGE OF 16 1/2 YEARS

CAN A BATTER GET TO FIRST BASE IN LESS THAN FOUR SECONDS? YES - IN 3.8 OR 3.9 SECONDS

POPEYE

POPEYE, THERE'S A SPY DOWNSTAIRS, ASKING TO SEE YOU

OKAY, SEND THE SPY UP

I SUSPOSE IT IS OLIVE DISGUISED AGAIN

COME IN, SPY!

KNOCK KNOCK KNOCK

AHOY, SPY, TAKE OFF HER WITSKERS AN' SIT DOWN

STOP! I'LL TELL HITLER!

OUCH

OH, MY GORSH, YA ARE ONE!

YES-S-S! HITLER WANTS TO KNOW YOUR BUSINESS IN WASHINGTON.

OUCH

TELL 'IM I COME'D HERE TO KNOCK A SPY OUT A WINDOW

MY FRIEND, I TRUST YOU REALIZE THIS IS THE PENTHOUSE SUITE?

CRASH

ROOM AND BOARD

By Gene Ahern

ME TELL AUNT CLARA YOU SEND HER STEER HORN FOR PRESENT... SHE SAY YOU PUT UM ON HEAD AND GO RUN OVER TO ZOO!

THEN I SAY YOU LIKE FOR MARRY HER... SHE GET HEAP MAD AND PUSH ME OUT WITH KICK!

HA... AIN'T SHE WONDERFUL, CHIEF? I ADMIRE THAT LADY!... SHE'S GOT TH' GRIT AND FIGHTIN' SPIRIT OF A 'BOB-CAT UP IN A WET PINE TREE!

Gene Ahern 7-24

CAN'T DISCOURAGE TERRY

BLONDIE

I'LL SURPRISE BLONDIE WITH SOME ICE-CREAM FOR SUPPER

ICE CREAM SODAS

DAGWOOD, SEE IF YOU CAN SEE WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH MY MOWER

LET'S SEE-- IT'S THE BEARINGS

Copyright 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved

DONALD DUCK

POST OFFICE

ICE

Copyright 1942, Walt Disney Productions, World Rights Reserved

TILLIE THE TOILER

SHOO!

GOOD GRIEF! TOBY LANE'S CHICKENS ARE RUINING MY GARDEN

I CAN'T WASTE MY TIME CHASING THESE PESTS. I'LL HAVE TO USE SOME OTHER METHOD TO KEEP THEM AWAY

FOR VICTORY BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

ETIA KETT

SHOVEL - PAIRS OF SAND AND A HOSE - HOWS THAT?

A FIRE-EXTINGUISHER WOULD COME IN HANDY - IN CASE THE WATER PRESSURE FAILED!

TAKE A PEEK AT THE TIN MILLINERY!

I'LL TELL DAD.

MUGGS McGINNIS

"SLUGGER" CORNELL IS OUT LOOKIN' FOR ME!!

THAT SHRIMP!

WHAT?

THAT SAWED-OFF RUNT... SAY, YOU'RE NOT AFRAID OF THAT FLAT-HEADED GUY... ARE YOU?

NOW THAT YOU MENTION IT... NO!!... WHY?

...CAUSE...

IF I WERE YOU... I'D BE!!

Copyright 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved

BRICK BRADFORD

YOUR FATHER IS DELIRIOUS - HE DIDN'T MEAN WHAT HE SAID!

MEANWHILE, OUTSIDE THE HUT -

7-24

By William Ritt and Harold Gray

HIS MIND WAS CLEAR AND HIS WORDS WERE MEANT!

ARA, MY SISTER - WHERE IS OUR FATHER? TELL ME, QUICKLY!

7-24

By Chic Young

TOO BAD YOU DIDN'T BRING SOME NICE COOL ICE-CREAM FOR DESSERT

WHERE DID YOU GET THE ICE-CREAM, HERBERT?

I FOUND IT HANGING ON THE LAWN-MOWER HANDLE

7-24

By Walt Disney

DONALD DUCK

DONALD DUCK'S ROLLER SKATE SHOP FOR SALE OR RENT WHY WALK?

POST OFFICE

WALT DISNEY

BY WESTOVER

THIS WILL FRIGHTEN THEM OFF

GWAK

By Paul Robinson

DON'T PAY ANY ATTENTION TO THEM!

FOR INCENDIARY BOMBS YOU FIRST SPRAY THEM LIKE THIS

NEVER USE A FULL STREAM LIKE THAT!

By Wally Bishop

IF I WERE YOU... I'D BE!!

Wally Bishop

War Chest Meeting of Importance Scheduled Monday Evening

OFFICIALS FOR DRIVE WILL BE DECIDED SOON

All Campaigns For Funds Will Be Centered In Single Treasury

COURT ROOM TO BE SCENE

County Seat, Villages And Townships Represented In Organization

Some 51 county residents will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Common Pleas court room to make final arrangements for the County War Chest movement. An organization committee, set up at a meeting several weeks ago, has announced members of the War Chest committee who will convene next week to select officers including a president, trustees, secretary, treasurer and others, prior to establishing a quota for county charity gifts and projects for collecting the contributions.

Purpose and work of the new movement will be similar to the program in other counties with all charity drives being combined into one major effort and funds distributed to the various organizations as they request amounts from it. A unit of this kind was set-up in the county during the last war and met with great approval from all citizens who contributed more than the amount asked in the first few days of the solicitations.

Members of the committee that was named to organize the War Chest movement are Clark Will, chairman; Mrs. Ray Davis, James Yost, Tom Renick, Herschel Hill, James Shea, George Foreman, Orley Judy and Turney Glick.

Those who will control the new civic body are:

Circleville and Circleville township: Dan McClain, Mrs. William Radcliff, Joseph Adkins, Mrs. Allen Thornton, Ned Dresbach, Mrs. James Moffitt, George Griffith, Mrs. Larry Athey, James I. Smith Jr., Mrs. Virgil Cress, Frank Fischer, E. S. Neuding, N. L. Cochran, Mrs. William Betts Jr., Charles Walters, Ward Peck, Mrs. Frank Bowling, Wayne Hoover, Mrs. Frank Cook, Mrs. Cora Rader Hood, Turney Pontius, Mrs. Homer Wright and Cecil Noecker; Ashville: H. O. Peters, Mrs. Martha Warner, Glenn Hoover, Mrs. Paul Cronley, Hugh Solt; New Holland: Mrs. H. E. Louis, J. F. Willis; Williamsport: Mrs. Paul Counts, Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., H. W. Campbell and Charles Hosler; Monroe township: Mrs. Marie Walters; Orient: Frank Beatty, Robert Walker and Mrs. Cleo McKinley; Derby: Alva Hill and Mrs. Harry Vincent; Washington township: Wilson Dunkle and Mrs. Grace Bowman.

All these people will attend the meeting Monday evening and take control of the movement with active membership to be confined to these selected persons.

CLOTHING STORE THEFT "FENCE" TO BE DEPORTED

Joseph Barr, 37, of Cincinnati, arrested as a "fence" for clothing stolen from the store of I. W. Kinsey and from numerous other clothing stores, was sentenced Thursday by Judge Joseph Woeste of Cincinnati to serve one to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary. Barr pleaded guilty to one of five indictments against him. U. S. authorities revealed at the hearing that Barr is an alien and that his correct name is Barnasus. Deportation charges are expected to be brought against him.

James Spicer, 54, arrested in Newport, Kentucky, recently on a warrant issued by I. W. Kinsey, was released Thursday when Kinsey withdrew charges of receiving stolen goods. In a hearing, Kinsey, Deputy Bryan Custer and Prosecutor George Gearhart heard evidence that indicated the father of Delbert Spicer was a victim of circumstances and played no active role in the criminal case. Delbert Spicer is being held by FBI authorities following his arrest two weeks ago in Akron for aiding in thefts of clothing from several stores including that of Kinsey. His father was arrested after his apprehension and charged with receiving stolen goods.

"Shut My Big Mouth"

JOE E. Brown takes a lesson in six-gun shooting in "Shut My Big Mouth," his latest rib-tickling comedy of the West that Joe made wilder, which is showing tonight and Saturday at the Cliftona theatre on a double bill with Gene Autry in his latest western "Home In Wyoming."

LEGION STARTS RECORD DRIVE

Old Discs Sought; House To House Canvass Likely In Circleville

Offices of The Daily Herald, North Court street, have been announced as the collection depot for the American Legion old record drive that got under way this week and will extend through August 2.

All persons having records to contribute to the drive are requested to take them to The Herald office. If it is impossible to do so, John Bolender, chairman of the project, has asked that persons having records call the Legion clubrooms, leaving name and address, and members of the post will call for the records.

Next Monday plans are being formed for a house-to-house canvass of the city in an effort to reach the goal of 3,500 old records in the national Legion project. Boy Scouts may aid in this part of the program. Other plans for stimulating the drive will include cooperation of local theatres and various civic organizations.

No money is paid for the records and the Legion members cannot sell the records collected. Purpose of collecting the discarded music discs is to reclaim the shellac for manufacture of new records to be given to men in the armed forces.

Further progress of the patriotic drive will be announced later in the week.

96 APPLY FOR TIRES, RATION BOARD REPORTS

Further proof of the growing rubber shortage on local cars was noted Thursday evening when the ration board considered a record of 96 applications for new and used tires.

Stating concern over future prospects in the rationing of automobile tires, the rationing board has announced one of the largest lists of granted applications since it began operation.

The board granted one new passenger car tire, 16 new passenger car tubes, 40 passenger car recapped tires, 12 obsolete passenger car tires, nine obsolete passenger car tubes, two grade two passenger car new tires, 12 new truck tires, 12 new truck tubes, and 10 truck recapped tires.

Two bicycles were approved at the meeting with many applications received in this field. No automobiles were granted since the quota for July has already been used up.

DOWDEN WINS QUIZ AT WEEKLY ROTARY SESSION

In the absence of a program Thursday at the weekly Rotary Club meeting, members conducted a quiz. Leslie May was in charge of the question game which included up-to-date queries on current events, local subjects and characters.

War effort topics, national and international, comprised the main theme of the list of 25 questions which were graded. Durdard Dowden received the high score and a prize of ten cents a person attending the meeting for his ranking.

CHURCH NOTICES

Williamsport Pilgrim
Rev. James O. Miller, pastor
10:00 a. m. Sunday school;
11:00 a. m. morning worship;
8:30 p. m. evening worship; 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, prayer meeting.

Williamsport Christian Church
F. G. Strickland, pastor
9:30 a. m. Sunday school; 10:30 a. m. worship service; 7 p. m. worship service.

Williamsport Methodist Church
Rev. Robert S. Meyer, pastor
9:30 a. m. church school, G. P. Hunsicker, superintendent; 10:30 a. m. morning worship.

Ashville U. B. Charge
Rev. O. W. Smith, pastor
Ashville: 9:15 a. m. church school, Robert Cline, superintendent; evening worship, 8:00 p. m.; prayer meeting, Wednesday evening at 8:00.

Robtown: 9:15 a. m. church school, Mrs. Elsie Brooks, superintendent; morning worship, 10:30 a. m.; prayer meeting, Wednesday evening at 8:00.

Ashville Methodist
Rev. Dwight Woodworth, pastor
Ashville: 9:30 a. m. church school, T. W. Purcell, superintendent; 10:45 a. m. extended service for children; 10:45 a. m. morning worship.
Hedges Chapel: 9:30 a. m. morning worship; 10:45 a. m. church school, Homer Reber, superintendent.

Ashville Church of Christ
In Christian Union
Rev. James Hicks, pastor
9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Mrs. Edward Leatherwood, superintendent; 10:30 a. m. prayer service; 7 p. m. Young People's service; 7:30 p. m. Evening service.

St. Paul Lutheran Church
Rev. E. H. Winteroff, pastor
9 a. m. Sunday school; divine services at 10 a. m.

Lutheran Parish
Rev. H. D. Fudge, pastor
Divine Worship 9:30 a. m. Sunday School 10:30 a. m.

Lutheran Charge
Rev. F. J. Heine, pastor
Stoutsville: 9:45 a. m. divine worship; 10:45 a. m. church school.

Tarleton, St. Jacob's: 10:00 a. m. church school; 11:00 a. m. divine worship.

Scotlo Chapel
Sunday school, 9:30 a. m., preaching to follow.

South Bloomfield Methodist
Rev. Ernest Bartlett, pastor
South Bloomfield: 10:00 a. m. church school, Miss Nannie Bock, superintendent.
Shadeville: 10:00 a. m. church

ROTHMAN'S

Pickaway and Franklin
Where You Can Always
PARK and SAVE

PLAY SUITS

Gay Cool Cottons. Easy to tub and well tailored.

Specially priced
$1.29—$1.95

STEEL CHAIRS

We are lucky to have them because of restrictions on steel. Choice of green, red or blue. Similar to illustration.

$2.95

MASON BROS.

school, Howard Hubbard, superintendent; 8:00 p. m. Thursday, mid-week prayer service; 8:15 p. m. Friday, first quarterly conference under direction of Dr. Harry Bright.

Walnut Hill: 10:00 a. m. morning worship, "Thwarted Purposes"; 11:00 a. m. church school, Charles Reisel, superintendent.

Lockbourne: 10:00 a. m. church school, Paul Peters, superintendent; 11:00 a. m. morning worship, "Thwarted Purposes"; 9:00 p. m. Friday, social hour at church hall under direction of Mr. McCulloch of the Columbus Y.M.C.A.

Darbyville Methodist Parish
Darbyville: 9:30 a. m. worship, sermon by the pastor; 10:30 a. m. church school.

Commercial Point: 11 a. m. church school; 11 a. m. worship with sermon.

Emmett Chapel
Fred M. Mark, Minister
9:45: church school, under direction of Mrs. B. W. Young; 10:45: morning worship service.

Stoutsville Evangelical
Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor
St. John: 9:30 a. m. sermon; 10:30 a. m. Sunday school, Howard Huston, superintendent.
St. Paul: 9:45 a. m. Sunday school, S. L. Warner, superintendent.
Pleasant View: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Merrill Poling, superintendent; 10:30 a. m. sermon.

Tarleton Methodist
Rev. S. N. Root, pastor
Tarleton: 10:00 a. m. church school, Mrs. Edith Poling, superintendent; 11:00 a. m. sermon and worship.
Bethany: 10:00 a. m. church school, Carl Wetherell, superintendent. Drinkie: 10:00 a. m. church school, Fred Heigle, superintendent; 8:15 p. m. vesper service, sermon by pastor; 9:00 p. m. Wednesday, prayer meeting.

Mount Pleasant Methodist Church
Rev. D. V. Whitenack, pastor
9:30 a. m. church school, C. F. Puffinbarger, superintendent.

Pickaway U. B. Charge
Rev. O. F. Gibbs, pastor
Ringgold: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Don Hammel, superintendent.

Morris: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Carl Anderson, superintendent.

Pontius: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Mrs. Jacob Glitt, superintendent.

Dresbach: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Val Valentine, superintendent.

WHEAT LOANS OBTAINED
Some 37 farmers have received loans on their wheat crop for this year. Loans on the basis of $1.21 a bushel for warehouse wheat and $1.31 a bushel for farm stored wheat are being granted this year. Participation in the loan program in 1941 attracted 1,088 farmers.

CONTINUED DROP OF TAX REVENUES REPORTED HERE

Effect of government regulation W on credit buying, which went into effect July 9, has been noted in Pickaway county through one of the worst slumps sales tax receipts have ever been in. During the third week of this month, the one following the regulation, sales have dropped more than 25 percent in local stores. In the first three weeks of July last year sales amounted to $4,372.89 while this year the figure is $3,194.51.

Normally sales average around $1,500 per week. During the week from July 11 to July 18 the total sales were only $887.08. Officials state that the present week is dropping even lower.

CIVIL SERVICE TEST TO BE GIVEN FOR U. S. JOBS

Greatly accelerated air program for intensified war effort has created an immediate demand for more female stenographers at Wright field, Dayton. So urgent is the need for these stenographers that the secretary of the Circleville board of U. S. civil service examiners, will conduct a special examination for stenographers on July 28.

All who qualify will be given jobs at once at Wright field. The minimum age limit is sixteen years. There is no maximum age limit.

Leslie L. Pontius, secretary, stated that the need for stenographers is as imperative as the need for flyers, and appealed to the patriotism of women stenographers to do their bit in supporting the splendid work of our air heroes.

ISALY'S

Whipped Cream Cottage Cheese pint 15c

Medium Snappy Cream Cheese lb. 39c

SPECIAL! Ham Salad Sandwich and Chocolate Milk Shake 18c

Big Sundaes and Sodas 15c

SPECIAL! One Gallon Container of Ice Cream $1.35

MOTHERS

BE AS CAREFUL WITH YOUR CHILDREN'S FEET AS YOU ARE WITH THEIR EYES.

We Take Special Pains to Fit Your Child's Feet Correctly with the Proper Shoes

MACK'S Shoe Store

107 North Court

Save at mukrantz DRUG STORES

Telephone 544

OUR 25th ANNIVERSARY SALE

ALL THIS WEEK WAS A GRAND SUCCESS

Thank You For Remembering Us.

WE CONTINUE THE CELEBRATION THROUGH SUNDAY

25c DR. LYONS TOOTH POWDER

13c

25c PHILLIPS MAGNESIA

12c

GEM BLADES 12s

39c

P & G SOAP

4c

(Limit 3)

LIFEBUOY SOAP

5c

(Limit 3)

GERBER'S STRAINED BABY FOODS

6c

EPSOM SALTS Pound

4c

BOOK MATCHES Carton

9c

Strained Foods 3 for 20c
Junior Foods . 3 for 25c
Cereal Food 15c

Coca-Cola 6 Bottle Carton 25c

PLAYING CARDS

York Hall 26c
(Picture-Back Bridge Cards)
Westminster 34c
(Gilt Edge Bridge Cards)
Berkley Square 39c
Crusader 26c
(Poker Size)

HINKLE PILLS BOTTLE OF 100 9c

EYES EXAMINED

GLASSES FITTED

DR. R. E. HEDGES

Optometrist

110 1/2 West Main Street Over Hamilton's 5c and 10c Phone 218

War Chest Meeting of Importance Scheduled Monday Evening

OFFICIALS FOR DRIVE WILL BE DECIDED SOON

All Campaigns For Funds Will Be Centered In Single Treasury

COURT ROOM TO BE SCENE

County Seat, Villages And Townships Represented In Organization

Some 51 county residents will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Common Pleas court room to make final arrangements for the County War Chest movement. An organization committee, set up at a meeting several weeks ago, has announced members of the War Chest committee who will convene next week to select officers including a president, trustees, secretary, treasurer and others, prior to establishing a quota for county charity gifts and projects for collecting the contributions.

Purpose and work of the new movement will be similar to the program in other counties with all charity drives being combined into one major effort and funds distributed to the various organizations as they request amounts from it. A unit of this kind was set-up in the county during the last war and met with great approval from all citizens who contributed more than the amount asked in the first few days of the solicitations.

Members of the committee that was named to organize the War Chest movement are Clark Will, chairman; Mrs. Ray Davis, James Yost, Tom Renick, Herschel Hill, James Shea, George Foreman, Orley Judy and Turney Glick.

Those who will control the new civic body are:

Circleville and Circleville township; Dan McClain, Mrs. William Radcliff, Joseph Adkins, Mrs. Allen Thornton, Ned Dresbach, Mrs. James Moffitt, George Griffith, Mrs. Larry Athey, James I. Smith Jr., Mrs. Virgil Cress, Frank Fischer, E. S. Neuding, N. L. Cochran, Mrs. William Betts Jr., Charles Walters, Ward Peck, Mrs. Frank Bowling, Wayne Hoover, Mrs. Frank Cook, Mrs. Cora Rader Houd, Turney Pontius, Mrs. Homer Wright and Cecil Noecker; Ashville; H. O. Peters, Mrs. Martha Warner, Glenn Hoover, Mrs. Paul Cronley, Hugh Solt; New Holland; Mrs. H. E. Louis, J. F. Willis; Williamsport; Mrs. Paul Counts, Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., H. W. Campbell and Charles Hosler; Monroe township; Mrs. Marie Walters; Orient; Frank Beatty, Robert Walker and Mrs. Cleo McKinley; Derby; Alva Hill and Mrs. Harry Vincent;

Washington township; Wilson Dunkle and Mrs. Grace Bowman. All these people will attend the meeting Monday evening and take control of the movement with active membership to be confined to these selected persons.

CLOTHING STORE THEFT "FENCE" TO BE DEPORTED

Joseph Barr, 37, of Cincinnati, arrested as a 'fence' for clothing stolen from the store of I. W. Kinsey and from numerous other clothing stores, was sentenced Thursday by Judge Joseph Woeste of Cincinnati to serve one to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary. Barr pleaded guilty to one of five indictments against him. U. S. authorities revealed at the hearing that Barr is an alien and that his correct name is Barnasus. Deportation charges are expected to be brought against him.

James Spicer, 54, arrested in Newport, Kentucky, recently on a warrant issued by I. W. Kinsey, was released Thursday when Kinsey withdrew charges of receiving stolen goods. In a hearing, Kinsey, Deputy Bryan Custer and Prosecutor George Gearhart heard evidence that indicated the father of Delbert Spicer was a victim of circumstances and played no active role in the criminal case.

Delbert Spicer is being held by FBI authorities following his arrest two weeks ago in Akron for aiding in thefts of clothing from several stores including that of Kinsey. His father was arrested after his apprehension and charged with receiving stolen goods.

"Shut My Big Mouth"

JOE E. Brown takes a lesson in six-gun shooting in "Shut My Big Mouth," his latest rib-tickling comedy of the West that Joe made wilder, which is showing tonight and Saturday at the Cliftona theatre on a double bill with Gene Autry in his latest western "Home In Wyoming."

LEGION STARTS RECORD DRIVE

Old Discs Sought; House To House Canvass Likely In Circleville

Offices of The Daily Herald, North Court street, have been announced as the collection depot for the American Legion old record drive that got under way this week and will extend through August 2.

All persons having records to contribute to the drive are requested to take them to The Herald office. If it is impossible to do so, John Bolender, chairman of the project, has asked that persons having records call the Legion clubrooms, leaving name and address, and members of the post will call for the records.

Next Monday plans are being formed for a house-to-house canvass of the city in an effort to reach the goal of 3,500 old records in the national Legion project. Boy Scouts may aid in this part of the program. Other plans for stimulating the drive will include cooperation of local theatres and various civic organizations.

No money is paid for the records and the Legion members cannot sell the records collected. Purpose of collecting the discarded music discs is to reclaim the shellac for manufacture of new records to be given to men in the armed forces.

Further progress of the patriotic drive will be announced later in the week.

96 APPLY FOR TIRES, RATION BOARD REPORTS

Further proof of the growing rubber shortage on local cars was noted Thursday evening when the ration board considered a record of 96 applications for new and used tires.

Stating concern over future prospects in the rationing of automobile tires, the rationing board has announced one of the largest lists of granted applications since it began operation.

The board granted one new passenger car tire, 16 new passenger car tubes, 40 passenger car recapped tires, 12 obsolete passenger car tires, nine obsolete passenger car tubes, two grade two passenger car new tires, 12 new truck tires, 12 new truck tubes, and 10 truck recapped tires.

Two bicycles were approved at the meeting with many applications received in this field. No automobiles were granted since the quota for July has already been used up.

DOWDEN WINS QUIZ AT WEEKLY ROTARY SESSION

In the absence of a program Thursday at the weekly Rotary Club meeting, members conducted a quiz. Leslie May was in charge of the question game which included up-to-date queries on current events, local subjects and characters.

War effort topics, national and international, comprised the main theme of the list of 25 questions which were graded. Durward Dowden received the high score and a prize of ten cents a person attending the meeting for his ranking.

CHURCH NOTICES

Williamsport Pilgrim
Rev. James O. Miller, pastor
10:00 a. m. Sunday school;
11:00 a. m. morning worship;
8:30 p. m. evening worship; 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, prayer meeting.

Williamsport Christian Church
F. G. Strickland, pastor
9:30 a. m. Sunday school; 10:30 a. m. worship service; 7 p. m. worship service.

Williamsport Methodist Church
Rev. Robert S. Meyer, pastor
9:30 a. m. church school, G. P. Hunsicker, superintendent; 10:30 a. m. morning worship.

Ashville U. B. Charge
Rev. O. W. Smith, pastor
Ashville: 9:15 a. m. church school, Robert Cline, superintendent; evening worship, 8:00 p. m.; prayer meeting, Wednesday evening at 8:00.

Robtown: 9:15 a. m. church school, Mrs. Elzie Brooks, superintendent; morning worship, 10:30 a. m.; prayer meeting, Wednesday evening at 8:00.

Ashville Methodist
Rev. Dwight Woodworth, pastor
Ashville: 9:30 a. m. church school, T. W. Purcell, superintendent; 10:45 a. m. extended service for children; 10:45 a. m. morning worship.
Hedges Chapel: 9:30 a. m. morning worship; 10:45 a. m. church school, Homer Reber, superintendent.

Ashville Church of Christ In Christian Union
Rev. James Hicks, pastor
9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Mrs. Edward Leatherwood, superintendent; 10:30 a. m. prayer service; 7 p. m. Young People's service; 7:30 p. m. Evening service.

St. Paul Lutheran Church
Rev. E. H. Winteroff, pastor
9 a. m. Sunday school; divine services at 10 a. m.

Lutheran Parish
Rev. H. D. Fudge, pastor
Divine Worship 9:30 a. m. Sunday School 10:30 a. m.

Lutheran Charge
Rev. F. J. Heine, pastor
Stoutsville: 9:45 a. m. divine worship; 10:45 a. m. church school.
Tarleton, St. Jacob's: 10:00 a. m. church school; 11:00 a. m. divine worship.

Scioto Chapel
Sunday school, 9:30 a. m., preaching to follow.

South Bloomfield Methodist
Rev. Ernest Bartlett, pastor
South Bloomfield: 10:00 a. m. church school, Miss Nannie Bock, superintendent.
Shadeville: 10:00 a. m. church

ROTHMAN'S

Pickaway and Franklin
Where You Can Always
PARK and SAVE

PLAY SUITS
Gay Cool Cottons. Easy to tub and well tailored.

Specially priced
$1.29—$1.95

STEEL CHAIRS

We are lucky to have them because of restrictions on steel. Choice of green, red or blue. Similar to illustration.

$2.95
MASON BROS.

school, Carl Wetherell, superintendent.
Drinkle: 10:00 a. m. church school, Fred Heigle, superintendent; 8:15 p. m. vesper service, sermon by pastor; 9:00 p. m. Wednesday, prayer meeting.

Mount Pleasant Methodist Church
Rev. D. V. Whitenack, pastor
9:30 a. m. church school, C. F. Puffinbarger, superintendent.

Pickaway U. B. Charge
Rev. O. F. Gibbs, pastor
Ringgold: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Don Hammel, superintendent.

Morris: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Carl Anderson, superintendent.
Pontius: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Mrs. Jacob Glitt, superintendent.
Dresbach: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Val Valentine, superintendent.

WHEAT LOANS OBTAINED
Some 37 farmers have received loans on their wheat crop for this year. Loans on the basis of $1.21 a bushel for warehouse wheat and $1.31 a bushel for farm stored wheat are being granted this year. Participation in the loan program in 1941 attracted 1,088 farmers.

Stoutsville Evangelical
Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor
St. John: 9:30 a. m. sermon; 10:30 a. m. Sunday school, Howard Huston, superintendent.
St. Paul: 9:45 a. m. Sunday school, S. L. Warner, superintendent.
Pleasant View: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school, Merrill Poling, superintendent; 10:30 a. m. sermon.

Tarleton Methodist
Rev. S. N. Root, pastor
Tarleton: 10:00 a. m. church school, Mrs. Edith Poling, superintendent; 11:00 a. m. sermon and worship.
Bethany: 10:00 a. m. church

CONTINUED DROP OF TAX REVENUES REPORTED HERE

Effect of government regulation W on credit buying, which went into effect July 9, has been noted in Pickaway county through one of the worst slumps sales tax receipts have ever been in. During the third week of this month, the one following the regulation, sales have dropped more than 25 percent in local stores. In the first three weeks of July last year sales amounted to $4,372.89 while this year the figure is $3,194.51.

Normally sales average around $1,500 per week. During the week from July 11 to July 18 the total sales were only $887.08. Officials state that the present week is dropping even lower.

CIVIL SERVICE TEST TO BE GIVEN FOR U. S. JOBS

Greatly accelerated air program for intensified war effort has created an immediate demand for more female stenographers at Wright field, Dayton. So urgent is the need for these stenographers that the secretary of the Circleville board of U. S. civil service examiners, will conduct a special examination for stenographers on July 28.

All who qualify will be given jobs at once at Wright field. The minimum age limit is sixteen years. There is no maximum age limit.

Leslie L. Pontius, secretary, stated that the need for stenographers is as imperative as the need for flyers, and appealed to the patriotism of women stenographers to do their bit in supporting the splendid work of our air heroes.

ISALY'S

Whipped Cream
Cottage Cheese pint 15c

Medium Snappy
Cream Cheese
lb. 39c

SPECIAL!
Ham Salad
Sandwich and
Chocolate Milk Shake
18c

Big Sundaes and Sodas
15c

SPECIAL!
One Gallon Container of Ice Cream
$1.35

MOTHERS

BE AS CAREFUL WITH YOUR CHILDREN'S FEET AS YOU ARE WITH THEIR EYES.

We Take Special Pains to Fit Your Child's Feet Correctly with the Proper Shoes

MACK'S Shoe Store

107 North Court

OUR 25th ANNIVERSARY SALE

ALL THIS WEEK WAS A GRAND SUCCESS

Thank You For Remembering Us.

WE CONTINUE THE CELEBRATION THROUGH SUNDAY

25c DR. LYONS TOOTH POWDER

13c

25c PHILLIPS MAGNESIA

12c

GEM BLADES 12c

39c

WE CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

MAX FACTOR

MAKE UP

MILK OF MAGNESIA FULL QUART

33c

ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL

Only 2c

9½-OUNCE CRYSTAL TUMBLER

• Smartly Designed

• Protekto Edge

P & G SOAP

4c

(Limit 3)

LIFEBUOY SOAP

5c

(Limit 3)

GERBER'S STRAINED BABY FOODS

6c

EPSOM SALTS Pound

4c

BOOK MATCHES Carton

9c

PLAYING CARDS

York Hall 26c
(Picture-Back Bridge Cards)

Westminster 34c
(Gilt Edge Bridge Cards)

Berkley Square 39c

Crusader 26c
(Poker Size)

HINKLE PILLS BOTTLE OF 100 9c

EYES EXAMINED

GLASSES FITTED

DR. R. E. HEDGES

Optometrist

110½ West Main Street Over Hamilton's 5c and 10c

Phone 218